POOR RELIEF BUDGET CHIEF LEGISLATION

Governor Says He'll Insist on Fund Matching to Meet Cost of Needy Aid.

SEEKS TWO AMENDMENTS

Wants Majority Vote to Pass Tax Levies, Provisotns to Use Surplus Funds.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. Martin L. Davey said today he would call the legislature into special session beginning Nov. 29 to enact a poor relief program and a deficiency appropriation.

At the same time, the governor listed what he called "certain principles to which we are definitely committed" on the relief problem:

Insists on Matching.

1. Insistence that local communities match, dollar for dollar, state appropriations for relief.

2. Permitting local communities to make special tax levies for poor relief on a majority vote instead of the 65 per cent favorable vote now required.

3. Amend the law to permit municipalities to use present surplus funds for poor relief.

4. Appropriate not more than $7,000,000 as the state's share.

5. Distribute state-collected tax revenues to cities and townships on the basis of their tax-duplicates, rather than population (this would give slightly more to the larger cities).

Meets With Mayors.

Governor Davey outlined his position a few hours before he was scheduled to confer with Mayors Harold Burton of Cleveland and Myron Gessman of Columbus on the relief situation in those cities.

"First in importance is the matching of state and city funds on a fifty-fifty basis," the executive said. "This was an essential part of our well-balanced program announced at the beginning of 1937, which was defeated by a combination of those who wanted the state to furnish everything and those who were opposed to the state's furnishing anything.

"As long as easy money flowed out of Columbus, there was absolutely no effort to eliminate waste and inefficiency."

Shelby's Joe Mott Renews Invitation To Rabbit Hunters

If they don't bag enough rabbits, Mott said, they can fire away at his chickens. And if they get hungry—well, Mrs. Mott will be on hand with a heaping table of roast pork sandwich slabs and a bucket of coffee.

"Invitation to hunters! Hunting is allowed on my farm southeast of Shelby. There are plenty of rabbits and pheasants and no danger of hog cholera.

"If you don't get the limit of rabbits, shoot a couple of my chickens to make up the number you lack. If you get hungry while hunting on my farm, come up to the house for a handout."

Mott used to be a steel worker in Shelby. He loved to hunt but, "I bumped into so dang many of those 'no hunting' signs that I 'lowed if I ever had a farm of my own, all hunters would be welcome."

WAR ON 'BINGO'

Cleveland Prosecutor Demands Highest Penalty For Operators.

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — Acting Police Prosecutor Sidney B. Fink announced today he would demand maximum penalties for operators of "bingo" and "keno" games.

He pointed out that operators of such games are liable to maximum fines of $500 and 90 days in jail.

YOUNGSTOWN — (AP) — Sofia Yonas, 18, and Mary Acierno, 19, both of Girard, were killed early this morning when the car in which they were riding smashed into a pole. Three other persons were injured.

Their deaths boosted the weekend traffic toll to three. Theresa

How Bedaux Got Rich

And Why Labor Criticism Rose to Such Volume As To Bring Cancellation of Duke's U. S. Visit.

CHARLES F. BEDAUX

AKRON—It was in Akron that Charles E. Bedaux, the industrial engineer who was to guide the Duke and Duchess of Windsor through America, made his success. And it was in Akron that resentment against the dapper French-born "guide" of the duke smoldered deepest.

Although Akron regrets that the duke and the duchess cancelled their American trip, there is a sigh of relief. For if Bedaux had accompanied them through the rubber plants here, there might have been hisses for Bedaux. Unions have been bitterly outspoken against the Bedaux system—which is a means of speeding up production without the use of greater manpower.

Bedaux came to America recently, at the behest of the duke to arrange for the latter's American tour. But when the Baltimore Federation of Labor protested against "slumming parties" by the duke and duchess, who planned to study housing in the United States. The protest storm grew, but it was believed that most of the feeling was directed against Bedaux rather than against the former king and his wife.

Came to U. S. In 1908.

Bedaux, who rose to great wealth through the adoption of his system by American industrialists, came to the United States in 1908 from France.

While laboring in the tunnels under New York City as a "sandhog," digging skyscraper and subway foundations, Bedaux conceived the idea of selling to industrialists his formula, based on the "efficiency doctrines" expounded by the late Frederick W. Taylor just before the turn of the century.

Finds Test of Idea.

He found swinging a shovel and hammer, tightening bolts and stamping dies ideal laboratories for experimenting with the nebulous plan that was to make him a multi-millionaire before he reached the age of 50.

His first opportunity for giving his formula practical tests came after he obtained a new job with the Mallinckrodt Chemical works. He persuaded the bosses to give him a chance to try out the plan in a single department. It worked.

He ironed out a few wrinkles and sold the plan to a manufacturer of spectacle frames who was being forced to the wall by competition from competitors able to undersell him. Bedaux saved the business with his scheme for cutting costs and increasing output.

Sells Treatise at $25.

One of the industrial giants began to take notice of him. General Electric company offered to buy his system, but the shrewd little Frenchman saw a veritable gold mine in his brain child He

BIGGEST 'ARMY' TO WAGE DRIVE OF RED CROSS

DINNER WEDNESDAY NIGHT

State Chairman and National Official to Address Volunteers.

The 21st annual Roll Call of the Richland County Chapter of the Red Cross will be opened officially Thursday morning with the largest army of volunteer workers ever to rally to a drive in the county.

More than 500 volunteer workers in Mansfield, Shelby and the county will swing into action in an effort to keep the county ahead of all other chapters in Ohio—a place it has held for the past three years

Dinner at Westinghouse.

The annual opening dinner, which the workers finance themselves, will be held Wednesday night at the new Westinghouse cafeteria in the East Fourth street plant. Roll Call heads, precinct officers and workers will receive their supplies at the dinner and hear last minute instructions.

Two speakers, prominent in state and national Red Cross work, will address the group. Judge Henry J. Robinson, state Roll Call chairman, will talk on what the Red Cross means to the nation and the individual.

Everett Dix, assistant manager of the Eastern area of American Red Cross, will be the other speaker.

Locke to Instruct Workers.

W. L. Miller, vice chairman of this year's Roll Call, will preside at the dinner. Last minute instructions to precinct workers will be given by General Chairman W J. Locke.

The membership drive throughout the city and county, with the exception of Shelby, will be directed from Mansfield, with Mrs. John Pierce in charge of city workers, and Atty. Harold D. Burns, directing county work. Mrs. B. B. Brown, Shelby, is general chairman of the Shelby drive, which is staged separately and the funds turned over to the county chapter.

A Roll Call office has been set up on the 11th floor of the Farmers Bank building, and will be in charge of Mrs. George L. Draffan The telephone number is Canal 1867. All precinct chairmen will report to this office. Locke said.

Other divisional chairmen for the drive are Fred L. Tracy, industrial plants; R. M. Calene, foreign corporations; Rev. Hayes M Braker, speakers committee, and John H. Finefrock, publicity Harry S Black is chairman of the advisory committee, and Roy R. Spetka is chapter chairman.

New York's New Drive Speeds Traffic

New York's newest addition to its west side waterfront development along the Hudson river now is open to traffic. This newest section is a five-and-one-half-mile stretch from West 72nd street north to the George Washington bridge at 179th street. The new highway is an extension from 72nd street of the west side elevated highway from the southern part of Manhattan. Within two months another stretch will be completed in the $24,000,000 improvement, extending the new drive to the Henry Hudson Parkway, at the northern end of Manhattan Island. Photos show a view of traffic circle at 79th street and beginning of new section at 77nd street. A 250-car garage is situated beneath the traffic circle.

SEE CHINESE LOSING GRIP ON CITY SOON

Japanese Officer Predicting Foes Will Be Isolated By Tomorrow Night.

CROSSING WHANGPOO

SHANGHAI—(U.P.)—Japanese troops fought their way across the Whangpoo river 17 miles south of Shanghai today and Gen. Iwane Matsui, Japanese army commander in chief, predicted his men would isolate the Chinese from Shanghai by tomorrow night.

Reports indicated that losses on both sides were large. The Japanese had to fight their way across the Whangpoo in the face of a devastating machine gun fire. The point at which they crossed is about six miles east of Sunkiang, where the river is 200 feet wide and the current is swift. While Chinese machine gunners raked the Japanese with their fire, Japanese airplanes bombed Chinese reinforcements hurrying southward from Shanghai.

Foil Troop Landings.

Japanese failed, according to Chinese spokesmen, in three efforts to land men on the Whangpoo immediately below Shanghai, in an effort to co-operate in a flanking attack on the Pootung section.

Pootung is the Chinese-controlled part of Shanghai across the river from the international settlement. Though Chinese denied to Japanese reports that Chinese troops were [illegible] from Pootung, and to bear out this assertion, junks and sampans crossed and recrossed the river today bringing Chinese civilians with their possessions from Pootung to the settlement side.

Foreign naval commanders met yesterday aboard the United States cruiser Augusta, flagship of Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, the American commander in chief, and it was believed they discussed the new dangers to foreigners threatened by the incursion of refugees.

Resume Air Raids.

Japanese airplanes, with the return of good weather this morning, went out in great fleets to bomb the Chinese south and west of the city. The Japanese advanced further southward on the west side of the city, down from Soochow creek. Chinese blew up a big railroad bridge about 4,000 yards south of the creek—an indication to foreign military experts that they were withdrawing for some distance.

Japanese spokesmen asserted belief that the Chinese resistance on the west side of the city was weakening and might collapse at any time.

An Oddity In Crime

BALTIMORE — (AP) — The week's best crime oddity:

The burgled burglar reported someone had entered his home and stolen his overcoat. Police said they would pursue the matter, then held him on a charge of robbing a tavern.

GAS CASE UP

Commission Resumes Columbus Rate Hearings.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The public utilities commission, which three years ago ordered the Ohio Bell Telephone company to refund $11,832,000 to its subscribers, only to have the ruling reversed last spring by the U. S. supreme court, will reopen hearing in the case early in December, Chairman Charles F. Schaber of the commission indicated today.

The Columbus gas rate case will occupy the commission's time all this week an tdhe Cleveland gas case is due to open next week and continue some two weeks, which made it appear unlikely that the telephone case could be reached before December.

GETS PEN SENTENCE

TOLEDO—(AP)—Joseph Kovats, 27, was sentenced to one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary by Judge John M. McCabe in common pleas court today, on charges of second degree manslaughter in connection with the traffic death of Charles Robarge, 60, May 29.

U. S. REACTION ON DUKE VARIED

Papers Criticise American Manners, Others Indicate 'It's Just as Well.'

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—American reaction to the Duke of Windsor's cancellation of plans for an industrial tour of the United States this month varied today from expression of the belief that "it's just as well" to criticism of American manners.

Most commentators agreed that the Duke's selection of Charles E. Bedaux, American engineer who invented an industrial speed-up system, as his guide and adviser was unfortunate. Almost all of them looked upon the Duke as a pathetic figure who can be neither a king nor a private citizen.

The American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic thanked the Baltimore Federation of Labor for "calling the national attention to the basic facts of American life" in its criticism of the Duke's proposed visit under the direction of Bedaux.

Key Figure In Controversy Over Duke, Duchess Resigns Post.

LONDON — (AP) — Charles Bedaux, millionaire industrialist and key figure in the controversy which led to the postponement of the American visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, resigned today from the board of directors of British Bedaux, Ltd., consulting industrial engineers.

The announcement of his resignation merely said it would in no way affect the management of the company.

SPOILS HOLIDAY

Illness of Dowager Queen Saddens Rumanians.

BUCHAREST—(AP)—Illness of Dowager Queen Marie dampened enthusiasm today for what otherwise would have been a joyous occasion, the celebration of Prince Mihai's name day.

The 61-year-old queen suffered a recurrence of internal hemorrhage which she had experienced last March Pending a consultation of eight specialists, there was no official report on the seriousness of her condition.

Concern was felt in official circles, but plans for a parade in honor of Prince Mihai were not changed. King Carol cancelled a hunting excursion and th queen's daughter, Queen Marie of Yugoslavia was summoned to the castle.

MUTILATES KIN

Missourian Says He Tied Nephew to Tree, Performed Operation.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—(U.P.)—William H. Meier, 41, was held in jail today on a charge of mutilating his nephew, Arnold Johnson, 23, who, police said, admited that he was responsible for the pregnancy of Meier's 16-year-old daughter.

Meier surrendered to the sheriff. He said he tied Johnson to a tree near his home in Kirkwood, Mo., and performed an operation.

Supreme Court Rules Out New Challenge on Black

Florida Oil Companies Lose Appeal to Have Action Reconsidered on Charge Justice Was Ineligible.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Three Florida oil companies lost in the supreme court today in their effort to obtain reconsideration of recent action on the ground that Justice Hugo L. Black was ineligible to sit on the bench.

The court gave no explanation of its refusal to grant reconsideration. That was in line with regular procedure in such action.

The announcement was made after Black had read one opinion which he had written, dissented to another and voted against the government in a third case.

Fought Subpoenas.

The Florida companies sought reconsideration of the court's refusal on Oct. 18 to interfere with attempts by the security commission to subpoena telegrams sent and received by the companies.

Not only was the constitutionality of Black's appointment challenged, but the petition contended the court's action on the litigation was "invalid, ineffectual, null and void" because the new justice "could not sit in judgment . . . as an unbiased, unprejudiced, fair and impartial judge."

The three concerns were the Ryan Florida corporation of Tampa, Income Royalties company of St. Petersburg and Florida Tex Oil company of St. Petersburg. They asked the court to consider their petition in the absence of Black.

The petitioners contended Black's appointment was not valid because the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter did not create a vacancy on the court and also because Black had been a member of the senate which increased the "emoluments" of justices in the retirement act.

RAIN FALLS, SO DOES MERCURY

Indian Summer Weather At End: Tuesday To Be Colder.

Rain came today, ending two days of Indian summer weather for Mansfield. The temperature dropped four degrees between 11 a. m. and noon, and tomorrow is scheduled to be "fair and colder," the forecast said.

The mercury reached a high of 67 yesterday, Observer Otto Sprunger reported, and the average was 54, which is 13 degrees above normal. Saturday was nearly as warm. At 11 a. m. today the mercury stood at 61, but at noon it was down to 57.

Tangles In Pillow When Left Alone In Automobile.

Left alone in an automobile in Mansfield Saturday night by its parents, Shirley Annette Hershner, 3-month-old daughter of Mr and Mrs Donald Hershner, Johnsville, strangled to death when it became entangled in a pillow on which it was resting

According to the account of the incident given by the parents to a Mt Gilead undertaker, they had left the child alone in the car for only a few minutes. When they returned, they found the child unconscious.

They rushed to a doctor's office, but learned the doctor was at the hospital, so went there, but the child was found to be dead on arrival.

Surviving besides the parents are a 3-year-old sister, Alma Jean, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs Ray Reed of Fredericktown, and Mr. and Mrs Frank Hershner of Johnsville Funeral services will be held at 2 p m Tuesday at the home of its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hershner, in Johnsville Burial will be in the Shauck cemetery.

TRAFFIC KILLS 181 IN NATION

Week-End Toll In State Hits 15; Only 4 Injured In Mansfield Area.

Sudden death—which claimed the lives of 181 persons in highway accidents throughout the nation over the week-end and left a toll of 15 fatalities in the state, took a holiday in the Mansfield area. Only four persons were reported injured in and near the city.

At Bucyrus late Saturday, two men were taken to the hospital after the automobile in which they were riding struck a culvert on route 4 south of the city and turned over several times

The two men, who have been working in Bucyrus as linemen for several months, were returning to the city with Ralph Joliff, driver of the car, who was injured in the crash.

Leo John Sheets, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C M. Sheets, 66 Tracy street, was treated at General hospital Saturday afternoon for minor cuts and bruises Police said he ran into the side of an auto driven by Ivan A. Eichert, Tiffin, on Springmill street near Burns street. The boy was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist. Eichert was not held by police.

When two cars, operated by F. H. Leavitt, 199 Vennum avenue and W Sommers, R. D. 3, Mansfield, collided at the intersection of West First and Sturges ave-

DEMANDS CASH

Britain Wants Compensation For Sinking of Steamer.

LONDON —(U.P.)— Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told a questioner in the house of commons today that Britain expected compensation from the Spanish insurgents for the recent sinking of the British steamer Jean Weems.

Eden said the insurgents admitted that one of their planes sang the ship and had undertaken to express official regret and instruct their forces to avoid further incidents. They have agreed, he added, to abide by the results of arbitration to fix liability and compensation.

Eden said he would go to Brussels tomorrow for resumption of the meeting of the nine-power conference on the Orient.

Police Look For Record Crowd At Fourth Annual Ball Tonight

Mansfield police will open the doors of the Coliseum tonight for their fourth annual police ball which is expected to attract the largest crowd in the history of the event.

While advance sales indicate a record attendance, there will be a supply of tickets on hand at the Coliseum for last-minute purchasers, police said.

The night's festivities are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m., with Eugene Smart's 35-piece accordion band, the Accordionettes, entertaining. The grand march, headed by Chief Meade K. Bates and other members of the department, will get under way at 9 p. m. An hour later a five-act floor show will be presented.

Clyde Trask and his orchestra will play for dancing until 1 a. m. Trask and his band, which first appeared in Mansfield several weeks ago, appear regularly over station WLW, Cincinnati, and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Proceeds of the ball, sponsored by the police recreation club, will be used to purchase equipment for the newly created identification bureau and ammunition for target practice.

One-Vote Ties Ruled Out, 3 Township Offices Held Vacant

Jackson and Mifflin townships are going to have to get along without a justice of peace and constable, the board of elections had decided today.

Nine write-in candidates for the two offices in Jackson township and for constable in Mifflin township received one vote each at last Tuesday's election and there was an indication that it might require some coin-flipping to decide the winners.

The election board discovered, however, that a candidate must poll at least eight per cent of the vote in his precinct to be eligible for an office even in the event he is declared winner by the board.

There were no candidates for any of the three offices in the two townships because the majority of justice court cases are heard in municipal court at Mansfield, George C. Balliet, chairman of the election board, said.

The votes cast included one each for W. W. Moorhead, James Holtz and C. L. Kilgore for justice of peace in Jackson township, and one each for Homer Imhoff and O. W. Kuhn for constable in the same township.

Four write-in candidates were tied with one vote each for constable in Mifflin township. They were C. C. Cole,, Roy Kohl, H. Koogle and Waldo Hale.

THEATER

After holding out for years Billie Burke has been forced to sell the palatial Ziegfeld estate at Hastings-On-The-Hudson for hotel purposes. She held out for years trying to find a private purchaser for the property, second only to the Rockefeller estate in Pocantico Hills, but no one in post-depression times is paying that much for a home. Miss Burke, once the beauty and darling of the legitimate stage and now a famous character player of the movies, will make her home in California permanently as her work keeps her there. But it was something of a wrench to part with the home in which the great Ziegfeld found surcease from Broadway worries and where the now grown Patricia was born and played in a $20,000 playhouse, and the garage lodged six Rolls-Royces at one time.

Could Play Scarlet.

Few persons, after seeing Bette Davis in "That Certain Woman" at the Madison theater will deny that this capable actress is one of the very few in pictures who might satisfactorily play the role of Scarlet O'Hara. Her fine expression of courage in the face of personal catastrophes, her violent bursts of temper, her charm and feminine dominance, all portrayed with the utmost sincerity, set her apart from the general run of picture actresses, who can only project their beauty across the silver screen. With Henry Fonda as her co-star, she moves like a small human dynamo through a story of a woman whose past refuses to permit her to make the best of her present and future. A capable cast includes Anita Louise, Ian Hunter, and Donald Crisp in major roles. The picture runs through Tuesday.

Bagdad Goes Broadway.

Eddie Cantor brings Bagdad to the screen in "Ali Baba Goes to Town," but it is a Bagdad up to date. Ali Baba Eddie slaps a head tax on harems and a tail tax on camels, slips carpet tacks under the sit down strikers and snaps the Sultan into step with the march of time as Bagdad goes Broadway. But in spite of the Arabian get up, it is the Eddie Cantor of the old Follies who sings and dances through the film. June Lang and Tony Martin bring romance and music into the action and Roland Young is a Sultan after the American conception. Louise Hovick, as the Sultana, looks like Fatima. Like all Cantor pictures there are more pretty girls than you can count. It's at the Ohio through Wednesday.

"Ever Since Eve."

Marian Davies and Robert Montgomery in "Ever Since Eve" is the Ritz attraction for the middle of the week, starting Tuesday. In this picture Miss Davies reverts to her favorite screen trick, that of making up as a very ugly duckling, to emerge later as a lovely swan. When admiring employers interfere with her honest attempts to make a living as a stenographer, she hits upon the idea of making herself up very unattractively. Montgomery is a young author who suffers from blond trouble. Such funsters as Patsy Kelly, Frank McHugh, Allen Jenkins, and Louise Fazenda, contribute to the comedy. George O'Brien and Constance Worth, in "Windjammer," is the second feature.

TO THE 10,000 MEN RESPONSIBLE FOR GUARANTEED WINTER STARTING

The fundamental purpose of Guaranteed Starting is service and convenience for our customers. No one wants starting trouble, even at our expense. Thus, the real goal of our winter offer is actual freedom from starting difficulties.

Freedom from starting trouble, as you well know, requires more than a motor that is mechanically fit. Until the protection of special winter petroleum products has been secured, there can be no certainty of dependable winter starting.

But even that is not enough. Frequent checking of potential sources of starting trouble, which is part and parcel of SOHIO Service, is also necessary to make starting absolutely certain. Particularly is this true of regular battery service, as provided in our Guarantee. The battery is the worst offender, and our close watch on this and other winter starting factors is extremely important.

Protection is complete when you add your own watchful service to the dependability of SOHIO products. Special winter-starting properties have been built into SOHIO'S winter gasolines and lubricants and they offer a degree of winter dependability that is not to be exceeded.

The success of Guaranteed Starting last year means that thousands are again coming to us for winter protection. So, be ready for this increased demand for your services and do your part well—as I am sure you will.

Tyger-Akron Tilt Heads Grid Sked

THE Tygers of Mansfield high, this season, swing back into tain the strong Akron Kenmore one of the feature battles on the

Two other important contests, with bearing on league championships, will find Galion's Orangemen clashing with the Whippets at Shelby Saturday in a North Central Ohio conference tilt, and undefeated and untied Madison, defending Mid-State league champions, tackling Bellville high's powerful aggregation under the arcs at Madison stadium Friday night.

Mt. Vernon's Yellow Jackets invade Marion, Friday night for an N. C. O. tussle with the Harding Presidents, and Bucyrus travels to Ashland for a league clash Saturday. In the Mid-State league Fredericktown travels to Danville to play the Blue Devils in a game which will close the season for both clubs. Loudonville closes its season Friday when it invades Mt. Gilead for a tilt with the undefeated Indians.

Coach J. Russell Murphy's once-defeated proteges are expected to face one of their toughest assignments of the season in the Kenmore fray. Akron, although not the best club in the Rubber city, has caused the city title contenders considerable trouble in the Akron city league. Last week the team bowed to the touted Ravenna club, 12 to 7.

Can Cinch Title.

Galion, assured of at least a tie for the N. C. O. crown by its 7 to 0 victory over Marion Hard-ing last week, can annex the title Saturday by whipping Shelby.

The Rams disposed of a fighting Loudonville club last Friday, 19 to 0, to chalk up its fourth consecutive loop victory, while Bellville registered its fourth circuit triumph by walloping Danville, 31 to 7.

Coach Boyd Hodges' club's only defeat was administered by a heavier Mt. Gilead combine by a 12 to 7 count. The Indians scored the winning touchdown on a pass with less than a minute to play.

OLDS HOLD LOOP LEAD

The Miller Oldsmobiles maintained their lead in the North Central Ohio Traveling league, Sunday, at the Meder recreation by defeating the Jerry's Insurance of Findlay, 2929 to 2767.

Leppo, who opened with a 224, scored a 605. Wellman led the losers with a 581, which included a 212 game.

Rudy Gmitro Tops Big Ten Scoring.

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Big Ten had a new individual scoring leader today—Rudy Gmitro of Minnesota.

The speedy Gopher back, tallying two touchdowns against Iowa, ran his season point total in conference games to 24 on four touchdowns. In second place was another Gopher, Halfback Wilbur Moore, who had three touchdowns for 18 points. Howard Weiss, previous pace-setter, was third at 14 points on two touchdowns and two conversions, having no chance to advance because of Wisconsin's open date.

Shelby Whippets Defeat Tiffin Calvert, 13 to 7.

Coach Bill Query's Shelby Whippets, smarting from the defeat handed them a week ago by Marion, came back Saturday to beat Tiffin Calvert 13 to 7. It was Shelby's first victory of the season.

Shelby put its scoring machine to work early in the first period when they received a Calvert punt on Calvert's 32-yard stripe. Bliss, Whippet fullback, carried the oval for six successive plays and planted the ball over the stripe.

The attempted pass for point was incomplete.

Tiffin registered its only tally in the closing minutes of the second quarter when after a series of line plays advanced the ball to the Shelby 36, Sattell then threw a long forward pass to Carrigan on the 12 who raced into the end zone. Sattell plunged for the point, giving the Calverts a 7 to 6 lead.

The Whippets took to the air early in the final quarter and scored in placing the ball on a Calvert nine. Bliss raced around his own left end into pay dirt. Bliss' placement went between the uprights for the point.

A drive by the Whippets carried the ball on the six late in the game but the Calvert forces held and took the ball on the six.

Gophers Make Bid For Title

The Golden Gophers, only undefeated team in the Big Ten, have won three games and will be favored to take a fourth Saturday at the expense of Northwestern. The final game on Minnesota's schedule is with Wisconsin, which does not figure to stop the Bernie Bierman aggregation.

Minnesota's last undisputed championship was in 1934, when the Gophers won five straight. In 1909 and 1911 they had clear titles, sharing in conference grid honors six other times since 1896.

Wildcats May Upset Dope.

Northwestern, which was tripped up 6 to 0 by Illinois Saturday, may upset the dope, but the Gophers probably will be hard to halt, particularly because they vividly recall that startling 6 to 0 whipping from the wildcats last fall. Northwestern, moreover, did not look too strong against Illinois, while Minnesota gave evidence of power in downing Iowa 35 to 10.

Ohio State with three wins and one defeat, will be favored to take out on the Buckeyes [illegible] by Indiana. After Illinois, Ohio State is scheduled to take [illegible] stride, but the Buckeye [illegible] by the Sooners.

MOOSE NO. 2 CLUB SPILLS 3048 PINS IN LOOP MATCH

Sweep Match With Orrville at Meder Alleys.

The team compiled a brilliant 3048 total as it swept the three games in its match with the Orrville Moose club which came through with a 2779.

Coming through with a sparkling 1066 in the final game to top other games of 956 and 1026, the Moose team took all the games by comfortable margins.

The Orrville club's biggest attempt to overcome the brilliant Moose keglers was in the opening frame when they spilled 96 pins, 50 short of the Moose team.

In the other games the invaders registered totals of 900 and 963.

Hipp was the main cog in the Moose No. 2 attack, compiling a grand total of 693. He turned in games of 214, 234 and 245 to set the pace. Another menace for the Orrville club was W. Cleckner who added a 649 to the big score. His final game of 258 was tops for the day.

D. Cleckner socked out a 575. Young came through with a 568 and Hilborn had a 563.

BABE MEDER ROLLS 703

The youthful kegler, bowling with the Mansfield Moose No. 2 team in the Moose Traveling league at the Meder alleys Sunday, smashed out a sparkling 703. It was one of the highest scores he has turned in during his short bowling career.

Opening up with a 212 game, the youngster improved with each stanza. He came through with a 223 in the middle game and finished with a brilliant 268.

OHIO WITHOUT AN UNDEFEATED AND UNTIED TEAM FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1934

By TOMMY DEVINE

COLUMBUS—(UP)—For the first time since the waning days of the 1934 campaign, Ohio today was without an undefeated and untied collegiate football combination.

The last perfect record team in the state was scratched off the list when the rapidly improving University of Toledo eleven downed the University of Dayton 12 to 7.

While there are no perfect record teams the Ohio conference can boast of two unbeaten elevens and the Buckeye conference has one in that classification.

The unbeaten but tied teams are Denison and Ohio Northern in the Ohio conference and Marshall in the Buckeye. Denison and Marshall each have one deadlock marring their slates and Ohio Northern three.

Toledo, under the astute direction of Dr. C. W. (Fats) Spears has marked improvement each week since the start of the campaign and reached the peak Saturday when Dayton was beaten.

The Rockets' victory was a testimony to the alert football they played. A blocked punt that was recovered on the goal line by Jim Day an end, gave Toledo one of its touchdowns and a partially blocked kick paved the way for the other.

Blasts Flyers Hopes.

The defeat of Dayton lasted the Flyers' hopes for an undisputed claim to the mythical state championship. They remain, however, the top-ranked choice for the Buckeye conference diadem.

The conference lead became the possession of Baldwin-Wallace over the week-end when the Yellow Jackets downed Case 13 to 0. Two passes from the Sophomore Hoy Arnold to Bill Davidson, large end, provided the touchdown chances. Case played without the services of its ram-rodding fullback, Ray McKovsky, who is on the sidelines with an ankle injury.

Reserve Beaten.

Western Reserve went east for the second time this season and was given a 27 to 6 setback by Syracuse. Ossie Solem, Syracuse coach, held out Marty Glickman, his Olympic sprinter and star halfback, most of the game, but turned loose a Hindu passing wizard, Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, who almost drove the Red Cats out of the stadium with his accurate aerials. The scoring chance for each of Syracuse's four touchdowns was set up by passes from Sidat-Singh.

When Syracuse topped reserve, it marked the first time since 1931 the Red Cats had lost two games in succession. Reserve was beaten last week by Dayton.

In other week-end games involving state teams, Heidelberg, who it toyed with Centre college edged Capital, 7 to 6; Wittenberg won its first game of the year by downing Bowling Green 6 to 0; Otterbein blanked Hiram 12 to 0; Marietta fell before Washington and Jefferson 6 to 0; Defiance converted the point after touchdown to beat Bluffton 7 to 6; Akron ran wild as it trounced Davis-Elkins 33 to 1; Xavier bested Creighton 19 to 0; Wooster won its fourth straight contest by trimming Oberlin 37 to 7; Lake Forest (Ill.) battered Kenyon 42 to 0; Kent State humbled Findlay 20 to 0; John Carroll used a fine sophomore array to down Olivet (Mich.) 47 to 6, and Wilberforce fought to a scoreless tie with Lincoln, Mo.

Bucks' Title Hopes Dashed By Indiana

Bow to Hoosiers, 10 to 0, In Important Conference Battle—Ohio's Drop In Ratings Blamed on Poor Generalship.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Ohio State today found itself ranked as "just another team" and had all championship hopes wiped away following a 10 to 0 defeat at the hands of Indiana.

The Bucks sudden drop in the national gridiron ratings was the penalty they were paying for the most costly of all gridiron mistakes—poor generalship.

The Bucks received questionable quarterbacking on numerous occasions earlier in the season, but each time the power of their vaunted line had minimized these tactical blunders. Saturday, it was a different story, with Indiana possessing the superior line.

Francis A. Schmidt, the gruff Ohio State coach, frankly admitted the team received exceptionally poor direction against the Hoosiers, but he declined to censure the gridders responsible for the costly errors.

"It's easy enough to see what's wrong from the stands or the bench," Schmidt said, "but out on the field it's different. The quarterbacks made mistakes and they cost us plenty. We'll have to do something about it before the next two games."

Switch McDonald.

Schmidt made an immediate move in this direction when he announced that Co-Captain Jim McDonald, who has been stationed at quarterback all season, would be switched back to his old fullback post.

With the switch of McDonald, Mike Kabealo will move into the first string quarterback position with Nick Wasylik as his understudy. Kabealo's place at left half will be filled by Jim Miller or Bill Phillips, neither of whom have seen a great bit of service thus far.

Wasylik was one of the five Buck players injured in the Indiana battle, but is expected to be in shape for the Illinois game here Saturday.

The other injured players were: Co-Captain Ralph Wolf, with a bruised shoulder; Fred Crow, a bruised ankle; Alex Schoenbaum, injured knee; and Johnny Rabb, injured knee.

All except Rabb are expected to round into shape before the Illinois contest. Rabb re-injured a knee that was hurt originally last spring. The ligaments were torn and he probably will not play again until the final game of the season against Michigan.

Outside the player shifts in the backfield, one other lineup change may be made. Schmidt considered giving Vic Marino, rugged little Youngstown sophomore, the regular left guard position. Marino looked exceptionally good when he relieved the veteran Sol Maggied against Indiana.

Praises Corby Davis.

When Ohio State failed to score against Indiana it marked only the second time in four seasons under Schmidt the Bucks have not garnered a point. The other occasion was against Pittsburgh last year.

Indiana's victory Saturday was clean-cut and thoroughly deserved. It marked the first Hoosier triumph over Ohio State since 1924.

Wrestling Show Postponed.

The Quality club's regular Monday night wrestling show at the Armory has been postponed until Thursday night this week, it was announced today by Manager Tim Nolan. The card was changed so as not to conflict with the Policemen's ball tonight.

HAND BEARS FIRST LOSS

CHICAGO — (AP) — The fuse is sputtering toward what may be the biggest explosion in national professional football history.

Green Bay's Packers, finally under way after a slow start, touched off the fireworks yesterday by handing the vaunted Chicago Bears their first defeat of the season. The schedule shows the possibilities of a blow-up which may hurl the Bears and New York Giants from divisional leaders they have held so long.

In the western section, the Bears, after being set back 24 to 14 by the Packers, still lead with five wins, one defeat and one tie. Green Bay has won six, lost two and tied one. On Thanksgiving day, the Bears have to tackle Detroit's Lions at Detroit.

Detroit has a chance at the "giant killer" role next Sunday, when the Lions go against the Giants at New York. The Giants, who won a 17 to 0 victory over Pittsburgh yesterday, now lead the eastern section with five victories, one defeat and one tie.

Detroit, in winning its fifth game, walloped Cleveland 27 to 7. It was Cleveland's eighth loss in nine games.

Big Dave Smukler passed and smashed Philadelphia to a 14 to 10 victory over Brooklyn.

The Mansfield baseball headquarters, 70½ North Main street, has opened for fall and winter activities, it was announced today by Jeff Holmquist, manager.

The third floor of the headquarters was rearranged to play practice basketball games.

The headquarters also organized a basketball team for the City Class A league this season and are looking for a sponsor.

SPORTS PARADE

By HENRY McLEMORE

SALT LAKE CITY—(U.P.)—As I understand it the receipt for an all-American backfield reads something like this:

Take equal parts of speed, power, and brains. Mix well with ability to kick and pass. Add a generous pinch of endurance, and serve on any field.

If that's right, then Byron "Whizzer" White of Colorado university deserves an all-American berth.

He has all the ingredients named above. And in heaping portions. He proved that to my satisfaction Saturday when, with only occasional support from his comrades, he brought his team to a 17 to 7 victory over Utah university.

"Whizzer" scored all 17 points, and in doing so lifted his total for the season to 72, and kept Colorado in the select group of undefeated and untied teams. White accounted for the points with a field goal, touchdown dashes of 57 and 97 yards, and two placement kicks for the points after touchdown.

His 97-yard run, which came when his team was trailing 7 to 3, will go down in the books as one of the most amazing dashes of the year.

"Whizzer" started this run by taking a punt on his own 12-yard line. Harassed by six Utah players he retreated to within three yards of his own goal, and then dodged along the last stripe to within a yard of the far sideline.

At this point 10 Utah players surrounded him, but he came out of the trap and, running within inches of the sideline, streaked 97 yards for a score.

His escape from so many tacklers, who completely surrounded him, defies explanation.

His 57-yard sprint was understandable. He broke through tackle on power alone, and out in the open foiled his pursuers with a beautiful change of pace.

White didn't throw many passes Saturday, but the ones he did toss were fast and sure. His kicking, especially in the second half, was superb.

At the finish he was the freshest man on the field. And all he had done, for a full sixty minutes, was direct the Colorado team from quarterback, carry the ball nine times out of ten (he made all but 30 yards of the Colorado yardage), do all the passing and kicking, and play a faultless game on defense.

Saturday's Stars

(By Associated Press)

Sandy Sanford, Alabama, kept Crimson tide on undefeated list with field goal in fourth period that broke tie with Tulane.

Stark Ritchie, Michigan, tallied two touchdowns, one on 41-yard run, as Wolverines rallied in final quarter to down Chicago.

John Ryan, Army, recovered Harvard fumble to start Cadet drive, scored touchdown and place kicked goal to beat Crimson by one point.

Joe Woitkowski, Fordham, heaved two touchdown passes and punted brilliantly in rout of Purdue.

Kim Groves and Pete Fay, Stanford, combined on aerial play that helped beat Southern California.

Ken Heineman, Texas Mines, completed 14 of 17 passes, four for touchdowns, and raced 47 and 93 yards for other tallies in rout of Arizona State.

Art Rooney, North Carolina State, led Wolfpack attack with two touchdowns and tossed pass for third in triumph over The Citadel.

It Happened On The Grid

Haskell was playing Boston college in 1926, when Son Jennings was a Haskell halfback. Jennings tried a 50-yard dropkick. The ball hit the cross bar, bounced straight up in the air, hit the bar again, and fell back on the playing field. No goal.—By Tom Stidham, Oklahoma.

Ohio's Future Foes Win

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—While Ohio State went down to defeat Saturday at the hands of Indiana, the two opponents the Bucks yet have to face this season were turning in triumphs.

Illinois smashed Northwestern's last hope of salvaging any of the championship spoils in the Big Ten by gaining a 6 to 0 upset victory.

Michigan, the traditional opponent of the Bucks, hung up its third straight victory when it came from behind to edge a woefully weak Chicago combine 13 to 12.

Teams which Ohio State already played found the week-end as full of pitfalls as did the Bucks.

Texas Christian, the Bucks initial foe, was beaten 10 to 9 by Centenary; Purdue was trounced 21 to 3 by Fordham; and the University of Southern California was topped 7 to 6 by Stanford.

Yale Enjoys Grid Renaissance

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK—(INS)—A lot of people think it was Larry Kelley, the Garrulous Gael, Yale itself doesn't. Others said it was the new spirit, brought to the Bowl by Co-coaches Ducky Pond and Greasy Neale. But those close to the situation insist that that's more than part of the answer.

Halfback Clint Frank, currently the top hand at New Haven, is hailed by a third group as party responsible. But it seems the young man is only the result, not the reason.

Anyhow, Yale football has had itself a renaissance during the last few years, rising from the dead level of mediocrity and worse to something not far from national distinction, and the New Haven set will gladly tell you that neither coaches nor players could have done this without The Third Arm.

Third Arm? Sure, like the Czar had in Russia before the revolution and Stalin has now, the unseen O. G. P. U. or secret police. Yale's Third Arm is its scouts, those quiet, self-effacing gents who peer intently at Yale's list of opponents all season long, ferreting out guilty secrets and passing the word along to an attentive ear where it can be counted on to do the most good.

Yale, briefly, doesn't claim to have the best football team in the world, only the best scouting corps.

They say that's why they've been able to beat Princeton consistently during those recent years when Princeton seemed to have dug up half of the good football players in the State of Ohio. The scouts, it seems, found flaws that left Princeton absolutely vulnerable at a time when it appeared supreme.

That 7-0 victory of several years ago, for example, achieved by a pass to the eternal Kelley. The fact that Yale scored was not so surprising as the fact that a great Princeton team didn't. The answer supposedly is that the scouts picked up a foot movement of the Princeton guards on the line of scrimmage, infallibly tipping whether a pass or a running play impended.

Tell an opponent that, and its defense can't miss. Anyhow, Yale's didn't that day.

They also say that part of Kelley's genius as a pass catcher was made possible by advance reports on defense mannerisms that enabled Yale to break the Magnificent Mouthpiece loose, downfield. They say that's how he became such a factor in beating Princeton and Harvard in wild, fantastic finishes last year. I don't believe it.

What broke Kelley loose was Kelley's inspired speed and the reason he was able to catch the ball is an instinctive pair of hands, like a good third baseman's. I'm all for scouts, too, including Yale's—but what were they doing when Yale was finishing fifteenth every Saturday about ten years ago?

Yes, maybe the scouts are positively tops up there. But I'm wondering whether it could have been just a coincidence that the real change—taking Yale football back to something of the eminence it knew with the Shevlins, the Hogans, the Coys and the Jonses of thirty years ago—came about with the appointment of Pond and Neale.

CLAIMS BRITONS CHAMPION BETTORS

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—"You think the people in this country gamble? Haw! Haw!"

The man who leaned back in his 50-foot suite in the Ritz-Superba and laughed way down deep was Gen. A. C. Critchley, the millionaire czar of England's greyhound racing industry.

"Why," he said, controlling his mirth, "do you know how much will be bet on the totalizator (pari-mutuel) alone at my eight tracks this year? About ten million pounds."

(Editor's note—Jumping cats! that's $50,000,000.)

"And what, General, do you get out of that?" he was asked.

"Oh, we take only 6 per cent," he said, airily, "but of course we charge an admission price too, about 60 cents a head, and the average attendance for 104 nights at White City, my biggest track, this season was a little over 20,000."

So you get an idea why the general, who came out of the army to introduce hound racing to England in 1926, feels like laughing most of the time.

"It's a great thing for the people," he observed with a twinkle. "The English people are crazier about gambling than any in the world. Everybody's got to bet on something every day. The dogs give them a splendid outlet. Why, if it wasn't for the dogs they might be gambling on the stock market, and America knows what a bad thing that is!"

He's dead right about the English liking to "have their bob down" on something. Anyone who has lived in England knows that by high noon you can't find a chambermaid who doesn't have a sixpence or a shilling bet on a horse at some track. And, come evening, they go to the dogs.

"Where the money comes from I don't know, but the average wager at all the tracks in England is approximately 55 shillings ($14.50), and at White City it has averaged 69 shillings for months," Critchley said.

Leaders Continue to Fall By Wayside

By HERBERT W. BAKER

NEW YORK—(AP)—The surprising development of last week's uncalled-for revolt of the football underdogs was that the fall of prime favorites caused so little change in national and sectional championship races.

Of the 16 major teams which had boasted undefeated records, only two, Baylor and Temple, were removed from the list. Conference or sectional ratings, except for the southwest where Rice supplanted Baylor in first place, remained virtually unchanged.

East—Lafayette undefeated and untied; Pitt, Fordham, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, Villanova and Yale, each tied once.

South—Alabama, undefeated and untied; Duke, tied once.

This week's program finds heavy stress laid on the intersectional angle, especially in the east, but vital sectional games will be played in every conference as well. Prospects for the leading games include:

East:

The principal spotlight falls on Pitt's battle with Nebraska at Pittsburgh. The Panthers were sheer dynamite as Goldberg, Stebbins and Patrick smashed through Notre Dame's defense in a three-touchdown, fourth-period surge that earned Pitt a 21-6 triumph last week.

Nebraska, on the other hand, had to come from behind to gain a 13 to 13 draw with Kansas in a major upset that left Nebraska's hopes of a third successive Big Six championship somewhat on the dime side.

Notre Dame will invade the east to give battle to Army, which took advantage of a Harvard fumble in the fourth quarter to pull out a hardly-deserved 7-6 decision. Penn, outpointed by Penn State, 7-0, plays Michigan's Wolverines, who had to score twice in the last four minutes to nose out Chicago, 13-12.

Manhattan, 7-0 upset conqueror of Detroit, will entertain North Carolina State, which ran up a 26-14 count on Citadel.

Boston College, after routing Western Maryland, 27-0, expects rugged competition from Kentucky's Wildcats who spilled South Carolina, 27-7. Harvard takes on Davidson, West Virginia meets Toledo, and Rutgers plays Ohio University. Duquesne, surprised by Carnegie Tech, 6-0, travels to Lubbock to face Texas Tech Thursday. The big domestic struggles if the day will find Dartmouth arrayed against Cornell and Yale against Princeton.

Undefeated Villanova, Holy Cross and Lafayette all look safe while Fordham, an impressive array in a 21-3 victory over Purdue, takes Saturday off.

Middle-west:

The Gophers, who overcame a 10-0 deficit to trounce Iowa, 35-10, find Northwestern Wildcats, clawed by Illinois, 6-0, next in line. Ohio State and Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, and Wisconsin and Purdue are the other conference pairings. Chicago eases off against Beloit.

Kansas, bidding for at least a share in the Big Six title, plays Kansas State, while Missouri, whipped 14-7 by St. Louis, tackles Oklahoma, 33-7 conqueror of Iowa State.

Southwest:

Rice, which conquered Arkansas, 26-20, battles to hold its conference lead against Texas A. and M., 14-0 victors over Southern Methodist. Maylor, victim of a terrific 9-6 defeat by Texas on Hugh Wolfe's field goal, tackles S. M. U. Texas plays Texas Christian, nosed out by Centenary, 10-9, also on a field goal.

South:

Alabama had to resort to a field goal by Sandy Sanford to turn back Tulane, 9-6, and found Auburn's plainsmen a challenging menace to its bid for the southeastern conference crown.

Auburn thoroughly battered Tennessee, 20-7. Both leaders face rugged rivals this week. Alabama plays Georgia Tech, which recently removed Vanderbilt from the unbeaten class. Auburn must meet Louisiana State's Tigers, who ran up a 41-0 count on Mississippi State. Other conference games find Georgia, upset 6-0 by Florida, playing Tulane: Tennessee battling Vanderbilt, 41-0 conqueror of Sewanee, and Mississippi State playing Sewanee.

Duke, which routed wake Forest, 67-0, tops the southern conference field, with Clemson, Maryland, North Carolina, 26-0 victor over Davidson, still in the running.

Duke and North Carolina collide in the big test this week.

Far West:

Despite the fact they were held to a scoreless tie by Washington, the Golden Bears of California still hold clear claim to the Pacific Coast conference lead. Stanford, which nosed out Southern California, 7-6, holds second place with Oregon State, the only other team with a real chance for the championship. California's next foe is Oregon, which whipped Washington State, 10-6, last week.

Sanford meets Washington State and Oregon State plays Southern California.

Rocky Mountain:

Colorado, scoring over Utah 17-7 with Whizzer White accounting for all the winners' points, should trip Coolrado College easily enough this week, but Denver, 25-0 conqueror of Utah State, may give the undefeated leaders trouble on Thanksgiving day. Denver plays Wyoming this week, while Utah meets Colorado State.

PARIS SETS UP 'G-MEN' CORPS IN BATTLE AGAINST CRIMINALS

PARIS — (INS) — Paris is to have its "G-Men."

Spurred by the unsolved and still mysterious kidnaping of the 24-year-old American girl Jean de Koven this summer and a series of other unsolved crimes, a special corps of the finest French sleuths has been formed.

No name has as yet been chosen for this body, which will work entirely independent of the police and the Surete National, but it is believed it will be called the "Paris Mobile Brigade" or the "Flying Squad."

Prefect of Police Roger Langernon maintains the strictest silence concerning the composition of this new force but International News Service learns it will be headed by a Commissioner of Police, formerly assistant to Chief Commissioner Guillaume of the Police Judiciare.

This special corps will be divided into two distinct groups, it is learned. One will patrol the city at night acting independently of the regular uniformed and plain-clothes police. The second group will be modeled more or less on the American G-Men and will be placed in complete charge of any crime investigation that baffles the regular police authorities.

The new G-Men will have their headquarters in the Prefecture of Police and will have complete access to all police files, it is understood. But they will report only to their immediate chief and he in turn need only report results to Prefect of Police Langernon. By this means all leakage will be eliminated, according to police officials.

Numerous unsolved crimes this year culminating in the kidnaping of Jean de Koven led to the decision to form this G-Men corps.

Clothes Bill For Co-eds Averages $314 For a Year

Exclusive of coats, cosmetics and accessories, it was found that the college girl who lives in a dormitory needs more clothes than the coed who commutes.

Quizzing a group of girls of both the resident and commuting groups, it was found that dormitory residents spent $314 and commuting co-eds $235 for their year's clothes.

Dresses are found to be the largest item of expense, the dorm girl spending $120 and the commuter $81 for these items.

Shoes were another important item, the co-eds voting that they needed eight pair as an average to go through the school year.

THE Tygers of Mansfield high, idle last week for the first time this season, swing back into action Saturday when they entertain the strong Akron Kenmore grid warriors at Stadium field in one of the feature battles on the week's program.

Two other important contests, with considerable bearing on league championships, will find Galion's Orangemen clashing with the Whippets at Shelby Saturday in a North Central Ohio conference tilt, and undefeated and untied Madison, defending Mid-State league champions, tackling Bellville high's powerful aggregation under the arcs at Madison stadium Friday night.

Mt. Vernon's Yellow Jackets invade Marion, Friday night for an N. C. O. tussle with the Harding Presidents, and Bucyrus travels to Ashland for a league clash Saturday. In the Mid-State league Fredericktown travels to Danville to play the Blue Devils in a game which will close the season for both clubs. Loudonville closes its season Friday when it invades Mt. Gilead for a tilt with the undefeated Indians.

Coach J. Russell Murphy's once-defeated proteges are expected to face one of their toughest assignments of the season in the Kenmore fray. Akron, although not the best club in the Rubber city, has caused the city title contenders considerable trouble in the Akron city league. Last week the team bowed to the touted Ravenna club, 12 to 7.

Can Cinch Title.

Galion, assured of at least a tie for the N. C. O. crown by its 7 to 0 victory over Marion Harding last week, can annex the title Saturday by whipping Shelby.

The Rams disposed of a fighting Loudonville club last Friday, 19 to 0, to chalk up its fourth consecutive loop victory, while Bellville registered its fourth circuit triumph by walloping Danville, 31 to 7.

Coach Royd Hodges' club's only defeat was administered by a heavier Mt. Gilead combine by a 12 to 7 count. The Indians scored the winning touchdown on a pass with less than a minute to play.

OLDS HOLD LOOP LEAD

The Miller Oldsmobiles maintained their lead in the North Central Ohio Traveling league, Sunday, at the Meder recreation by defeating the Jerry's Insurance of Findlay, 2939 to 2767.

Clarence Meder who came through with a middle game of 247 paced the winners with a 681. He cracked out a 203 in the opening game and ended up with a 231.

Leppo, who opened with a 234, scored a 605. Wellman led the losers with a 581, which included a 212 game.

Gophers Make Bid For Title

The Golden Gophers, only undefeated team in the Big Ten, have won three games and will be favored to take a fourth Saturday at the expense of Northwestern. The final game on Minnesota's schedule is with Wisconsin, which does not figure to stop the Bernie Bierman aggregation.

Minnesota's last undisputed championship was in 1934, when the Gophers won five straight. In 1909 and 1911 they had clear titles, sharing in conference grid honors six other times since 1896.

Wildcats May Upset Dope.

Northwestern, which was tripped up 6 to 0 by Illinois Saturday, may upset the dope, but the Gophers probably will be hard to halt, particularly because they vividly recall that startling 6 to 0 whipping from the wildcats last fall. Northwestern, moreover, did not look too strong against Illinois, while Minnesota gave evidence of its power in downing Iowa 35 to 10.

Ohio State, with three wins and one defeat, will be favored to take out on Illinois the Buckeyes 10 to 0 upset defeat by Indiana. After Illinois, Ohio State is scheduled to take Michigan in stride, but the damage to the Buckeye cause was done Saturday by the scrappy Hoosiers.

Michigan, which scored two touchdowns in the final four minutes to hand the hapless Chicago Maroons a 13 to 12 defeat, goes east to take on Pennsylvania, and may add an intersectional victory to its string of three straight, one-point conference conquests. Chicago probably will coach victory against Beloit college of Wisconsin.

Purdue and Wisconsin may put on one of the most even battles of the year. The Boilermakers were defeated 21 to 3 by Fordham Saturday as Wisconsin enjoyed a vacation. Indiana, with two conference triumphs and one loss, will be favored over Iowa and if the Hoosiers can whip Purdue Nov. 20, will have made the best showing of any Indiana team in Big Ten competition. The Hoosiers never have won or shared in a championship, their best previous record being three victories and one defeat. They made those marks in 1910 and 1920 and last season went three, lost one and tied one.

LOYOLA STARS REINSTATED

LOS ANGELES — (U.P.) — Five Loyola university football players who were dismissed from the college last week allegedly for staying away from the campus all night, were reinstated today. The faculty board of disciplinary action announced that it had reconsidered the matter because of them numerous pleas from prominent citizens.

Rudy Gmitro Tops Big Ten Scoring.

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Big Ten had a new individual scoring leader today—Rudy Gmitro of Minnesota.

The speedy Gopher back, tallying two touchdowns against Iowa, ran his season point total in conference games to 24 on four touchdowns. In second place was another Gopher, Halfback Wilbur Moore, who had three touchdowns for 18 points. Howard Weiss, previous pace-setter, was third at 14 points on two touchdowns and two conversions, having no chance to advance because of Wisconsin's open date.

Shelby Whippets Defeat Tiffin Calvert, 13 to 7.

Coach Bill Query's Shelby Whippets, smarting from the defeat handed them a week ago by Marion, came back Saturday to beat Tiffin Calvert 13 to 7. It was Shelby's first victory of the season.

Shelby put its scoring machine to work early in the first period when they received a Calvert punt on Calvert's 39-yard stripe. Bliss, Whippet fullback, carried the oval for six successive plays and planted the ball over the stripe.

The attempted pass for point was incomplete.

Tiffin registered its only tally in the closing minutes of the second quarter when after a series of line plays advanced the ball to the Shelby 36, Sertell then threw a long forward pass to Carrigan on the 12 who raced into the end zone. Sertell plunged for the point, giving the Calverts a 7 to 6 lead.

The Whippets took to the air early in the final quarter and succeeded in placing the ball on the Calvert nine. Bliss raced around his own left end into "pay dirt." Bliss' placement went between the uprights for the point.

Another drive by the Whippets placed the ball on the six late in the period but the Calvert forward wall braced and took the ball on downs on the six.

GRID DEATHS REDUCED

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—(AP)— The first half of the 1937 football season to k a toll of 14 lives, some 25 per cent less than in the same period last year, Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood reported to the Associated Press today.

Of that total, nine were attributed directly to the gridiron game, and five to indirect causes, said Dr. Eastwood in his report, which includes games played through Oct. 29. Dr. Eastwood, associate professor of physical education at Purdue university, keeps an annual record of vital statistics for the American football coaches association and the N. C. A. A.

Sweep Match With Orrville at Meder Alleys.

The team compiled a brilliant 3048 total as it swept the three games in its match with the Orrville Moose club which came through with a 2779.

Coming through with a sparkling 1066 in the final game, to top other games of 956 and 1026, the Moose team took all the games by comfortable margins.

The Orrville club's biggest attempt to overcome the brilliant Moose keglers was in the opening frame when they spilled 96 pins, 50 short of the Moose team.

In the other games the invaders registered totals of 900 and 963.

Hipp was the main cog in the Moose No. 2 attack, compiling a grand total of 693. He turned in games of 214, 234 and 245 to set the pace. Another menace for the Orrville club was W. Cleckner who added a 649 to the big score. His final game of 258 was tops for the day.

D. Cleckner socked out a 575. Young came through with a 568 and Hilborn had a 563.

JOE LOUIS' FINAL?

Those who should know say Joe Louis' next fight (against Max Schmeling in June) will be his last—win, lose or draw.

BABE MEDER ROLLS 703

Edward "Babe" Meder, 18-year-old son of Mike Meder, is making a place for himself in Mansfield bowling circles.

The youthful kegler, bowling with the Mansfield Moose No. 2 team in the Moose Traveling league at the Meder alleys Sunday, smashed out a sparkling 703. It was one of the highest scores he has turned in during his short bowling career.

Opening up with a 212 game, the youngster improved with each stanza. He came through with a 223 in the middle game and finished with a brilliant 268.

OHIO WITHOUT AN UNDEFEATED AND UNTIED TEAM FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1934

By TOMMY DEVINE

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—For the first time since the waning days of the 1934 campaign, Ohio today was without an undefeated and untied collegiate football combination.

The last perfect record team in the state was scratched off the list when the rapidly improving University of Toledo eleven downed the University of Dayton 12 to 7.

While there are no perfect record teams, the Ohio conference can boast of two unbeaten elevens and the Buckeye conference has one in that classification.

The unbeaten but tied teams are: Denison and Ohio Northern in the Ohio conference and Marshall in the Buckeye. Denison and Marshall each have one deadlock marring their slates and Ohio Northern three.

Toledo, under the astute direction of Dr. C. W. (Fats) Spears, has marked improvement each week since the start of the campaign and reached the peak Saturday when Dayton was beaten.

The Rockets' victory was a testimony to the alert football they played. A blocked punt that was recovered on the goal line by Jim Day, an end, gave Toledo one of its touchdowns, and a partially blocked kick paved the way for the other.

Blasts Flyers Hopes.

The defeat of Dayton lasted the Flyers' hopes for an undisputed claim to the mythical state championship. They remain, however, the top-ranked choice for the Buckeye conference diadem.

The conference lead became the possession of Baldwin-Wallace over the week-end when the Yellow Jackets downed Case 13 to 0. Two passes from the Sophomore Hoy Arnold to Bill Davidson, rangy end, provided the touchdown chances. Case played without the services of its ram-rodding fullback, Ray McKovsky, who is on the sidelines with an ankle injury.

Reserve Beaten.

Western Reserve went east for the second time this season and was given a 27 to 6 setback by Syracuse. Ossie Soelm, Syracuse coach, held out Marty Glickman, his Olympic sprinter and star halfback, most of the game, but turned loose a Hindu passing wizard, Wilmeth Eidat-Singh, who almost drove the Red Cats out of the stadium with his accurate aerials. The scoring chance for each of Syracuse's four touchdowns was set up by passes from Sidat-Singh.

When Syracuse topped reserve, it marked the first time since 1931 the Red Cats had lost two games in succession. eserve was beaten last week by Dayton.

In other week-end games involving state teams, Heidelberg when it toyed with Centre college edged Capital, 7 to 6; Wittenberg won its first game of the year byq downing Bowling Green 6 to 0; Otterbein blanked Hiram 12 to 0; Marietta fell before Washington and Jefferson 6 to 0; Defiance converted the point after touchdown to beat Bluffton 7 to 6; Akron ran wild as it trounced Davis-Elkins 33 to 1; Xavier bested Creighton 19 to 0; Wooster won its fourth straight contest by trimming Oberlin 37 to 7; Lake Forest (Ill.) battered Kenyon 42 to 0; Kent State humbled Findlay 20 to 0; John Carroll used a fine sophomore array to down Olivet (Mich.) 47 to 6, and Wilberforce fought to a scoreless tie with Lincoln, Mo.

Bucks' Title Hopes Dashed By Indiana

Bow to Hoosiers, 10 to 0, In Important Conference Battle—Ohio's Drop In Ratings Blamed on Poor Generalship.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Ohio State today found itself ranked as "just another team" and had all championship hopes wiped away following a 10 to 0 defeat at the hands of Indiana.

The Bucks sudden drop in the national gridiron ratings was the penalty they were paying for the most costly of all gridiron mistakes—poor generalship.

The Bucks received questionable quarterbacking on numerous occasions earlier in the season, but each time the power of their vaunted line had minimized these tactical blunders. Saturday, it was a different story, with Indiana possessing the superior line.

Francis A. Schmidt, the gruff Ohio State coach, frankly admitted the team received exceptionally poor direction against the Hoosiers, but he declined to censure the gridders responsible for the costly errors.

"It's easy enough to see what's wrong from the stands or the bench," Schmidt said, "but out on the field it's different. The quarterbacks made mistakes and they cost us plenty. We'll have to do something about it before the next two games."

Switch McDonald.

Schmidt made an immediate move in this direction when he announced that Co-Captain Jim McDonald, who has been stationed at quarterback all season, would be switched back to his old fullback post.

With the switch of McDonald, Mike Kabealo will move into the first string quarterback position with Nick Wasylik as his understudy. Kabealo's place at left half will be filled by Jim Miller or Bill Phillips, neither of whom have seen a great bit of service thus far.

Wasylik was one of the five Buck players injured in the Indiana battle, but is expected to be in shape for the Illinois game here Saturday.

The other injured players were: Co-Captain Ralph Wolf, with a bruised shoulder; Fred Crow, a bruised ankle; Alex Schoenbaum, injured knee; and Johnny Rabb, injured knee.

All except Rabb are expected to round into shape before the Illinois contest. Rabb re-injured a knee that was hurt originally last spring. The ligaments were torn and he probably will not play again until the final game of the season against Michigan.

Outside the player shifts in the backfield, one other lineup change may be made. Schmidt considered giving Vic Marino, rugged little Youngstown sophomore, the regular left guard position. Marino looked exceptionally good when he relieved the veteran Sol Maggied against Indiana.

Schmidt termed Indiana a "good, but not a great team."

Praises Corby Davis.

When Ohio State failed to score against Indiana it marked only the second time in four seasons under Schmidt the Bucks have not garnered a point. The other occasion was against Pittsburgh last year.

Indiana's victory Saturday was clean-cut and thoroughly deserved. It marked the first Hoosier triumph over Ohio State since 1924.

HAND BEARS FIRST LOSS

CHICAGO — (AP) — The fuse is sputtering toward what may be the biggest explosion in national professional footmall history.

Green Bay's Packers, finally under way after a slow start, touched off the fireworks yesterday by handing the vaunted Chicago Bears their first defeat of the season. The schedule shows the possibilities of a blow-up which may hurl the Bears and New York Giants from divisional leaders they have held so long.

In the western section, the Bears, after being set back 24 to 14 by the Packers, still lead with five wins, one defeat and one tie. Green Bay has won six, lost two and tied one. On Thanksgiving day, the Bears have to tackle Detroit's Lions at Detroit.

Detroit has a chance at the "giant killer" role next Sunday, when the Lions go against the Giants at New York. The Giants, who won a 17 to 0 victory over Pittsburgh yesterday, now lead the eastern section with five victories, one defeat and one tie.

Detroit, in winning its fifth game, walloped Cleveland 27 to 7. It was Cleveland's eighth loss in nine games.

Big Dave Smukler passed and smashed Philadelphia to a 14 to 10 victory over Brooklyn.

SPORTS PARADE

By HENRY McLEMORE

SALT LAKE CITY—(U.P.)—As I understand it the receipt for an all-American backfield reads something like this:

Take equal parts of speed, power, and brains. Mix well with ability to kick and pass. Add a generous pinch of enduranee, and serve on any field.

If that's right, then Byron "Whizzer" White of Colorado university deserves an all-American berth.

He has all the ingredients named above. And in heaping portions. He proved that to my satisfaction Saturday when, with only occasional support from his comrades, he brought his team to a 17 to 7 victory over Utah university.

"Whizzer" scored all 17 points, and in doing so lifted his total for the season to 72, and kept Colorado in the select group of undefeated and untied teams. White accounted for the points with a field goal, touchdown dashes of 57 and 97 yards, and two placement kicks for the points after touchdown.

His 97-yard run, which came when his team was trailing 7 to 3, will go down in the books as one of the most amazing dashes of the year.

"Whizzer" started this run by taking a punt on his own 12-yard line. Harassed by six Utah players he retreated to within three yeards of his own goal, and then dodged along the last stripe to within a yard of the far sideline.

At this point 10 Utah players surrounded him, but he came out of the trap and, running within inches of the sideline, streaked 97 yards for a score.

His escape from so many tacklers, who completely surrounded him, defies explanation.

His 57-yard sprint was understandable. He broke through tackle on power alone, and out in the open foiled his pursuers with a beautiful change of pace.

White didn't throw many passes Saturday, but the ones he did toss were fast and sure. His kicking, especially in the second half, was superb.

At the finish he was the freshest man on the field. And all he had done, for a full sixty minutes, was direct the Colorado team from quarterback, carry the ball nine times out of ten (he made all but 30 yards of the Colorado yardage), do all the passing and kicking, and play a faultless game on defense.

Saturday's Stars

(By Associated Press)

Sandy Sanford, Alabama, kept Crimson tide on undefeated list with field goal in fourth period that broke tie with Tulane.

Stark Ritchie, Michigan, tallied two touchdowns, one on 41-yard run, as Wolverines rallied in final quarter to down Chicago.

John Ryan, Army, recovered Harvard fumble to start Cadet drive, scored touchdown and place kicked goal to beat Crimson by one point.

Joe Woitkowski, Fordham, heaved two touchdown passes and punted brilliantly in rout of Purdue.

Kim Groves and Pete Fay, Stanford, combined on aerial play that helped beat Southern California.

Ken Heineman, Texas Mines, completed 14 of 17 passes, four for touchdowns, and faced 47 and 56 yards for other tallies in rout of Arizona State.

Art Rooney, North Carolina State, led Wolfpack attack with two touchdowns and tossed pass for third in triumph over The Citadel.

Byron White, Colorado, made two long touchdown runs, booted field goal and converted twice as Colorado downed Utah.

It Happened On The Grid

Haskell was playing Boston college in 1926, when Son Jennings was a Haskell halfback. Jennings tried a 50-yard dropkick. The ball hit the cross bar, bounced straight up in the air, hit the bar again, and fell back on the playing field. No goal.—By Tom Stidham, Oklahoma.

Ohio's Future Foes Win

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—While Ohio State went down to defeat Saturday at the hands of Indiana, the two opponents the Bucks yet have to face this season were turning in triumphs.

Illinois smashed Northwestern's last hope of salvaging any of the championship spoils in the Big Ten by gaining a 6 to 0 upset victory.

Michigan, the traditional opponent of the Bucks, hung up its third straight victory when it came from behind to edge a woefully weak Chicago combine 13 to 12.

Teams which Ohio State already played found the week-end as full of pitfalls as did the Bucks.

Texas Christian, the Bucks initial foe, was beaten 10 to 9 by Centenary; Purdue was trounced 21 to 3 by Fordham; and the University of Southern California was topped 7 to 6 by Stanford.

Yale Enjoys Grid Renaissance

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK—(INS)—A lot of people think it was Larry Kelley, the Garrulous Gael, Yale itself doesn't. Others said it was the new spirit, brought to the Bowl by Co-coaches Ducky Pond and Greasy Neale. But those close to the situation insist that that's more than part of the answer.

Halfback Clint Frank, currently the top hand at New Haven, is hailed by a third group as party responsible. But it seems the young man is only the result, not the reason.

Anyhow, Yale football has had itself a renaissance during the last few years, rising from the dead level of mediocrity and worse to something not far from national distinction, and the New Haven set will gladly tell you that neither coaches nor players could have done this without The Third Arm.

Third Arm? Sure, like the Czar had in Russia before the revolution and Stalin has now, the unseen O. G. P. U. or secret police. Yale's Third Arm is its scouts, those quiet, self-effacing gents who peer intently at Yale's list of opponents all season long, ferreting out guilty secrets and passing the word along to an attentive ear where it can be counted on to do the most good.

Yale, briefly, doesn't claim to have the best football team in the world, only the best scouting corps.

They say that's why they've been able to beat Princeton consistently during those recent years when Princeton seemed to have dug up half of the good football players in the State of Ohio. The scouts, it seems, found flaws that left Princeton absolutely vulnerable at a time when it appeared supreme.

That 7-0 victory of several years ago, for example, achieved by a pass to the eternal Kelley. The fact that Yale scored was not so surprising as the fact that a great Princeton team didn't. The answer supposedly is that the scouts picked up a foot movement of the Princeton guards on the line of scrimmage, infallibly tipping whether a pass or a running play impended.

Tell an opponent that, and its defense can't miss. Anyhow, Yale's didn't that day.

They also say that part of Kelley's genius as a pass catcher was made possible by advance reports on defense mannerisms that enabled Yale to break the Magnificent Mouthpiece loose, downfield. They say that's how he became such a factor in beating Princeton and Harvard in wild, fantastic finishes last year. I don't believe it.

What broke Kelley loose was Kelley's inspired speed and the reason he was able to catch the ball is an instinctive pair of hands, like a good third baseman's. I'm all for scouts, too, including Yale's—but what were they doing when Yale was finishing fifteenth every Saturday about ten years ago?

Yes, maybe the scouts are positively tops up there. But I'm wondering whether it could have been just a coincidence that the real change—taking Yale football back to something of the eminence it knew with the Shevlins, the Hogans, the Coys and the Jonses of thirty years ago—came about with the appointment of Pond and Neale.

Leaders Continue to Fall By Wayside

By HERBERT W. BAKER

NEW YORK—(AP)—The surprising development of last week's uncalled-for revolt of the football underdogs was that the fall of prime favorites caused so little change in national and sectional championship races.

Of the 16 major teams which had boasted undefeated records, only two, Baylor and Temple, were removed from the list. Conference or sectional ratings, except for the southwest where Rice supplanted Baylor in first place, remained virtually unchanged.

East—Lafayette undefeated and untied; Pitt, Fordham, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, Villanova and Yale, each tied once.

South—Alabama, undefeated and untied; Duke, tied once.

This week's program finds heavy stress laid on the intersectional angle, especially in the east, but vital sectional games will be played in every conference as well. Prospects for the leading games include:

East:

The principal spotlight falls on Pitt's battle with Nebraska at Pittsburgh. The Panthers were sheer dynamite as Goldberg, Stebbins and Patrick smashed through Notre Dame's defense in a three-touchdown, fourth-period surge that earned Pitt a 21-6 triumph last week.

Nebraska, on the other hand, had to come from behind to gain a 13 to 13 draw with Kansas in a major upset that left Nebraska's hopes of a third successive Big Six championship somewhat on the dime side.

Notre Dame will invade the east to give battle to Army, which took advantage of a Harvard fumble in the fourth quarter to pull out a hardly-deserved 7-6 decision. Penn, outpointed by Penn State, 7-0, plays Michigan's Wolverines, who had to score twice in the last four minutes to nose out Chicago, 13-12.

Manhattan, 7-0 upset conqueror of Detroit, will entertain North Carolina State, which ran up a 26-14 count on Citadel.

Boston College, after routing Western Maryland, 27-0, expects rugged competition from Kentucky's Wildcats who spilled South Carolina, 27-7. Harvard takes on Davidson. West Virginia meets Toledo, and Rutgers plays Ohio University. Duquesne, surprised by Carnegie Tech, 6-0, travels to Lubbock to face Texas Tech Thursday. The big domestic struggles if the day will find Dartmouth arrayed against Cornell and Yale against Princeton.

Undefeated Villanova, Holy Cross and Lafayette all look safe while Fordham, an impressive array in a 21-3 victory over Purdue, takes Saturday off.

Middle-west:

The Gophers, who overcame a 10-0 deficit to trounce Iowa, 35-10, find Northwestern Wildcats, clawed by Illinois, 6-0, next in line. Ohio State and Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, and Wisconsin and Purdue are the other conference pairings. Chicago eases off against Beloit.

Kansas, bidding for at least a share in the Big Six title, plays Kansas State, while Missouri, whipped 14-7 by St. Louis, tackles Oklahoma, 33-7 conqueror of Iowa State.

Southwest:

Rice, which conquered Arkansas, 26-20, battles to hold its conference lead against Texas A. and M., 14-0 victors over Southern Methodist. Maylor, victim of a terrific 9-6 defeat by Texas on Hugh Wolfe's field goal, tackles S. M. U. Texas plays Texas Christian, noced out by Centenary, 10-9, also on a field goal.

South:

Alabama had to resort to a field goal by Sandy Sanford to turn back Tulane, 9-6, and found Auburn's plainsmen a challenging menace to its bid for the southeastern conference crown.

Auburn thoroughly battered Tennessee, 20-7. Both leaders face rugged rivals this week. Alabama plays Georgia Tech, which recently removed Vanderbilt from the unbeaten class. Auburn must meet Louisiana State's Tigers, who ran up a 41-0 count on Mississippi State. Other conference games find Georgia, upset 6-0 by Florida, playing Tulane; Tennessee battling Vanderbilt, 41-0 conqueror of Sewanee, and Mississippi State playing Sewanee.

Duke, which routed wake Forest, 67-0, tops the southern conference field, with Clemson, Maryland, North Carolina, 26-0 victor over Davidson, still in the running.

Duke and North Carolina collide in the big test this week.

Far West:

Despite the fact they were held to a scoreless tie by Washington, the Golden Bears of California still hold clear claim to the Pacific Coast conference lead. Stanford, which nosed out Southern California, 7-6, holds second place with Oregon State, the only other team with a real chance for the championship. California's next foe is Oregon, which whipped Washington State, 10-6, last week.

Sanford meets Washington State and Oregon State plays Southern California.

Rocky Mountain:

Colorado, scoring over Utah 17-7 with Whizzer White accounting for all the winners' points, should trip Coolrado College easily enough this week, but Denver, 25-0 conqueror of Utah State, may give the undefeated leaders trouble on Thanksgiving day. Denver plays Wyoming this week, while Utah meets Colorado State.

CLAIMS BRITONS CHAMPION BETTORS

By GAYLE TALBOT

The man who leaned back in his 50-foot suite in the Ritz-Superba and laughed way down deep was Gen. A. C. Critchley, the millionaire czar of England's greyhound racing industry.

"Why," he said, controlling his mirth, "do you know how much will be bet on the totalizator (pari-mutuel) alone at my eight tracks this year? About ten million pounds."

(Editor's note—Jumping cats! that's $50,000,000.)

"And what, General, do you get out of that?" he was asked.

"Oh, we take only 6 per cent," he said, airily, "but of course we charge an admission price too, about 60 cents a head, and the average attendance for 104 nights at White City, my biggest track, this season was a little over 20,000."

So you get an idea why the general, who came out of the army to introduce hound racing to England in 1926, feels like laughing most of the time.

"It's a great thing for the people," he observed with a twinkle. "The English people are crazier about gambling than any in the world. Everybody's got to bet on something every day. The dogs give them a splendid outlet. Why, if it wasn't for the dogs they might be gambling on the stock market, and America knows what a bad thing that is!"

He's dead right about the English liking to "have their bob down" on something. Anyone who has lived in England knows that by high noon you can't find a chambermaid who doesn't have a sixpence or a shilling bet on a horse at some track. And, come evening, they go to the dogs.

"Where the money comes from I don't know, but the average wager at all the tracks in England is approximately 55 shillings ($14.50), and at White City it has averaged 69 shillings for months," Critchley said.

PARIS SETS UP 'G-MEN' CORPS IN BATTLE AGAINST CRIMINALS

PARIS — (INS) — Paris is to have its "G-Men."

Spurred by the unsolved and still mysterious kidnaping of the 24-year-old American girl Jean de Koven this summer and a series of other unsolved crimes, a special corps of the finest French sleuths has been formed.

No name has as yet been chosen for this body, which will work entirely independent of the police and the Surete National, but it is believed it will be called the "Paris Mobile Brigade" or the "Flying Squad."

Prefect of Police Roger Langernon maintains the strictest silence concerning the composition of this new force but International News Service learns it will be headed by a Commissioner of Police, formerly assistant to Chief Commissioner Guillaume of the Police Judiciare.

This special corps will be divided into two distinct groups. It is learned. One will patrol the city at night acting independently of the regular uniformed and plain-clothes police. The second group will be modeled more or less on the American G-Men and will be placed in complete charge of any crime investigation that baffles the regular police authorities.

The new G-Men will have their headquarters in the Prefecture of Police and will have complete access to all police files, it is understood. But they will report only to their immediate chief and he in turn need only report results to Prefect of Police Langernon. By this means all leakage will be eliminated, according to police officials.

Numerous unsolved crimes this year culminating in the kidnaping of Jean de Koven led to the decision to form this G-Men corps.

Clothes Bill For Co-eds Averages $314 For a Year

Exclusive of coats, cosmetics and accessories, it was found that the college girl who lives in a dormitory needs more clothes than the coed who commutes.

Quizzing a group of girls of both the resident and commuting groups, it was found that dormitory residents spent $314 and commuting co-eds $235 for their year's clothes.

Dresses are found to be the largest item of expense, the dorm girl spending $120 and the commuter $81 for these items.

Shoes were another important item, the co-eds voting that they needed eight pair as an average to go through the school year.

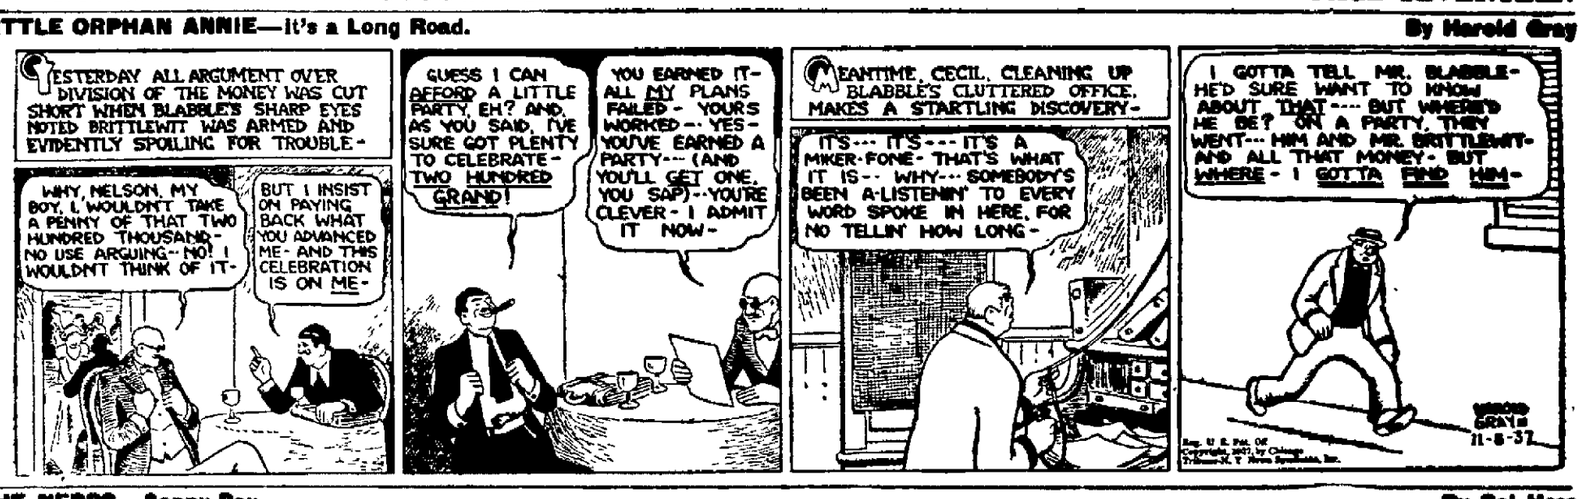
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—It's a Long Road. By Harold Gray



YESTERDAY ALL ARGUMENT OVER DIVISION OF THE MONEY WAS CUT SHORT WHEN BLABBLE'S SHARP EYES NOTED BRITTLEWIT WAS ARMED AND EVIDENTLY SPOILING FOR TROUBLE-
WHY, NELSON, MY BOY, I WOULDN'T TAKE A PENNY OF THAT TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND-- NO USE ARGUING-- NO! I WOULDN'T THINK OF IT-
BUT I INSIST ON PAYING BACK WHAT YOU ADVANCED ME- AND THIS CELEBRATION IS ON ME-
GUESS I CAN AFFORD A LITTLE PARTY, EH? AND AS YOU SAID, I'VE SURE GOT PLENTY TO CELEBRATE- TWO HUNDRED GRAND!
YOU EARNED IT- ALL MY PLANS FAILED- YOURS WORKED-- YES- YOU'VE EARNED A PARTY--- (AND YOU'LL GET ONE, YOU SAP)--YOU'RE CLEVER- I ADMIT IT NOW-MEANTIME, CECIL, CLEANING UP BLABBLE'S CLUTTERED OFFICE, MAKES A STARTLING DISCOVERY-
IT'S--- IT'S--- IT'S A MIKER-FONE- THAT'S WHAT IT IS-- WHY--- SOMEBODY'S BEEN A-LISTENIN' TO EVERY WORD SPOKE IN HERE, FOR NO TELLIN' HOW LONG-
I GOTTA TELL MR. BLABBLE- HE'D SURE WANT TO KNOW ABOUT THAT---- BUT WHERE'D HE BE? ON A PARTY, THEY WENT--- HIM AND MR. BRITTLEWIT- AND ALL THAT MONEY- BUT WHERE- I GOTTA FIND HIM-

BONDS, FOREIGN SECURITIES OFF IN EARLY TRADE

Prices Fall at Opening But Leaders Gain Support as Trading Progresses.

NEW YORK —(AP)— After a swift descent at the opening, stock market leaders today met sufficient support to halve extreme losses of fractions to two or more points.

The cloudier corporation earnings outlook more than anything else, brokers said, tended to inspire selling. Nervousness was also attributed partly to the boost of the London bar gold price and sterling in New York to new two-year heights, together with further repatriation of balances from New York.

Bonds and commodities tipped backward. Foreign securities markets slipped.

It was noted considerable inquiry is current for pig iron and steel for export, but offered prices have been so far below the market producers were not interested. In the third quarter export tonnage, excluding scrap, reached the highest total for that period since 1929.

Attention was also drawn to the figures of the department of commerce disclosing iron and steel imports other than scrap in September were smaller in volume than for any month since March, 1935.

See Pianist Hang From Fast Train, Plunge To Death

CHICAGO —(AP)— Railroad detectives investigated today the death of a young Chicago pianist who motorists saw hanging by his finger tips from the window sill of a mile-a-minute Michigan Central train and battling vainly to pull himself back to safety.

The victim was William F. Erlandson, 30, who was returning from New York where he had competed in a contest for pianists.

Automobiles on U. S. highway 12 raced abreast of the train, the Wolverine limited, yesterday as it passed through Galesburg, Mich. One motorist, Carl Solomon, of Kalamazoo, Mich., saw Erlandson dangling from the window. He blew his horn frantically and pointed to the man in an effort to direct train passengers' attention to him. Solomon said it appeared that Erlandson was attempting to climb back in the coach.

The motorist said Erlandson, exhausted, finally loosened his grip and plunged to his death along the tracks

200 AT MEETING

U. C. T. Members From Five Cities at Gathering Here.

More than 200 members of the United Commercial Travelers and their families, representing five cities, attended a district meeting of the organization Saturday night at the Moose hall, in honor of J. W. Kennedy of Mansfield, grand counselor of Ohio.

The affair opened with a dinner, and was followed with the initiation of a class of 16 candidates.

Attending the meeting were three officials of the supreme office, Fred Stratman of Columbus, business manager of claims; Al Franklin, supreme secretary; and Charles McAulif of Cleveland, grand treasurer. Howard Greenwalt, Canton, and Ed Huggins, Marion, past grand counselors, also spoke.

C. J. Pittinger of Mansfield, district director of team work, presided during the meeting, and Harvey Horn acted as toastmaster at the dinner.

Arrangements for the dinner were in charge of Mrs J W. Kennedy, Mrs. Roy Weber, Mrs. Earl Myers, Mrs C. G. Aungst, and Mrs. Ivan Flook.

Week-End Toll In State Hits 15; Only 4 Injured In Mansfield Area.

nue yesterday, Jack Welch, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs R J. Welch, 241 Vennum avenue, a passenger, received minor injuries. He was treated at a physician's office.

Throughout the nation, 18 persons were killed in three spectacular crashes in each of which the toll was six lives. In New York state alone 21 fatalities were recorded.

A grade crossing crash at Adairsville, Ga., brought death to six members of a single family. Six persons died when a sedan and truck collided head-on near Rhineback, N. Y. Six boys and girls from 10 to 19 years old were killed when the car in which they were riding skidded to a halt in the path of a passenger train at Knox City, Mo.

The National Safety council reported traffic deaths for the nation during the first nine months of 1937 totaled 28,140. In that period the toll in New York state was 1,863, an 18 per cent rise over last year.

In Ohio, three members of one family were killed last night in an auto-truck collision near Norwalk, boosting the state's week-end toll to 15. They were Walter Didelius, 51, his daughter, Hilda, 20, and his son, Richard, 15, who, police said, was driving the automobile.

An auto crushed Charles Bobenberger, 64, against a building in akron when it failed to make a turn and plunged over the curb

In one of the other accidents in Ohio, Donald Ray Perry, 19, Cleveland, Oberlin college student, was fatally injured when an automobile struck the bicycle he was riding at Oberlin.

SECOND TRIAL OF SUIT OPENS

Crawford Judge Hears $5,000 Damage Case Filed By Lexington Woman.

With Judge C. U. Ahl of Crawford county on the bench, the second trial of a $5,329 damage suit brought against M. L. Eckman, of Lynn, Mass., by Miss Ruth Schaaf of Lexington opened this morning in common pleas court.

Miss Schaaf was awarded a jury verdict for $1,300 in July, 1936, but the defendant won a new trial three months later.

The plaintiff charges in her action that Eckman lost control of his car in which Miss Schaaf was a passenger when he took his hands from the steering wheel and attempted to draw her over to him.

The accident occurred near Lexington in July, 1935, and resulted in the loss of several teeth by Miss Schaaf and injuries to her face. Eckman's car struck the end of a bridge.

Atty Joseph A. Bayer represents the plaintiff and the defense attorneys are Weldon and Huston, Mansfield, and Thompson, Hine and Flory of Cleveland.

MRS. HAHN HELD GUILTY, MUST DIE IN CHAIR

Orders 3 Verdicts.

Judge Charles S. Bell offered a choice of three verdicts: conviction without recommendation, calling for electrocution; conviction with mercy recommended, making life imprisonement mandatory; and acquittal.

Joseph H. Hoodin, chief defense counsel, sought unsuccessfully to have the court's instructions include a second degree murder verdict. Judge Bell commented:

"She either administered poison or she did not."

Judge Bell instructed the jury that state's evidence, offered to show Albert Palmer, 72, George Obendoerfer, 67, and George Gsellman, died of poison at Mrs. Hahn's hands, could be considered only to "prove the defendant's motive" or a "scheme or plan" employed by the woman.

The courtroom was packed as the case came to its climax, front seats being occupied chiefly by fashionably dressed women.

The jury received the case at 9:10 p. m. (EST) but was recalled to the courtroom an hour later. Under the close watch of bailiffs and uniformed county police, the 12 marched arm in arm to their hotel. John Granda, lone male juror, was flanked by two elderly housewives.

Mrs. Hahn, blond and Bavarian-born, was arrested Aug. 10 for questioning in connection with Colorado warrants charging the theft and pawning of diamond rings, the property of a Colorado Springs hotel-keeper.

Her arrest disclosed that she had accompanied George Obendoerfer, 67-year-old old cobbler of small means, to the resort city and that he died there, Aug. 1. She testified that she had known him only four days when they left Cincinnati in late July, although earlier she told police she met him "by chance" on the train enroute from Chicago.

Several Colorado witnesses testified for the state.

—Mrs. Hahn was indicted a week after her arrest, on charges of murder-by-poison in the deaths of Wagner and George Gsellman. Gsellman, a 67-year-old resident of Cincinnati's "over-the-Rhine German quarter, was found dead in bed on the morning of July 6.

"This is one case I'm going to beat," she remarked.

3 Bodies Exhumed.

Within a month, the bodies of three old men were dug from their graves to be analyzed for poison. Obendoerfer's viscera was taken to a Colorado Springs chemist. Poison was reported found.

A fifth character, pictured by prosecutor Dudley Miller Outcalt as "Mrs. Hahn's only living witness to her plot to slay for gain," entered the picture, with a story to Outcalt that he had become crippled permanently during an association with the woman, to whom he said he had loaned $2,000.

He was George Heis, 62-year-old former coal dealer in the Hahn neighborhood.

Heis was wheeled into the courtroom during the second week of testimony. From his improvised "witness stand," he extended crippled hands and recalled he had stretched them once before to Mrs. Hahn with the accusation "you did this to me."

Two weeks before, Outcalt had ordered the body of Wagner exhumed for chemical analysis. In quick succession, Gsellman's body and that of 72-year-old Albert Palmer—who Mrs. Hahn said she met in a hook-making establishment—were dug up. Palmer died March 26.

96 Testify For State.

Outcalt summoned 96 witnesses in support of his contention that "this woman killed so many people there isn't another human being like her on the face of the earth."

The defense relied upon only three—Mrs. Hahn, her 12-year-old son, Oscar, and Dr. William McNally, Chicago toxicolgist.

Mrs. Hahn, following her son to the stand, denied "ever giving poison to anyone."

DINOSAUR CLUE

Pre-Historic Animal's Step In Bog Leads To Discovery.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Eighty million years ago a dinosaur stepped in a peat bog in what is now Colorado, leaving for science the first accurate stride measurements of the pre-historic behemoth.

That stride, said Dr. Barnum Brown of the American Museum of natural history, was 15 feet, indicating the animal was 35 feet tall.

Dr. Brown, returning today from the west after his most successful season in 40 years, said the three-toed creature had 34-inch paws.

SEVEN HURT AS CAR OVERTURNS

Wittenberg Students Victims of Traffic Accident Near Hayesville.

Seven Wittenberg college students were injured, one seriously, when the car in which they were riding turned over on route 30 south of Hayesville at 5:30 p. m. Friday.

Two of the students are confined to General hospital where their condition this morning was reported as good. Those in the hospital are Miss Helen Trezlow, 17, of Bedford, suffering with head injuries and possible concussion, and Michael Ondov, 24, of Lakewood, suffering with a fractured back. Miss Trezlow was expected to be released from the hospital today.

Others injured in the accident and treated at the hospital for their injuries were Robert Angus, 19, of Cleveland, who suffered cuts about the right eye and on both knees; Gordon Slusser, 19, of Van Wert, fractured collarbone; Gaylord Gourley, 23, Youngstown, right elbow injuries; Richard Brandt, 22, Cleveland, possible back injuries, and Ted Benko, 19, of Cleveland, driver of the car, who suffered lacerations about the face and right hand.

Benko told State Highway Patrolman R. L. Doebel that the right front wheel struck a stone, causing the car to turn over several times, demolishing the machine.

The students were returning to their homes for the week-end when the accident occurred.

70 Attend Program, Supper In Auditorium of Building.

A "Dads' Night" program was held last night at Bushnell school with more than 70 fathers attending.

A covered dish dinner was served at 6 p. m., and was followed by a program in the school auditorium. Speaker on the program was H. W. Arlin, a member of the board of education, who showed motion pictures and told of his trip through Europe during the past summer.

Other features on the program were the John Simpson Junior high school trio, composed of Joseph and Frank Pival, and Ann Jeanette Klinger, pian selections by Maryellen Hoopes, and a playlet by pupils of the sixth grade. Mrs. J. W. Waddell and Mrs. Guy Ferguson were in charge of the program.

LOYALISTS BOMB FASCIST LINES

40 Planes Swoop Down On Heart of Insurgent Offensive.

HENDAYE, FRANCO-SPANISH FRONTIER —(AP)— Forty fast warplanes were reported today to have struck at Zaragoza, the heart of the insurgent offensive in northeastern Spain.

Government reports said bombs caused terrific explosions and fires and had crashed into a large munitions depot at Zaragoza, headquarters of the insurgent forces now strategically massed to smash into government Spain.

In yesterday's aerial combat insurgents raided supply stations at Barbastro, a key government defense position, east of the insurgent headquarters, and the Catalan village of San Felix De Guixolos.

CHECKS BOUNCE

So County Treasury Has To Pay $1,000 In Tax Accounts.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Examiner Fred C. Stiles reported to the state inspection bureau today a deficit of $1,387 in the accounts of Hammond Barton, treasurer of Washington county, all of which has been paid.

Most of the deficit had been caused, the examiner said, by Barton accepting checks in payment for taxes and holding them until the taxpayers could make them good. Some of the checks, however, never were made good.

STRIKERS CLASH

Several Shaken Up In N. Y. Milk Dispute Disorders.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y.—(AP)—At least one man was injured and several others were shaken and bruised today when milk strike sympathizers, state police and St. Lawrence county deputies clashed over the delivery of milk into the Dairyman's league plant at nearby Huevelton.

MART LEADERS TILT BACKWARD IN EARLY HOURS

Analysts Hunting New Signs of Definite Turn In Recent Price Collapse.

Reports from automotive centers indicated that, while no general price cuts were likely on new models because of consumer resistance, some thought was being given to a readjustment of trade-in values to offset increases announced in the fall.

Production schedules of farm implement makers were said to have been stepped up due to the fact the slump in steel mill operations enables manufacturers to get prompter delivery on requirements. Demand for smaller tractors and tools was understood to be currently at a high level.

DEMAND HUGE REVENUE BOOST

Railroads Point to Need for $508,000,000 Income Increase.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Executives of the nation's class one railroad told the interstate commerce commission today their lines need $508,000,000 more income to meet increased payrolls, taxes and supplies.

The margin between income and operating expenses has been squeezed so thin, they said in a petition to boost freight rates and passenger fares, that rail systems face a crisis.

They asked for a flat increase of 15 per cent of freight rates and an increase in passenger fares in eastern territory from 2 to 2½ cents a mile.

HOLD WOMAN, 66, IN DOPE RING

CLEVELAND —(AP)— A narcotic ring operating extensively in three states was believed crushed today with the arrests of a 66-year-old woman, her son, and her brother.

Michael R. Collegeman, chief federal narcotic agent in this district, said investigations disclosed that the trio arreste din a raid last night had conducted operations in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. He estimated the ring had averaged $100,000 annually in narcotic sales.

RECORD CARGO

Lake Freighter Carries 17,566 Tons To Best Previous Mark.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Harry Coulby, flagship of the Interlake fleet, today flew the pennant for the largest cargo ever transported on the Great Lakes.

The Coulby, operated by the Pickands Mather company of Cleveland, carried 17,566 net tons of ore from Allouez, Wis., to Indiana Harbor, Ind. The previous record was held by the LeMoyne, of the Canadian Steamship lines, with 17,156 tons of wheat.

TALKS TO KING, DELAYS VISIT

seeme dto have no idea what his next move would be to occupy his restless mind. But they said he had abandoned any idea of an early visit to the United States; that his decision was actually not a postponement but an abandonment.

This, however, was the first reaction and the feeling presisted that later the duke again—in entirely different circumstances—would go through with his idea of, taking his American born duchess back to the United States, to remain for several months. It and when he went, it was believed, it would be when he was assured that he would be welcome and would not be involved in political disputes.

All day yesterday the duke reading cablegrams and listening to telephone calls about the criticism roused in the United States over sponsorship of his intended visit by the industrial engineer, Charles E. Bedaux, stuck to his plans for his tour. As late as 8:40 last night, a spokesman took occasion to repeat he intended to go. Then 90 minutes later, in the Duke's suite at the Hote Meurice, the postponement of his visit was announced:

"It is announced tonight on behalf of the Duke of Windson that he has decided to postpone his visit to America.

"His royal highness arrived at this dicision with great reluctance and after much deliberation, but he feels that owing to the grave mis-conceptions which have arisen and the mis-statements which appeared regarding the motives and purposes of his industrial tour there is no alternative but to defer it for the present.

"The duke emphatically repeats that there is no shadow of justification for any suggestion that he is allied in any industrial system or that he is for or against any political or racial doctrine. He expresses earnest hope that after this announcement his real and sincere motive for his proposed visit to America will be properly understood.

"His Royal Highness will personally convey his thanks to those industrial companies who so generously extended invitations to him and to all who have assisted in arrangements."

It was noted that the duke made no reference at all to the duchess, and that he left open the way for a visit in future.

It was understood that after the announcement, the duke cabled regrets to President Roosevelt and expressed hope he might be able to visit the United States in future.

CITIES TO SHOW REVENUE NEEDS

Tax Commission Calls Meeting to Get Relief Picture.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Representatives of the state's larger municipalities will be called to Columbus next Saturday to present before the special taxation commission their financial needs, especially with regard to relief.

The commission, in reaching the decision at a meeting yesterday, decided, however, to concentrate on a permanent taxation program and not to become involved in emergency financing.

Because of a variance in claims by the state tax commission and the department of education, the commission decided to ascertain the true financial condition of the foundation school program.

AFTER RECORD

Eyston Attempts To Shatter Speeds Marks Again Today.

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah—(AP)—Capt. George E. T. Eyston roared Thunderbolt, world's fastest automobile, out into the desert today for an attempt on the measured mile speed record.

"It may take a little while to get the Thunderbolt in running condition again after its repairs," Eyston said, "but I hope to get the record attempt out of the way today."

He did not set a time for the run.

SPEEDS WORK ON TAX BILL

County Installs Addressograph System For Use of Auditor and Treasurer.

An addressograph system which had been placed in operation today at the courthouse is expected to put the semi-annual tax collection periods back on schedule by speeding up the handling of tax duplicates, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said.

Installed in a room off the second floor landing, the equipment will be used jointly by the auditor and treasurer. In includes two machines for making metal address plates and an addressograph which utilizes the plates for printing addresses on cards, statements, and receipts.

Wolfe said the equipment, which gives the county one of the most modern systems of its kind in the state, will facilitate the making up of tax duplicates and enable the treasurer to open the tax books at the scheduled time. In recent years the collection periods have been running from a month to six weeks late.

It will require nearly six months to make up individual plates for each of the 35,000 parcels of property in the county and their owners, Wolfe said.

The equipment, purchased from the Addressograph-Multigraph corporation at Cleveland, cost $4,000 and will be paid for in monthly installments over a period of a year.

POOR RELIEF BUDGET CHIEF LEGISLATION

Governor Says He'll Insist on Fund Matching to Meet Cost of Needy Aid.

SEEKS TWO AMENDMENTS

Wants Majority Vote to Pass Tax Levies, Provisotns to Use Surplus Funds.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. Martin L. Davey said today he would call the legislature into special session beginning Nov. 29 to enact a poor relief program and a deficiency appropriation.

At the same time, the governor listed what he called "certain principles to which we are definitely committed" on the relief problem:

Insists on Matching.

1. Insistence that local communities match, dollar for dollar, state appropriations for relief.

2. Permitting local communities to make special tax levies for poor relief on a majority vote instead of the 65 per cent favorable vote now required.

3. Amend the law to permit municipalities to use present surplus funds for poor relief.

4. Appropriate not more than $7,000,000 as the state's share.

5. Distribute state-collected tax revenues to cities and townships on the basis of their tax-duplicates, rather than population (this would give slightly more to the larger cities).

Meets With Mayors.

Governor Davey outlined his position a few hours before he was scheduled to confer with Mayors Harold Burton of Cleveland and Myron Gessman of Columbus on the relief situation in those cities.

"First in importance is the matching of state and city funds on a fifty-fifty basis," the executive said. "This was an essential part of our well-balanced program announced at the beginning of 1937, which was defeated by a combination of those who wanted the state to furnish everything and those who were opposed to the state's furnishing anything.

"As long as easy money flowed out of Columbus, there was absolutely no effort to eliminate waste and inefficiency."

How Bedaux Got Rich

And Why Labor Criticism Rose to Such Volume As To Bring Cancellation of Duke's U. S. Visit.

AKRON—It was in Akron that Charles E. Bedaux, the industrial engineer who was to guide the Duke and Duchess of Windsor through America, made his success. And it was in Akron that resentment against the dapper French-born "guide" of the duke smoldered deepest.

Although Akron regrets that the duke and the duchess cancelled their American trip, there is a sigh of relief. For if Bedaux had accompanied them through the rubber plants here, there might have been hisses for Bedaux. Unions have been bitterly outspoken against the Bedaux system—which is a means of speeding up production without the use of greater manpower.

Bedaux came to America recently, at the behest of the duke to arrange for the latter's American tour. But when the Baltimore Federation of Labor protested against "slumming parties" by the duke and duchess, who planned to study housing in the United States. The protest storm grew, but it was believed that most of the feeling was directed against Bedaux rather than against the former king and his wife.

Came to U. S. In 1908.

Bedaux, who rose to great wealth through the adoption of his system by American industrialists, came to the United States in 1908 from France.

The Akron Beacon Journal tells of his career from then on in these words:

While laboring in the tunnels under New York City as a "sand hog," digging skyscraper and subway foundations, Bedaux conceived the idea of selling to industrialists his formula, based on the "efficiency doctrines" expounded by the late Frederick W. Taylor just before the turn of the century.

Finds Test of Idea.

CHARLES F. BEDAUX

for experimenting with the nebulous plan that was to make him a multi-millionaire before he reached the age of 50.

His first opportunity for giving his formula practical tests came after he obtained a new job with the Mallinckrodt Chemical works. He persuaded the bosses to give him a chance to try out the plan in a single department. It worked.

He ironed out a few wrinkles and sold the plan to a manufacturer of spectacle frames who was being forced to the wall by competition from competitors able to undersell him. Bedaux saved the business with his scheme for cutting costs and increasing output.

One of the industrial giants began to take notice of him. General Electric company offered to buy his system, but the shrewd little Frenchman saw a veritable gold mine in his brain child. He

BIGGEST 'ARMY' TO WAGE DRIVE OF RED CROSS

DINNER WEDNESDAY NIGHT

State Chairman and National Official to Address Volunteers.

The 21st annual Roll Call of the Richland County Chapter of the Red Cross will be opened officially Thursday morning with the largest army of volunteer workers ever to rally to a drive in the county.

More than 500 volunteer workers in Mansfield, Shelby and the county will swing into action in an effort to keep the county ahead of all other chapters in Ohio—a place it has held for the past three years.

Dinner at Westinghouse.

The annual opening dinner, which the workers finance themselves, will be held Wednesday night at the new Westinghouse cafeteria in the East Fourth street plant. Roll Call heads, precinct officers and workers will receive their supplies at the dinner and hear last minute instructions.

Two speakers, prominent in state and national Red Cross work, will address the group. Judge Henry J. Robinson, state Roll Call chairman, will talk on what the Red Cross means to the nation and the individual.

Everett Dix, assistant manager of the Eastern area of American Red Cross, will be the other speaker.

Locke to Instruct Workers.

W. L. Miller, vice chairman of this year's Roll Call, will preside at the dinner. Last minute instructions to precinct workers will be given by General Chairman W. J. Locke.

The membership drive throughout the city and county, with the exception of Shelby, will be directed from Mansfield, with Mrs. John Pierce in charge of city workers, and Atty. Harold D. Burns, directing county work. Mrs. B. B. Brown, Shelby, is general chairman of the Shelby drive, which is staged separately and the funds turned over to the county chapter.

A Roll Call office has been set up on the 11th floor of the Farmers Bank building, and will be in charge of Mrs George L. Draffan. The telephone number is Canal 1867. All precinct chairmen will report to this office Locke said.

Other divisional chairmen for the drive are Fred L. Tracy, industrial plants; R. M. Calene, foreign corporations; Rev. Hayes M Braker, speakers committee, and John H. Finefrock, publicity Harry S Black is chairman of the advisory committee, and Roy R. Spetka is chapter chairman.

New York's New Drive Speeds Traffic

New York's newest addition to its west side waterfront development along the Hudson river now is open to traffic. This newest section is a five-and-one-half-mile stretch from West 72nd street north to the George Washington bridge at 179th street. The new highway is an extension from 72nd street of the west side elevated highway from the southern part of Manhattan. Within two months another stretch will be completed in the $24,000,000 improvement, extending the new drive to the Henry Hudson Parkway, at the northern end of Manhattan Island. Photos show a view of traffic circle at 79th street and beginning of new section at 77nd street. A 250-car garage is situated beneath the traffic circle.

SEE CHINESE LOSING GRIP ON CITY SOON

Japanese Officer Predicting Foes Will Be Isolated By Tomorrow Night.

CROSSING WHANGPOO

SHANGHAI—(UP)—Japanese troops fought their way across the Whangpoo river 17 miles south of Shanghai today and Gen. Iwane Matsui, Japanese army commander in chief, predicted his men would isolate the Chinese from Shanghai by tomorrow night.

Reports indicated that losses on both sides were large. The Japanese had to fight their way across the Whangpoo in the face of a devastating machine gun fire. The point at which they crossed is about six miles east of Sunkiang, where the river is 200 feet wide and the current is swift. While Chinese machine gunners raked the Japanese with their fire, Japanese airplanes bombed Chinese reinforcements hurrying southward from Shanghai.

Foil Troop Landings.

Japanese failed, according to Chinese spokesmen, in three efforts to land men on the Whangpoo immediately below Shanghai, in an effort to co-operate in a flanking attack on the Pootung section.

Pootung is the Chinese-controlled part of Shanghai across the river from the international settlement. Though Chinese denied it, Japanese reported that Chinese troops were [illegible] Pootung, and to bear out this assertion, junks and sampans crossed and recrossed the river today bringing Chinese civilians with their possessions from Pootung to the settlement side.

Foreign naval commanders met yesterday aboard the United States cruiser Augusta, flagship of Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, the American commander in chief, and it was believed they discussed the new dangers to foreigners threatened by the incursion of refugees.

Resume Air Raids.

Japanese airplanes, with the return of good weather this morning, went out in great fleets to bomb the Chinese south and west of the city. The Japanese advanced further southward on the west side of the city, down from Soochow creek. Chinese blew up a big railroad bridge about 4,000 yards south of the creek—an indication to foreign military experts that they were withdrawing for some distance.

Japanese spokesmen asserted belief that the Chinese resistance on the west side of the city was weakening and might collapse at any time.

An Oddity In Crime

BALTIMORE — (AP) — The week's best crime oddity:

The burgled burglar reported someone had entered his home and stolen his overcoat. Police said they would pursue the matter, then held him on a charge of robbing a tavern.

Shelby's Joe Mott Renews Invitation To Rabbit Hunters

If they don't bag enough rabbits, Mott said, they can fire away at his chickens. And if they get hungry—well, Mrs. Mott will be on hand with a heaping table of roast pork sandwich slabs and a bucket of coffee.

"Invitation to hunters! Hunting is allowed on my farm southeast of Shelby. There are plenty of rabbits and pheasants and no danger of hog cholera.

"If you don't get the limit of rabbits, shoot a couple of my chickens to make up the number you lack. If you get hungry while hunting on my farm, come up to the house for a handout."

Mott used to be a steel worker in Shelby. He loved to hunt but, "I bumped into so dang many of those 'no hunting' signs that I 'lowed if I ever had a farm of my own, all hunters would be welcome."

TOLEDO—(AP)—Joseph Kovats, 27, was sentenced to one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary by Judge John M. McCabe in common pleas court today, on charges of second degree manslaughter in connection with the traffic death of Charles Robarge, 60, May 29.

U. S. REACTION ON DUKE VARIED

Papers Criticise American Manners, Others Indicate 'It's Just as Well.'

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—American reaction to the Duke of Windsor's cancellation of plans for an industrial tour of the United States this month varied today from expression of the belief that "it's just as well" to criticism of American manners.

Most commentators agreed that the Duke's selection of Charles E. Bedaux, American engineer who invented an industrial speed-up system, as his guide and adviser was unfortunate. Almost all of them looked upon the Duke as a pathetic figure who can be neither a king nor a private citizen.

The American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic thanked the Baltimore Federation of Labor for "calling the national attention to the basic facts of American life" in its criticism of the Duke's proposed visit under the direction of Bedaux.

LONDON — (AP) — Charles Bedaux, millionaire industrialist and key figure in the controversy which led to the postponement of the American visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, resigned today from the board of directors of British Bedaux, Ltd., consulting industrial engineers.

The announcement of his resignation merely said it would in no way affect the management of the company.

SPOILS HOLIDAY

Illness of Dowager Queen Saddens Rumanians.

BUCHAREST—(AP)—Illness of Dowager Queen Marie dampened enthusiasm today for what otherwise would have been a joyous occasion, the celebration of Prince Mihai's name day.

The 61-year-old queen suffered a recurrence of internal hemorrhage which she had experienced last March Pending a consultation of eight specialists, there was no official report on the seriousness of her condition.

Concern was felt in official circles, but plans for a parade in honor of Prince Mihai were not changed. King Carol cancelled a hunting excursion and th queen's daughter, Queen Marie of Yugoslavia was summoned to the castle.

Supreme Court Rules Out New Challenge on Black

Florida Oil Companies Lose Appeal to Have Action Reconsidered on Charge Justice Was Ineligible.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Three Florida oil companies lost in the supreme court today in their effort to obtain reconsideration of recent action on the ground that Justice Hugo L. Black was ineligible to sit on the bench.

The court gave no explanation of its refusal to grant reconsideration. That was in line with regular procedure in such action.

The announcement was made after Black had read one opinion which he had written, dissented to another and voted against the government in a third case.

Fought Subpoenas.

The Florida companies sought reconsideration of the court's refusal on Oct. 18 to interfere with attempts by the security commission to subpoena telegrams sent and received by the companies.

Not only was the constitutionality of Black's appointment challenged, but the petition contended the court's action on the litigation was "invalid, ineffectual, null and void" because the new justice "could not sit in judgment . . . as an unbiased, unprejudiced, fair and impartial judge."

The three concerns were the Ryan Florida corporation of Tampa, Income Royalties company of St. Petersburg and Florida Tex Oil company of St. Petersburg. They asked the court to consider their petition in the absence of Black.

The petitioners contended Black's appointment was not valid because the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter did not create a vacancy on the court and also because Black had been a member of the senate which increased the "emoluments" of justices in the retirement act.

RAIN FALLS, SO DOES MERCURY

Indian Summer Weather At End; Tuesday To Be Colder.

Rain came today, ending two days of Indian summer weather for Mansfield. The temperature dropped four degrees between 11 a. m. and noon, and tomorrow is scheduled to be "fair and colder," the forecast said.

The mercury reached a high of 67 yesterday, Observer Otto Sprunger reported, and the average was 54, which is 13 degrees above normal. Saturday was nearly as warm. At 11 a. m. today the mercury stood at 61, but at noon it was down to 57.

Tangles In Pillow When Left Alone In Automobile.

Left alone in an automobile in Mansfield Saturday night by its parents, Shirley Annette Hershner, 3-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs Donald Hershner, Johnsville, strangled to death when it became entangled in a pillow on which it was resting

According to the account of the incident given by the parents to a Mt Gilead undertaker, they had left the child alone in the car for only a few minutes. When they returned, they found the child unconscious.

They rushed to a doctor's office, but learned the doctor was at the hospital, so went there, but the child was found to be dead on arrival.

Dr. Hugh C Winbigler gave a verdict of "accidental suffocation"

Surviving besides the parents are a 3-year-old sister, Alma Jean, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reed of Fredericktown, and Mr. and Mrs Frank Hershner of Johnsville. Funeral services will be held at 2 p m Tuesday at the home of its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hershner, in Johnsville Burial will be in the Shauck cemetery.

TRAFFIC KILLS 181 IN NATION

Week-End Toll In State Hits 15; Only 4 Injured In Mansfield Area.

Sudden death—which claimed the lives of 181 persons in highway accidents throughout the nation over the week-end and left a toll of 15 fatalities in the state, took a holiday in the Mansfield area. Only four persons were reported injured in and near the city.

At Bucyrus late Saturday, two men were taken to the hospital after the automobile in which they were riding struck a culvert on route 4 south of the city and turned over several times

Fred Duve, 22, Newark, sustained a possible fracture of the right shoulder and lacerations of the left hand, while Rufus Casper, 20, of Utica, suffered a fractured vertebrae.

The two men, who have been working in Bucyrus as linemen for several months, were returning to the city with Ralph Joliff, driver of the car, who was injured in the crash.

Leo John Sheets, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C M. Sheets, 66 Tracy street, was treated at General hospital Saturday afternoon for minor cuts and bruises. Police said he ran into the side of an auto driven by Ivan A. Eichert, Tiffin, on Springmill street near Burns street. The boy was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist. Eichert was not held by police.

When two cars, operated by F. H. Leavitt, 199 Vennum avenue and W. Sommers, R. D. 3, Mansfield collided at the intersection of West First and Sturges ave-

Britain Wants Compensation For Sinking of Steamer.

LONDON —(U.P.)— Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told a questioner in the house of commons today that Britain expected compensation from the Spanish insurgents for the recent sinking of the British steamer Jean Weems.

Eden said the insurgents admitted that one of their planes sang the ship and had undertaken to express official regret and instruct their forces to avoid further incidents. They have agreed, he added, to abide by the results of arbitration to fix liability and compensation.

Eden said he would go to Brussels tomorrow for resumption of the meeting of the nine-power conference on the Orient.

Police Look For Record Crowd At Fourth Annual Ball Tonight

Mansfield police will open the doors of the Coliseum tonight for their fourth annual police ball which is expected to attract the largest crowd in the history of the event.

While advance sales indicate a record attendance, there will be a supply of tickets on hand at the Coliseum for last-minute purchasers, police said.

The night's festivities are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m., with Eugene Smart's 35-piece accordion band, the Accordionettes, entertaining. The grand march, headed by Chief Meade K. Bates and other members of the department, will get under way at 9 p. m. An hour later a five-act floor show will be presented.

Clyde Trask and his orchestra will play for dancing until 1 a. m. Trask and his band, which first appeared in Mansfield several weeks ago, appear regularly over station WLW, Cincinnati, and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Proceeds of the ball, sponsored by the police recreation club, will be used to purchase equipment for the newly created identification bureau and ammunition for target practice.

One-Vote Ties Ruled Out, 3 Township Offices Held Vacant

Jackson and Mifflin townships are going to have to get along without a justice of peace and constable, the board of elections had decided today.

Nine write-in candidates for the two offices in Jackson township and for constable in Mifflin township received one vote each at last Tuesday's election and there was an indication that it might require some coin-flipping to decide the winners.

The election board discovered, however, that a candidate must poll at least eight per cent of the vote in his precinct to be eligible for an office even in the event he is declared winner by the board.

There were no candidates for any of the three offices in the two townships because the majority of justice court cases are heard in municipal court at Mansfield, George C. Balliet, chairman of the election board, said.

The votes cast included one each for W. W. Moorhead, James Holtz and C. L. Kilgore for justice of peace in Jackson township, and one each for Homer Imhoff and O. W. Kuhn for constable in the same township.

Four write-in candidates were tied with one vote each for constable in Mifflin township. They were C. C. Cole., Roy Kohl, H. Koogle and Waldo Hale.

CITES SHIFT IN TAX BURDEN TO OTHER SOURCES

Deputy Auditor Says Revenue From Real Estate Only Third of Amount 10 Years Ago.

Completing the distribution of $572,852 in second half real estate tax funds, Deputy County Auditor Arthur S. Beck today pointed out that the amount, little more than one-third of the second half settlement just 10 years ago, reflects the shift of the tax burden from real estate to other property.

The condition, he said, is largely responsible for the financial difficulties of the Mansfield municipal government and the city schools.

Two 10 per cent cuts have been made in real estate valuations in the past six years, one in 1931 and the other two years later and the cuts, coupled with the reduction in the rate from 15 to 10 mills, have outweighed the tax income from new sources, Beck said.

Chief among the new sources of income for the county and its subdivisions are the sales tax, increased auto license tax, the levy on liquor sales and the federal funds under the social security act.

Auto registration fees received by Richland county amount to $215,000 per year, with the sales tax adding $135,000 and the liquor levies $30,000 to that amount, Beck explained.

Comparative figures show, that approximately $3,000,000 was collected in real estate taxes on a county duplicate of $138,000,000 in 1926 against about $1,400,000 on an $80,000,000 duplicate this year.

In the current settlement funds were distributed on the following basis:

County, $92,360; Mansfield, $129,175; Mansfield schools, $176,227; Shelby city, $12,985, Shelby schools, $19,140; county schools, $98,658; townships, $41,630; villages, $138,867, and the state, $3,152.

The amount paid to the state treasurer includes $2,421 in inheritance taxes, and $594 for the county's share to the bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices.

Kansan Seeking School Dancing In Curriculum

TOPEKA, Kas.—(U.P.)—The art of dancing, which once was banned from Kansas schools as sinful, is back in such favor that State Sen. Payne H Ratner of Parsons wants it recognized as an important part of the curriculum.

Ratner's efforts are being made as part of a campaign to exempt extra-curricular activities from the state's sales tax. Ratner argued before the ansas supreme court that a youth must learn to dance to boast of an education.

The state senator seeks the exemption of student dance tickets from the sales tax and also wants football game tickets similarly exempted. The Holton, Kas., school board has refused to pay the tax on its school events and the state tax commission has begun mandamus proceedings to force payment.

"The boy or girl who isn't educated in dancing goes into the world under a great handicap," Ratner said, "and may not be able to hold his own with the youngsters of other states"

At one time in Kansas when Miss Lorraine Elizabeth Wooster was state school superintendent, a campaign to eliminate dancing from school buildings was conducted.

SAFETY LEGIONS AID CLEVELAND

Citizens Mobilize to Fight Traffic Accidents; Deaths on Increase.

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—Two hundred fifty prominent citizens have been mobilized on a "near wartime basis" in this city of a million to battle traffic fatalities.

The 250 who will fight for safety on the streets are representatives of the city, of motor and advertising agencies, of moving picture and church groups, and of safety agencies.

Their weapon will be, for the most part, the printed word.

The action was started in an emergency meeting called by Mayor Harold H. Burton, who warned that a rising traffic toll to the end of the year was in prospect.

Safety Director Eliot Ness pointed out that unless the present rate is checked, traffic deaths will reach a total of 247 for the year, 30 above that of 1936.

With every gasoline purchase, motorists will be handed colored cards, which will be altered in color and text to meet changing weather conditions, according to John Young, managing director of the Cleveland Auto Club.

The first cards issued will bear the admonition: "Warning to motorists: The city administration is determined to reduce the appalling number of accidents occurring on Cleveland streets." They also will warn that "all traffic laws and regulations are being strictly enforced."

KILLED BY CONVEYOR BELT

Rev. T. R. Buzzard, above, evangelist and pastor of the United Brethren church at Magnolia, O., will begin a series of revival services tonight at the First United Brethren church. Rev. Buzzard will be assisted by Mrs. Buzzard. Both are musicians and play the guitar, marimba, and saxophone.

DOGS PLAY CRICKET

SYDNEY—(U.P.)—Cricket matches wth 10 Alsation dogs in the field are played regularly here. The dogs, which have been trained by two constables, rarely miss a catch or fail to stop a ball. Three of the dogs are excellent wicket-keepers.

JURIES EASY ON LIQUOR CASES

Texas Officer Says Convictions at Premium in State.

AUSTIN, Tex.—(A.P.)—Bert Ford, state liquor control administrator, says he is convinced there is small possibility of obtaining a liquor law conviction anywhere in Texas.

He was advised recently that a Galveston jury had found a person guilty on an "open saloon" charge and fined him $100.

"So far as we know," the official said, "no other jury in Galveston had convicted a liquor law violator in state court before, during, or since prohibition."

CAVERN VISITORS INCREASE

CARLSBAD, N. M.—(U.P.)—A greater number of persons, representing the United States and 20 territories and foreign countries, visited the Carlsbad Caverns National park during the first eight months of this year than for all of 1936, the previous high mark, the National Park service announced.

SENDS SINGERS

County to Be Represented In Ohio Far mBureau Chorus.

A number of singers from Richland county will appear in an all-Ohio farm bureau chorus at the bureau's state convention in Columbus Nov. 18 and 19, according to H. E. Miller of the county farm bureau.

The chorus of 500 voices will be made up of small balanced choral groups from every section of Ohio and will be under the direction of Albert H. Heinz, prominent Columbus chorus leader. The meetings will be in the Columbus auditorium.

Miller, who is in charge of registrations for the chorus in this county, asked that those interested in the chorus notify him at the farm bureau office on East Third street.

THE STATE vs. ELNA JEPSON

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

(Copyright 1937)

CHAPTER IX

"I didn't know you had one," Elna said lightly. "But naturally I should be charmed to meet her."

Why had he never told her that he was married? It was none of her business, of course. Why was he telling her now? The words stormed in her ears.

"On the other hand, why should I be asked to meet Mrs Ainsworth? Why should she wish to meet me? I'm only an obscure laboratory technician you know," she said

"I prefer you to form your own judgment of her," Roger answered. "I found out that you belong to the same sorority, in different years and chapters, naturally. I told her that you were a client of mine. She likes celebrities, even by descent. You will hear from her. She's giving a bridge tea on Saturday. You will be invited. Will you go?" The last words were neither question, request nor command. They were pleading.

Elna steadied the rocking world. "Certainly. That is, if I can make it, and if she asks me." What was this fencing? "It can't possibly matter a great deal to you, one way or the other," she added.

"It matters to me a great deal." Roger was on his feet, his hand extended. "I have a reason for wanting to know what you think of her."

"Then at least, out of gratitude, I can do no less than to accept your family's kind invitation, if I receive it."

Roger's hand gripped hers. "You are a haven," he said again from the doorway. Elna noticed the slight change in phraseology She waved him good night, then returned to the fire and drank three cups of black coffee, by this time cold.

"It does not matter," she whispered over and over, "Why should it?" Suddenly she added aloud to the empty room: "Yes, it matters, and who am I to do anything about it?"

* * *

Elna, clad in a long white apron, was measuring the fluid in a graduate against the light when the call came.

"Mrs Roger Ainsworth," holding out the receiver. Elna found her teeth biting into her lower lip.

"Oh yes, Miss Jepson!" The answering voice tinkled metallic with artificial cordiality. "I hope you'll pardon the informality, but my husband has told me so much about you, I really feel that I know you already."

"Thank you, Mrs. Ainsworth." Both words and tone were noncommittal "Your husband is attorney for my father's estate. His father and my father were old friends"

"But, you see, Roger forgot to tell me your new address and telephone number. I hope I'm not bothering you at your work?"

"Not at all" Elna reached around with her free arm, turned off a gas jet. It would take her two hours overtime to repeat that particular experiment. "And now that we are introduced?"

She sighed with relief Roger had not given away her "haven." Had it been protection, was it caution, was it mere indifference? Or didn't it make any difference? That was the way her father would have looked at it.

"I wondered if you could possibly come to my house for a bridge tea next Saturday—very informal, just two tables, I made it Saturday on purpose, since I understand that you are pursuing a career."

Cat's claws, even over the telephone. Or was that unjust? Wait.

"I have a job, of course," Elna responded, proud of her casualness. "But that was thoughtful of you Yes, Saturday afternoon is free."

"Then you'll come?" The urgency of her tone far beyond the occasion, caught Elna's ears.

"I shall be delighted," she answered suavely.

"That's splendid! I can call for you at your home if you like."

Again suspicion leaped upward like a thin blue flame "Thanks. If you don't mind, I'll come straight from the university. I have my own car. What time, did you say?"

"Is two o'clock too early?"

"That's quite all right. I'll be there." With a vast sense of relief she clicked the receiver into place. She had done as Roger wished, she had held her own in the initial encounter. Only why did it seem an encounter—and why had Roger made a point of asking it of her? After all, she was probably making a fuss about nothing. A courteous gesture between attorney and client, that was all it amounted to. Curtis Graham, who made it rather a point to call for her and take her into the open on Saturday afternoons, would have to be put off. But—it must be done.

* * *

"How sweet of you to come, when you are so busy!"

Elna scarcely heard the words. She was searching the face of a thin, dark waspish woman whose defensiveness was as a visible armor.

"My husband's friend—and of course client . . . Daughter of what Time would call the 'late great' Oscar Jepson . . ." Introductions buzzed in her ears, every one of them barbed.

"I don't deserve all this." Elna answered lightly. "Hadn't we better say, 'just a poor working girl, trying to get along'?" Some one laughed as if she had said something clever. Then the tables formed.

The other women were all older than herself. They talked about daughters to Miss Blake's school, and how much it cost, and how the daughters of Miss Blake's were allowed to associate only with the sons sent to St Vincent's correlative finishing school for boys.

"But just what would happen if they all really did go to public school?" she ventured. "I did. I can't say it ruined me for life. I think it's fine if you're getting something better. Only, what is it?"

The question was lost in a stunned silence. Followed a babble of voices as the deal went round Foreigners—the people your child might meet—it mattered a great deal to have children meet the right people.

Elna felt a bit like a strange animal in a zoo. She concentrated on her cards. She held a succession of poor hands, but a bridge prize was faint among her ambitions.

"Too bad," her opponent said kindly, adding a rubber. "That puts you down ten dollars."

Elna's hands turned icy cold in her lap It was her first indication that money stakes were involved, and she did not have ten dollars in her purse. Never, never, never must Mrs. Roger Ainsworth find that out, adding it to her obviously calculated humiliation!

Too Ashamed of Her Skin to Go to Party

Skin blemishes are aggravated by constipation. Just as it can cause loss of appetite, nervousness, weakness.

Dr. F. M. Edwards treated hundreds of women for constipation and frequently noted remarkable improvement in their appearance. For his treatment he used a purely vegetable compound—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. This laxative is gentle, yet peculiarly effective because it increases the bile flow without shocking the intestinal system.

If you have a pale face, sallow skin, blemishes, all you may need is this mild aid in relieving constipation. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are on sale at all druggists, 15¢, 30¢ and 60¢.

WEEKLY BUSINESS SERVICE SECTION

WESTINGHOUSE INTRODUCES NEW HOME AIR CONDITIONING UNIT

Offering complete residential air conditioning for both summer and winter as packaged unit, Westinghouse is entering the huge home air conditioning market, according to P. Y. Danley, manager of Westinghouse's refrigeration and air conditioning department.

According to Danley, Westinghouse will concentrate on the market comprising new homes costing from $5,000 and up. Characterized as the simplest and most economical method of providing controlled all-year air conditioning, the new Westinghouse "packaged" unit employs a central system of matched units comprising a direct fired forced warm air furnace with filters, blower, and himidifier for winter conditioning and the Westinghouse seal-less condensing unit and cooling coil for summer and winter air conditioning comes "all in a single package" designed for efficiency as well as appearance.

Gas-fired furnaces are available in capacities from 100,000 to 270,000 BTU with matched equipment for summer conditioning. Smaller units of similar design ranging from 60,000 to 100,000 BTU will be available before 1938.

Oil-fired furnaces are available in capacities from 100,000 to 190,000 BTU and before 1938 smaller units ranging from 50,000 to 100,000 BTU will also be available.

The conditioning units have been styled as a piece of furniture in a special tan with brown trim to harmonize perfectly with the decorations and furnishings of the rumpus room or play room of the modern residence.

Westinghouse plans to sell these units as installed packages at the price of a good heating system and for the average house at a price not any greater than that of a medium price automobile.

Distribution activities for this home air conditioning equipment will be controlled from headquarters of the merchandising division of Westinghouse in Mansfield. Distribution will be through franchised dealers. Each authorized dealer will operate with sales, application and service departments, assuring the homeowner of Westinghouse supervised selling, installation and service. Although distribution will not officially begin until Jan. 1, there are available Westinghouse Home Air Conditioning units for display and demonstration and a number are being installed for home proving purposes.

Every house will be planned for Westinghouse year around air conditioning, and if only the winter conditioning is installed at first, provisions have been made in the design for the future addition of summer conditioning equipment with the least additional cost.

The sales and advertising headquarters for this new product will be located in Mansfield.

W. H. Stangle, nationally recognized authority on air conditioning, has been named to head up this new activity. Mr. Stangle has already established residence in Mansfield.

One of Folmer's Two Service Centers

NEW COURSE

O. S. U. to Offer Classes By Short Wave Radios.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Ohio State university is to inaugurate its first short-wave "radio classes" soon.

At present the students are logging foreign stations picked up by two powerful short-wave receivers. By June, 1938, it is hoped the wave bands of all principal foreign stations will have been recorded so that regular classes may begin.

Foreign governments are cooperating with Dr. Hendrix in developing special programs for study. On Nov. 21, the class will hear its first broadcast lesson from Station XECR in Mexico.

Questions on socialism will be discussed and answered in the broadcast. A musical program also will be heard.

WEAVES GLASS INTO NEW FABRIC

Ohio Firm Describes Product As Soft and Pliable As Cotton.

Glass cloth is being woven at Newark, O., after months of research in a large industrial laboratory. The threads in the cloth are so fine that 140,000 yards of thread weighs only a pound. It is described as being as soft and pliable as cotton.

MEN AND MACHINES

It requires 35 to 50 hours of labor for a farmer to harvest and thresh 15 bushels of wheat, if he harvests the crop with a sickle and threshes it with a flail. With a combined mechanical harvester-thresher, only 45 minutes of labor is required.

SEEK NEW PRODUCTS

American industry spends $750,000 each working day in research and employs 35,000 men and women, seeking new and better products which make for new and better jobs.

WRECKS PLANES AS BUSINESS

Coe, a former flyer, now heads a company whose business is salvage of airplanes which have cracked up.

"In two years we have moved 18 cracked-up planes," he says. "A crack-up is worth from $50 to $350, depending on size and condition of the plane."

Coe thinks his company started the airplane salvage business. In 18 months it has bought $12,000 worth of damaged planes and parts.

CONTENDS AUTO INSURANCE JUST AS IMPORTANT AS GOOD BRAKES

Automobile insurance is as important to the motorist as good brakes, Mrs. Mildred D. Perry, manager of the LeRoy Parsons Insurance agency, 215 Dickson building, contends.

"Every motorist is faced with many emergencies each day where accidents are avoided only through good brakes and prompt action," Mrs. Perry says. "Insurance protection is just as important to the motorist as good brakes for the reason that both are protection.

"Experiments have shown that it takes a total of 73 feet for an autoist to stop his car when driving at a speed of 30 miles an hour. Actual braking distance, if brakes are in good condition, is 40 feet if the car is traveling at that speed. In addition to this, from the time the motorist realizes he must stop until his foot actually applies the brakes, three quarters of a second has elapsed and the car travels at least 30 feet.

"If an accident is likely within this distance, a motorist is powerless to prevent it. These unavoidable accidents, which may occur to the most careful driver, makes insurance protection not only necessary, but is good business."

The standard automobile insurance policy provides seven distinct services for the motorist.

1—pays judgment of claim up to policy limits; 2—pays court costs in addition to judgment; 3—defends policy holder if suit is filed; 4—investigates accident to determine who was at fault; 5—pays premium on attachment bonds; 6—pays premium on appeal bonds; 7—pays expenses for claimant's immediate medical and surgical relief.

In addition to automobile insurance, the Parsons agency is equipped to provide complete protection on fire, tornado, plate glass, burglary, and public liability insurance.

TOY BUILDING UP

1937 Production 10 Per Cent Above Last Year.

When Santa Claus starts out with his Christmas pack this December 25 it will represent $230,000,000 in toys alone, an increase of 10 per cent over last year's toy production.

A preview of the new toys, staged in New York last week by the toy manufacturers—the nation's incorporated Santa Clauses—reveals a continued trend toward development of scientific toys. For boys (and father) the manufacturers have produced miniature polariscopes, micro-projector scopes, a science scope that will magnify the molecular explosions of lemon juice or soda in full colors, and engineering equipment of all kinds to do in miniature what utilitarian machines are doing daily in mines, factories and on construction projects.

Dolls for young mothers have been perfected to such an extent that it is difficult to tell them from real babies. A new drinking doll can consume the contents of her bottle lying down and doll voices have been materially improved.

NAMED TO PURE OIL POST HERE

R. E. Lewis Appointed Assistant District Manager, Heads Sales.

Appointment of R. E. Lewis as assistant district manager of the Pure Oil company in charge of sales in the Mansfield district, has been announced by E. S. Willard, district manager of the firm.

Mr. Lewis has been connected with the Pure Oil company for the last eight years, five and a half years at Marion and the last two and a half at Columbus.

An expansion of the Pure Oil service stations in this district is planned for the near future, Mr. Willard announced.

DEFENDS HORSE

It's Still Most Valuable 'Engine' For War, Britisher Says.

MONTREAL—(U.P.)—The horse is still the most valuable engine of war, believes Lord Mottistone, former British secretary of state for war and famous during the World war as Gen. "Jack" Seely, commander of the Canadian cavalry brigade. He praised machines now in use but clung to his preference for the horse.

SEVERE WINTER PREDICTED

RHINELANDER, Wis.—(U.P.)—Conservative wardens believe that frequent raids by northern Wisconsin bears on kitchens, gardens, orchards and beehives indicates the coming of a severe winter.

PLUMBING TELLS AGE OF HOUSE

Fixtures Play Important Role In Property Appraisals, Hoffman Says.

You can tell the age of a house by its plumbing. This has become an accepted rule in property appraisals, according to Charles Hoffman, veteran Mansfield plumber.

Probably nothing in the construction of houses, apartments, or hotels has changed so much in the last ten years as plumbing, Mr. Hoffman says. Modern plumbing fixtures are not only superior in appearance, but they are more efficient in performance with consequent lower maintenance cost.

Until a few years ago plumbing fixtures had no style. They were built for utility only. The tub of the Chippendale type stood on legs, the closet had a high tank, and the lavatory had no particular distinction in the design of its basin, top, or supports.

Today all plumbing fixtures except the very cheapest have a beauty of form that has enabled the plumbing contractor to make the bathroom the most beautiful room in the house.

Gone is the ugly tub on legs. Instead the modern bathtub is a beautifully designed streamlined fixture that fits snugly on the floor and against the walls. It is six inches lower than the tub on legs which makes it much easier to get into and to get out of.

No less revolutionary has been the change in lavatory design. The object of the manufacturers has been to make the lavatory more useful and more beautiful.

An interesting fact about modern plumbing fixtures is that they may be obtained in matched design, that is, the lines of the lavatory and tub harmonize perfectly with the lines of the closet, the accessories, and the faucets and fittings.

Closet seats may be obtained in beautiful mother of pearl effect with an almost infinite variety of colors to blend or contrast with the color of the fixtures and the wall materials.

WORD PROVED

Inventor Tests Rapid-Fire Gun by Taking Own Life.

BELGRADE—(U.P.)—To prove the efficiency of an automatic rifle which he had invented but could not sell, a locksmith shot himself. No one would believe Jesip Majaner when he said that he had perfected a rifle that would fire 10 rounds when a button was pressed. A few days ago he was found dead in his room with seven wounds in his body. Three other bullets were imbedded in the walls.

NEW INVENTION

Metals Congress Sees Process For Production of Manganese.

Several new inventions designed to play an important part in the future development of industry in the United States and make this nation more independent of certain foreign products, were exhibited in Atlantic City before the National Metals Congress.

One of the new inventions was a process for production of manganese from low-grade American ores. American industry has previously been almost entirely dependent on foreign sources of supply of manganese, which is an indispensable alloy used in the manufacture of steel.

TORPEDOES IN SCRAP HEAP

CARDIFF, Eng.—(U.P.)—An order has been issued for the careful scrutiny of all scrap metal received at the works of Guest, Keen & Baldwin following the discovery in a large consignment of scrap from abroad of three live aerial torpedoes.

LOOKING AHEAD

The 200-inch telescope now being constructed for the astronomers of California Tech, will enable them to see one million light years — 600,000,000,000,000 miles — into the distance.

MICHIGAN HIGH SCHOOL BOY, 15, SLAYS WRITER

Youth Tells Sheriff's Deputy He Fired After Newsman Aimed Gun at Mother.

WHITEHALL, Mich. — (U.P.) — Floyd Peterson, 45, Grand Rapids newspaperman, was shot and killed here early today by the 15-year-old son of Mrs. Ruby Gee, middle-aged widow, at whose home he had been staying.

The youth, Foster Gee, 10th grade student at Whitehall high school, ran immediately to the home of R. B. Merrick, deputy sheriff, and confessed the killing. He said he shot Peterson after he had threatened his mother with a revolver.

Says Mother Menaced.

Nervous and distraught at his act, the youth told Merrick he fired a shotgun charge into Peterson's head when the newspaperman pointed a gun at Mrs. Gee and threatened to kill her. "He threatened to kill me too," the youth sobbed.

Foster told Merrick that Peterson and Mrs. Gee had been out together at supper time and returned about 1:15 a. m.

"They had been quarrelling," he said, "and Peterson had been drinking. He pulled a gun and pointed it at my mother. Then he pointed it at me. I got a shotgun and killed him."

Merrick hurried to the Gee home where he found Peterson on the floor, his face and scalp torn by the shotgun blast. He was unconscious Merrick said, and died within half an hour after the shooting. Peterson was outdoors editor of the Grand Rapids Herald

Had Been Boarder.

Mrs. Gee told Merrick that Peterson had been boarding at her home on week-ends. She had gone out with Peterson several times, she said. They quarrelled last night after visiting at the home of a friend of Mrs. Gee's. She said Peterson had been drinking.

Merrick said he was holding Foster in custody at his home and would take the youth to the Muskegon county prosecutor at Muskegon, Mich., today to make a statement.

Musical Comedy Opens Tuesday in Cleveland's Hanna

"Right This Way," musical-comedy-romance, will open in the Hanna theater, Cleveland, for a five-day engagement beginning Tuesday. It is the first musical of the new season, William Blair, manager of the Hanna, said.

Because of its numerous company and heavy production, "Right This Way" will be shown only in two cities, Cleveland and Cincinnati, prior to its New York presentation. The musical comedy will head for New York City following its two engagements in the Ohio cities.

Heading the company of 75 are Tamara, famed as the girl who sang "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" in "Roberta" and Joe E. Lewis, noted comedian of stage, screen and radio. Other principals include Blanche Ring, Michael Doyle, Thelma White, Leona Powers, Henry Arthur, Joey Ray, Leona Stephens, Leonard Elliott and Milton Parsons. A large chorus of blonds, brunettes and redheads, many of whom were seen recently in "The Great Ziegfeld," is a prominent feature of this musical show.

"Right This Way" is a tuneful account of the love story of Jeff and Mimi, a newspaper correspondent and a Parisian stylist. Its eleven spectacular scenes are a background for the modern, high speed romance of the newspaperman and fashion designer. Among its many settings is an authentic reproduction of a trans-Atlnatic luxury liner and one of a famous Parisian style salon.

PLANS INQUEST IN DEATHS OF 5

Missouri Seeks to Find Cause of Fatal Rail Mishap.

KNOX CITY, Mo.—(U.P.)—An inquest will be held today in the deaths of five children, killed when the automobile in which they were riding stalled on the Quincy, Omaha and Kansas City railroad tracks at a grade crossing and was struck by a passenger train.

Those killed were Asjohn White, 15, the driver; his sister, Marjorie, 10, and brother, James, 8; Mary Jane Tarpin, 14, and Leroy McEvoy, 15. The home of the Tarpin child was in La Belle, Mo. The others lived here.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for Neil Uplinger, infant son of Mr. and Mrs Harry Uplinger, 154 Wolf avenue, were held Saturday at the Wappner funeral home. The place of the funeral was incorrectly reported in The News-Journal Saturday.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

REPERCUSSIONS SEEN ON LABOR POLICY ATTACK

Swanson's Statement to Have Effect on Congressional Wage Bill Study.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The navy department's attack upon the administration's labor policies was expected today to have far-reaching effects upon congressional consideration of the wages and hours bill.

Claude A. Swanson, secretary of navy, and Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, in their annual reports, warned that increased restrictive legislation on the naval building program would be a menace to the natonal defense.

So forceful was Swanson's statement that the navy was "definitely apprehensive," that many observers believed a diffrent set of rules may be established in the proposd wages and hours bill to apply to manufacturers of materials in the admy and navy defense programs.

Recommendations that the "utmost care" be taken in future labor legislation to guard against "inordinate delays" in completion of the defense program, were expected to make considerable difference in the probable outcome of the proposed wages and hours bill which President Roosevelt has designated for consideration by the special session of congress convening next week.

Hits Walsh-Healy Act.

Swanson apparently referred to the Walsh-Healy act, which establishes labor standards for private firm engaged on government contract and which presumably would be perpetuated by the wages and hours bill.

Further apprehension over slowing up of the "Treaty Navy" program was expressed by Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations. In his annual report to the secretary, he said:

"The chief of naval operations is not satisfied with the delays in the completion of new ships built ether by navy yard or by prvate contractors aud with the length of time taken between commissioning and finally joining the fleet as active units.

"One heavy cruiser and nine 10,000-ton light cruisers are under construction. Several improvements in armament of the Wichita have delayed its completion date. All of the program has been delayed by strikes, late delivery of materials, insufficient drafting force, and necessary changes during construction. . . .

"Fifty-three destroyers have been under construction. Of these the Drayton and Lamson have joined the fleet Twenty-three of these vessels have been delayed in joining the fleet by strikes, late delivery of material, and necessary changes during construction."

MR. B. T. HILL USES WORLD'S TONIC AS BUILDER

Was All Run Down and Shaky—Couldn't Eat Without Being in Misery — Muscles in Legs Would Draw Up — Sleep Was Poor.

Declares This Medicine Has Been a Blessing.

Mr. B. T. Hill of 800 Upson St., Akron, O., who is employed at Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. after he had been taking World's Tonic a few weeks, gave this interesting account of how this great medicine, World's Tonic, has done such a wonderful job for him. He says:

"Before taking World's Tonic I was in a terrible condition. I was constipated nearly all the time; couldn't eat without later being in misery. I had pains all through my body. The muscles of my legs would draw up in knots and I couldn't sleep.

"I worried so much over my condition I became shaky, my memory became very poor, I was skeptical of nearly everybody, because I had taken several things without any relief.

"I often read in the papers what men and women here in Akron said World's Tonic did for them, so I got some and it is truly remarkable how this treatment has changed things for me.

"In a few days my bowels were more active and now they move freely every day. This seemed to have been at the bottom of all my troubles, because all the pains have left my muscles; I sleep the whole night through and eat hearty meals with never a sign of sour stomach or gas afterwards. I just feel like a different man and give all credit to World's Tonic, which has been a blessing to me."

World's Tonic is made from the best of medicines which promote a free bowel action, relieve acid stomach conditions and act as a delightfully mild diuretic on the kidneys. It is pleasant to take and prompt to act. A few doses of World's Tonic will convince you that it is the medicine you are looking for

HERE'S STORY OF BEDAUX FORTUNE

wrote a treatise on the plan and sold it widely to industrialists at $25 a copy. The seed which he planted in America's fertile industrial soil was beginning to bear fruit.

He came on west. Plants throughout the industrial middle west paid him large fees to put his plan into effect. He moved into Ohio and at Cleveland in 1917 brought his formula to this great industrial area.

B. F. Goodrich Co. adapted his plan to the rubber industry and Bedaux came to Akron. He has preserved a friendship with a number of industrialists in this area which undoubtedly led to formulating plans to bring his royal friends through this region to inspect the results of his work.

Both company officials and union leaders here decline to discuss the system, union officials explaining that there is a difference of opinion among workers. Those said many rubber workers feel that the system enables more skilled workers to earn more, although a majority of them apparently oppose the formula on the grounds that it tends to force "speeding up" of workers.

Buys Chateau for $750,000.

Rich now beyond his dreams, he returned to his native land to purchase an imposing old chateau in Touraine for some $750,000. There he took his American-born second wife, the former Fern Lombard of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Bedaux spread his operations to many other nations and his wealth brought him new friends. Along the French Riviera he became a familiar figure Among his new friends were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rogers and Mrs. Rogers was a friend of the captivating Wally Simpson.

His friendship with the then Prince of Wales grew. When Edward of Windsor gave up his throne for love of the former Baltimore beauty, it was at the Bedaux chateau they were wed.

Bedaux, the man, was virtually an unknown until his name was linked with the Duke of Windsor He is somewhat of an amateur explorer, some years ago having promoted an expedition of caterpillar cars to sub-arctic regions of Canada.

Shortly after he purchased the French chateau he directed workmen to tear up sections of its ancient vineyard to make way for a golf course. He is said to be an enthusiastic golfer.

System in 1,000 Plants.

There are more than 1,000 plants in some 22 countries, involving more than 1,000,000 men now using his system, according to Bedaux

The percentage of American plants is "surprisingly low," he asserted the other day in Washington.

The system that has provoked such bitter labor criticism is built upon "B units"—B for Bedaux. A wage incentive system, it operates, roughly, in this manner:

Charge Foremen Get Bonus.

If the operation takes an hour, the standard is set at, say 60 "B units." If the pay for 60 B units is 60 cents, then another worker, if he can do the job in 40 minutes, has saved 20 "B units" and earns, say 80 cents an hour.

Proponents of the Bedaux system point out that labor criticisms of the plan are unjust because if a worker requires more than 60 minutes for the job he still receives the basic rate Bedaux, himself insists the plan rewards the more industrious and the more skilled workmen

Labor's criticism, however, contends foremen receive a bonus for the speed workers under them and charges that is the source of the 'speed up."

Taken By Death

MISS MARY SCIOR

* * *

MISS SCIOR, ILL 2 WEEKS, DIES

Was Secretary of Hospital Board, Charter Member of Women's Group.

Miss Mary Scior, secretary of theh executive board of General hospital and charter member of the Mansfield Business and Professional Women's club, died Saturday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs W. B. Linn, 267 Newman street, after an illness of two weeks

Miss Scior was one of the oldest employes of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company in point of service. She had been head of the cash sales department for 19 years

She was a life-long member of St. Paul Lutheran church and one of its most active members. She had been superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday school for more than 25 years, and at the time of her death was secretary of the Sunday school, and secretary of St. Paul Guild

As a charter member of the Business and Professional Women's club, she was active in its organization 12 years ago, and had served on a number of important committees. She was also a member of the board of trustees of the Mansfield Y. W. C. A.

She was elected to the governing board of General hospital six years ago and has served as secretary since that time.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs John Scior, who preceded her a number of years ago. A sister, Mrs. Hattie Bollman, died three months ago. Her only survivors were her sister, Mrs. Linn, and four nieces. She was born in Mansfield and had spent her entire life here.

The body was taken to the Wappner funeral home where funeral services will be conducted at 2 p m. Tuesday, with her pastor, Rev Herman Gilbert, officiating. Burial will be made in Mansfield cemetery.

Whatever the profits of war may be, they will never balance the losses.

The Japs, being a peace-loving nation, are perfectly willing to stop the war, for the present, if China will merely let them keep the northern provinces and Shanghai and turn Mongolia into a Japanese province.

Women's Employment Status.

THE federal women's bureau estimates that more than one-fifth of the women in this country are gainfully employed. Of these 10,752,000 women earners, more than one-third are also home-makers and one-tenth are the sole support of families of two or more persons. Many others contribute to family support beyond their own share.

The bureau finds also that women's jobs are invariably on a lower wage level than those of men in identical industries.

All of these figures are estimates, but probably are roughly accurate. They were assembled in reply to an inquiry from the international labor office at Geneva which is making a study of the economic status of women.

It will be interesting to learn how conditions in America compare with those under which women in England and other European countries live and work. It is clear that economic equality between men and women is still theoretical here. Many people, including many women, are not won over to the idea that women have a right to economic independence, to self-expression, to careers.

Criticism Should Be Fair.

WITH the air and the papers full of comment on public affairs and public people, questions of principle and method become interesting. How should such criticism be handled?

A writer who has had a good deal of experience in this field, and has been obliged to do some real thinking about it, says the main qualifications for public comment, along with a broad range of information, are these:

"An objective viewpoint, a lack of personal animus, a human understanding, an attitude of fairness toward people with whom you disagree, a realization that men's intentions may be good even though their judgments be bad and their policies unsound."

As for personal criticism of public characters, he says: "We commentators are legitimately concerned only with demonstrable facts and with the wisdom or folly of acts and policies. Our proper method is impersonal. We cannot know the motives moving other people, whether in public or private life; we may not even know our own motives. We should criticize what public men do and say, without impugning their characters. We should not denounce and vituperate, but analyze and clarify. The most effective weapon is the calm truth itself.

Bird Treaty With Mexico.

A TREATY is being negotiated between the United States and Mexico for the protection of migratory birds which are seasonal residents of both countries. There are more than one hundred and forty species that spend their summers in the northeastern part of the States and move south across the Rio Grande as winter approaches.

Mexicans have not shown the interest in conserving bird life, either for game or as friends of man, that has been steadily growing in this country. Millions of birds have been slaughtered there every year, resulting almost in the extinction of some varieties. The United States has already put the terms of the new treaty into effect, and the Mexican senate is expected to ratify it within a few weeks.

It should have a wholesome effect there, not merely for the bird population but as the beginning of a new attitude toward wild life in general.

Duels and Honor.

THE duel, revived in Germany by the Nazis as a good means of settling affairs of honor, is now being questioned again. In a recent duel the wrong man was killed. He happened to be Roland Strunk, a Nazi journalist on the staff of Hitler's own paper, the Voelkischer Beobachter. Herr Strunk was the challenger and therefore supposedly the injured and innocent party. But his opponent's bullet proved as fatal as if things had been the other way around.

The result is that the so-called honor courts which pass on requests for duels have been ordered to permit as few as possible. Furthermore, only sabers may be used. Saber wounds are less likely to result fatally than well-aimed bullets.

Can it be that right does not always triumph in duels? Such an idea will be upsetting to Nazi ideas of honor.

Active Old Folks.

RECREATION should not end at fifty. Dr. Bernard Sachs, neurologist and former president of the New York Academy of Medicine, advises men and women over fifty to "continue doing these things which they have been accustomed to do" and to "add a few tricks." He is addressing people who are not afflicted with physical disabilities which necessarily limit their activity.

Approaching eighty himself, Dr. Sachs has practised his own teaching, which is "Keep on doing, keep on planning." An active mind, a brain that works well and a life that is independent of others as far as possible help to keep the mental faculties vigorous. Walking, golf, or any familiar exercises or pleasures, encourge the organs of the body to continue their activity and function normally.

The reason why some people go to pieces as soon as they retire is that they retire from everything instead of merely dropping their business routine. They give up instead of keeping up a variety of interests. Old age would be a lot pleasanter for the elderly persons concerned and for their younger relatives if more people took the commonsense view of this problem.

Well-wishers of Oscar Vitt, new manager of the Cleveland Indians, recall that he survived the San Francisco earthquake.

"THIS WAY, JUMBO!"

Third Party Talk Increasing Over Country

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON — Third party talk is increasingly heard on Capitol Hill, with the reassembling of politicians for the extra congressional session.

The necessity for a party realignment has long been under discussion.

A realignment, however need call only for a fresh sorting out of the old party memberships, presumably under their present names, but in such fashion as to classify one group as liberals, the other as conservatives; not mixed up on both sides, as they are today.

* * *

REALIGNMENT DIFFICULT

Republicans, on an average, are not quite so thoroughly dyed-in-the wool as Democrats. Generally speaking, a Republican, if angry enough at G. O. P. managerial policies, will bolt his party. We have seen traditionally Republican states flop bodily in recent years. Still, there are many Republicans who never will admit that they have become Democrats.

Few Democrats, especially in the south, will make the admission that they have turned Republican. They stick to the Democratic label, no matter how anti-New Deal they may be.

* * *

NEW PARTY EASIER?

Now, might not these anti-New Deal Democrats, while forever anti-Republican also, be willing to ally themselves with a new party, unbranded with "DamYankeeism?"

And might it not be less painful for a rockbound Republican to join a new party than to confess that he has turned Democratic?

Third party-ites, asking these questions, incline to answer affirmatively.

Besides, they argue, a lot of good Republicans, who hate the New Deal, nevertheless are just as butter against the G. O. P. old guard— Representative Hamilton Fish, for example. Contrariwise, some very liberal Democrats (Senator Burton K. Wheeler, for instance), who never could become Republicans, are anti-New Deal.

Might not a third party catch them?

INCREASING TALK

There was a bit of this chat at the last regular congressional session. It did not amount to much then. This fall there is a considerable volume of it. The lawmakers have been home in the meantime and such seems to be their reaction. It is not violent but it is noticeable.

Most of it comes from the middle northwest.

It is a farmer movement, which seeks for eastern labor sympathy.

Senator Wheeler, as we recall, once ran for the vice presidency on a third party ticket. Representative William Lemke of North Dakota ran as a third party presidential candidate in the last national campaign. They did not make much of a dent, but "hope springs eternal."

* * *

BALLOT DIFFICULTY

The weakness of a third party candidate is that, in many states, the electoral machinery makes it impossible for him even to get his name on the official ballots. It has to be written in by the individual voter. Naturally not many voters will take as much trouble as that . . .

Yet, who can tell?—in the event of a landslide?

Naturally, no rational person looks for so great a landslide in 1940. The glance is ahead to 1944, if ever.

* * *

CAUSES SOME WORRY

True, they do not believe that a third party ever can win, but there always is the risk that it will get a large enough vote to prevent any ticket from having a majority (as distinguished from a plurality) in the presidential electoral college.

In which event the selection would be thrown into the house of representatives.

Think what a fight that would involve!

* * *

FARMER-LABOR?

Furthermore, a third party must be a farmer-labor party.

Urban labor's and agriculture's interests OUGHT to be identical, but they are NOT under our economic system.

Health Advice

By DR. ROYAL COPELAND

Faulty Eating May Cause Gastritis.

GASTRITIS IS one of the most disagreeable of the many disorders of the digestive organs. None but the afflicted person can really appreciate the misery it causes. In the majority of instances, this condition is the result of careless food habits.

Gastritis, as its name indicates, is an inflammation of the lining of the stomach. Though usually caused by long-continued, faulty eating habits, it may also result from a sudden irritation of the lining of the stomach from an excessive use of alcoholic beverages. The rapid swallowing of coarse or uncooked foods may cause the stomach to rebel.

Toxin or Poison.

Inflammation of the lining of the stomach may be due to some toxin or poison circulating within the system. It is sometimes associated with constitutional diseases, with influenza, pneumonia, measles and scarlet fever. In those cases, the irritation subsides as soon as the general infection is under control.

Persons who are careless about their eating habits are sooner or later quite likely to suffer from gastritis. Irregular eating hours, insufficient chewing and bolting of food, and the excessive use of spices and greasy food will cause gastric disturbances, usually gastritis.

The sufferer complains of a sour taste, or of an excessive amount of gas formation after meals. Persistent heartburn, indigestion, nausea, loss of appetite and constipation are other symptoms. In severe cases vomiting and diarrhea may be present.

Don't Neglect It.

In and of itself gastritis is not a serious disease, but neglect of it may lead to some more important disorder. It is easy to understand that the victim of gastritis will suffer from the loss of appetite, loss of weight and general lowering of resistance of the body against all infections. In due course of time, he may be carried away by some minor ailment which could easily have been overthrown if his health had been good.

It is a good plan never to accept any of the signs I have mentioned as being due to indigestion, or even the result of gastritis. If you suffer from gas formation, or any other digestive disturbance, consult with your doctor. It is important to do this because any one of these symptoms may be the beginning of something really serious.

Early recognition of stomach disorders is our best weapon for complete cure and speedy return to perfect health. Delay in applying the needed treatment may ultimately mean inability to correct the disorder and to prevent further discomfort and illness.

Timely Editorial

Blood Suckers.

Let any department of human activity show signs of health—if it be concerned with amusement so much the better—and tax-hungry politicians will leap upon it with blood-thirsty yells. Every legislative body in the country and the millions feeding at the public trough are examining the country with a microscope for victims upon whom to slap new taxes.

There being no better way to kill a prosperous industry or popular enterprise than by slapping taxes on it, it would seem that those who collect and spent public revenue consider it their mission in life to smother all activity and ruin business.

The automobile is a notable example. Taxes and fees have been pyramided on it until even the rich wince. Registration fees, drivers' licenses, sales and luxury taxes, gasoline and title fee run the figure up to a grand total in some states. Who suffers? Everybody connected with the automobile industry, and who isn't?

Not only has the United States come to the point where government is of the people and by and for the jobholders, but all business and every department of human activity must fill public coffers with its life's blood.—Newark Advocate.

Young America Says---

Put an End to Murder by Motor!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

AMERICANS—SHAME!

Everywhere, highways of death . . . slimed with blood . . . clamorous with shrieks of agony . . . roaring with the murderous speed which hurls itself ceaselessly onward, unheeding—

IF YOU HAD THE POWER, WHAT WOULD YOU DO ABOUT IT?

Here's Young America's answer to that tragic, urgent question. First, from Arthur Williams, hospital attendant in Boston, Mass., comes a suggestion which should cure speed mania if anything on earth can do so.

"BRING THE SPEED DEMON INTO THE HOSPITAL . . . LET HIM SEE THE GHASTLY HORROR FOR WHICH HE IS RESPONSIBLE!"

"Come—we are ready—I am in my uniform at the wheel of the operating table. A young girl lies hideously broken before us. Bring in the man who did this . . . force him to watch!

"Masked men stand around . . . the air is thick with ether—and fear. Listen—the girl's bloody lips stir. 'Mama!' she whispers—'MAMA!' A sob . . . a cry . . . the ether does its merciful work. She is under.

"Now watch as the instruments pass, repass. See the glint of steel as it bites into the tender flesh! Watch the blood gush! See the severed flesh and bone fall in shreds! Smell the sickening odors . . . the musty blood . . . the gagging ether and iodine! Hear the gasping breath!

"What! Is our brute speed demon going white . . . is the sweat standing out in beads on his greenish flesh . . . is he sickening . . . retching . . . knees sagging . . . everything turning to black?

"SO YOU WANT TO GO, DO YOU? NO GOING FOR YOU! PROP HIM UP . . . BIND HIM . . . MAKE HIM WATCH IT THROUGH TO ITS AWFUL END!

"YOU DID THIS, YOU DEVIL! NOW YOU'LL TAKE IT AND LIKE IT."

"That is my cure for speeditis."

And a thorough one, Arthur—which I wager would be as efficacious as any form of punishment, if we'd enforce it.

CAROLINE MAMMOLITI of New York City believes there "oughta be a law," several of them, and uniform in all states. As follows—

"A.—All new cars must be inspected and approved as mechanically perfect before they can be registered.

"B.—Similar inspection must take place at stated intervals after registration.

"C.—Used cars must also have such approval before sale.

"D.—No licenses granted until applicants have passed SEVERE tests of skill, knowledge of laws and a thorough medical examination stressing eyesight, hearing and nervous reactions.

"E.—Absolute revocation of license for any legal violation or physical defect occurring after grant of the same.

"F.—State and local police be required to openly patrol the highways instead of hiding.

": : MONIES APPROPRIATED FOR ROADS TO BE USED AS FOLLOWS —

1.—Build more new roads and widen one-way roads.

2. Repave all old roads and eliminate dangerous or blind curves.

3. Eliminate dangerous crossings by building overhead or subways."

AND LAST, but no means least, comes Josephine Batton of Atlanta, Georgia, with one of the most unique suggestions received.

"Laws have failed," says Josephine. "Regular punishments seem futile. But there is one thing which will pierce the toughest hide and that is—RIDICULE.

"When people have been convicted of grave traffic violation, why not enforce the wearing of big, easily read placards like the following—the number of days to be determined by the seriousness of the offense:

"I AM A DRIVING DUNCE. I'M THE FOOL WHO THOUGHT ALCOHOL AND GASOLINE WOULD MIX . . . I'M A HIGHWAY HOG! I'M A POTENTIAL PEDESTRIAN CRIPPLER. I HAVE NO REGARD FOR ANYONE'S DRIVING RIGHTS BUT MY OWN?,' ETC.

"If a hit and run driver had to wear such a badge wherever he went—AND BE PUNISHED HEAVILY IF HE LEFT IT OFF—he'd shrivel with shame. Strike at the ego and you have even the worst of us."

Keeping Step

—By LESLIE EICHEL—

An Englishman Views Our Slump.

OFTEN one has to go to England, figuratively speaking, to obtain an unhackneyed view of the American situation. A letter to the editor of the New Statesman and Nation by Robert Boothby of the House of Commons should be extremely interesting to Americans. The letter presents an entirely new point of view. Here are excerpts:

"Sir—Your leading article this week, 'The Wheels Slow Down,' is extraordinarily interesting. And if a humble supporter of the capitalist system may venture to say so, your diagnosis of the cause of the recent violent slump in both commodities and stocks is absolutely correct. Up to a point cheap money and a consumer demand, artificially expanded by relief expenditure, stimulated recovery in the United States. But without any proportionate revival of investment in the capital goods industries, this recovery could not possibly continue. De-stocking or, as you call it, negative investment, has recently developed on a very considerable scale; and, if it continues, will fling not only America but the whole world back into another economic crisis of the first order.

"It is, I think, common ground between us that, in the present critical phase of international relationships, an economic slump would be disastrous for the democratic nations.

"In the early stages the Fascist states would find themseves, to some extent, insulated against the shock of acute depression, owing to their closed and ruthlessly controlled economic systems. Later on, when the trend of events had made world war an absolute certainty, they would find themselves relatively stronger, from an economic point of view, than they are today. In these circumstances, since neither the government of the United States nor that of this country contemplates introducing a socialist regime, your question, 'Can capitalism succeed in smoothing out the threatened depression?' Acquires an immense importance. As against 1929, money is cheap, gold is plentiful, and there is as yet no great glut of commodities — and these factors are definitely encouraging. The answer to this question is therefore surely, 'Yes, if confidence can be restored.'"

"KICKING INTO PROSPERITY."

"You, sir, hit the nail plumb on the head when you say that it looks as though President Roosevelt's attempt to 'kick American capitalism into prosperity' has failed. No one denies that many reforms in the United States were and are overdue. Wall Street had to be cleaned up. The banking system had to be pulled into some sort of order. A decent system of social services ought to have been inaugurated by this time, and a decent Federal Civil Service to administer them.

"The complaint of those who, like the present writer, most sincerely admire the president's ultimate objectives is not that he has tried to carry through a radical policy, but that he has done it the wrong way. There is something to be said for keeping the great consumers of capital goods, like the railways and power companies, in a state of complete uncertainty, and subject to continuous threats, month after month and year after year.

"When all is said and done, President Roosevelt has not yet succeeded in giving his country a Federal Civil Service, or the social services, or the housing accommodation it requires and deserves....

"Meanwhile the only other agencies, apart from the state, which could have confirmed and strengthened the economic recovery through the purchase of capital goods—the railways and the utilities — have not done so because they simply don't dare."

* * *

DANGER OF UNCERTAINTY.

"No doubt the recession which has begun in the United States, and, which, if it continues, is bound to affect this country and all the other democracies of the world, could be checked by the announcement of a large additional rearmament program. But this would only bring temporary relief. The lesson to be learnt from the disquieting and largely unnecessary events of the past few months is surely this: The governments of democratic countries which do not intend to sweep away capitalism overnight must provide a basis of confidence, without which a capitalist system cannot hope to work.

"The greatest enemy of confidence is uncertainty. If you tell the ordinary working capitalist precisely what you are going to do, and stick to it, he can continue to function even although his activities are sharply circumscribed. But if you leave him in complete doubt and uncertainty as to the intentions of the government with regard to the currency, the budget, taxation, public utilities, wages and hours, etc.; and if, on the top of that, you impose such restrictions on markets that it is practically impossible to deal freely or to raise fresh capital, you are simply inviting slump—and ultimate economic collapse."

McIntyre's New York Day by Day

DIARY: Abroad to the florist's to see the new O. O. McIntyre dahlia, Tyrian rose in color and of the type called "semi-cactus." Then to Ben Ali Haggin's studio to leave a picture of his dog, Nimble, which he gave me. And pirooting around the new Sulka shop.

Home and C. B. Driscoll came along, a fellow of pleasant ease, desiring nothing and at peace with himself. Came a souvenir sheaf of the coronation editions of London gazettes from Basil Woon. Also bids to Dot and Deke Aylesworth's dance for Dorothy, and a Constance Collier tea.

With my wife and cousin to dinner at a public, feasting on a haunch of venison served with a thin goblet of hippocras. And everybody so washen, bedecked and gay it was difficult to believe there is so much grief and woe in the tumbling world. To bed early.

The high spot of Chinatown's gastronomy is a nameless cellar at 20½ Pell street. It makes no concessions to usual courtesies—no greeting at the door, none of the smiling unctions nor menus. One may wait for a half hour before a waiter comes, but finally a sleepy-eyed Celestial will shuffle out of nowhere with what he thinks you should eat and it's always a lip-smacking spread. The prices are low and the place was discovered for the uptown cognoscenti by Anna May Wong.

There's no sight-seeing tingle for me like visiting a Chinese quarter. And a Chinese restaurant is the only place where tea is not only tasty but highly refreshing. One of the traveling treats I had saved up against more sedate years was a voyage to China, especially to see Shanghai and Peiping. But I waited too long, I fear.

Add unappetizing signs: That one over a Ninth avenue fish market reading—"Everything that swims, crawls or clings."

The old Morning Telegraph newspaper shop, now the site of Jack Dempsey's restaurant, was long the town's most picturesque plant. It was an abandoned car barn, patched up and made over like some derelict structure in a Shantytown. One reached the various departments up rickety stairs and the editorial room was amusing and mellow. Desks of reporters and editors were often old boxes with smaller boxes as chairs. The walls were scrofulous with tattered burlesque and circus posters. Almost anyone with experience could land a job there. There were few rules. Many drank openly from whiskey bottles in drawers and lockers. And everybody loved the shack and his job. There were writers on the Morning Telegraph with Oxonian accents, spats and monocles, long-haired zealots burning with the fire of crusaders, blearly old has-beens shaken with whiskey tremors and cock-a-hoop collegiatees on first assignments.

In those days there was the contrasting la-de-dah of the Evening Post that was on Vesey street. Important editors wore frock coats and sat at glass-topped desks enclosed with shiny brass railings. The aisleways were carpeted and here and there was a potted plant. But it turned out some celebrated journalists, including the crack dramatic critic John Anderson, Harold Littlefield and Dudley Nichols.

During one of my jobless periods I visited, hat in hand, both the Telegraph and Post in quest of berth. Bill Lewis offered to take me on after only a few questions for $22 a week, but I got no further than the office boy at the Post. He ran a practiced finger over my visiting card, and, finding it not engraved, assured me there were no openings now and not likely to be.

Thingumbobs: Dr. George Rockwell, the comedian, is a shooting gallery addict . . . John McCormack's son is making strides as a singer of Irish ballads . . . Kent Cooper, the A. P. chief, is one of the crack "by ear" pianists . . . Charles Dickens at the time of his death left the biggest fortune of any English writer, $500,000 . . . Kipling topped it with $800,000.

From a magazine story: No one heeded him until he began to sing and then they swarmed about him like flies to molasses. Men sought his bow, women his smile."

HOOVER WARNS U. S. OF 'POISON' IN PROPAGANDA

Free Speech, Press, Debate 'Life Stream' of Advancing Liberalism, He Says.

WATERVILLE, Me. — (AP) — Terming free speech, free press and free debate the "very life stream of advancing liberalism," Herbert Hoover today warned the nation to guard against the "poison of propaganda."

At the same time the former president asserted that in the last 15 years "every dictator who has ascended to power has climbed on the ladder of free speech and free press" and then "suppressed all free speech except his own."

To counteract propaganda he prescribed "more free speech," adding "we must incessantly expose intellectual dishonesty and the purpose that lies behind it. . . . Half truth can be defeated with the whole truth."

Speaks At Anniversary.

Hoover spoke at Colby college on the 100th anniversary of the death of Elijah Parish Lovejoy, a graduate of the college and an editor at Alton, Ill., who perished defending his right to print what he wished against slavery

A free press, Hoover said, "is far more than a publishers' privilege It is a right of the people. But the publishers are its first lines of defense. They deserve the gratitude of the country for the zeal with which they have driven back every attempt at legal restrictions."

Describing propaganda as a "sinister word meaning half-truth or any other distortion of the truth," Hoover said it "moves by tainting of news by making synthetic news and opinions and canards. It promotes the emotions of hate, fear and dissension . .

"With still further refinements (since the World war) it has been applied to politics. The great quality of this improved poison seems to be that it must be artistically done. . . ."

The only living ex-president, Hoover made no mention of the Roosevelt administration, nor did he refer to the suggestion for a mid-term Republican convention which he has backed and which party leaders discussed in Chicago last week.

KILLED IN FIGHT WITH PRISONER

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Arthur J. Demarrais, considered one of the best detectives of the New York City police, was fatally injured last night in a fight with a prisoner, who hit him with a lead pipe and bit him savagely about the face, arms and body.

The detective, 41, married and the father of five children, arrested Brown for molesting a woman. Brown agreed to accompany Demarrais to a police station, but en route he started to fight.

U. S. REACTION ON DUKE VARIED

Philadelphia Record both said the Duke "paid the American people a compliment" by cancelling his visit. The Post added that "Windsor has himself and his association with notorious reactionaries and Fascists to thank for his loss of esteem in this country".

The Los Angeles Times felt that the postponement called "attention to the boorishness of the A. F. of L." and that the Duke was "entitled to a courteous reception"

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin said the Duke was a "victim of circumstances" and the New York Herald-Tribune said that collapse of his plans lay "somewhere on the border between pathos and personal tragedy." The Duke, the Herald-Tribune added, "divested himself of none of the penalties of kingship, only of its defenses."

H G Wells British author on a lecture tour in this country, said of the Duke that "he is no longer a public character" and the Hartford (Conn.) Courant saw him as "not only a man without a country but a man without a job" whose greatest need was "a set of good advisers."

The New York Times suggested in an editorial column that the Duke "might receive an enthusiastic welcome in Soviet Russia" where "the industrial speed-up system under the name of Stakhanoffism is a major Stalin policy."

The Kansas City Times in an editorial cartoon showed the Duchess, chin in hand, asking an abstracted Duke, "Well, David, what the hell shall we do now?"

The Oklahoma City Times added "Free America to the list of nations that is hounding the Duke" and called the charges of labor concerning the proposed trip both "crude and rude and not in any sense good sportsmanship."

The Schenectady (N. Y.) Union Star said the Duke was "again a victim of fate" but the New York Daily News blamed the "circus aura" of the Duke's plans before the cancellation on "a little Baltimore girl's ambition to come back and swank around her own home country."

PARIS—(AP)—A source close to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor said today the couple had decided tentatively on February as a possible new date for their postponed trip to the United States.

The duke and duchess believe by that time "the criticism will have subsided," making the tour possible, one of their associates said.

Postponement of the tour, which was to have brought the Windsors to America Nov. 11, was announced Friday night. The duke said there had been "grave misconceptions" over his motives.

The Windsors expected to remain in Paris, at least until Armistice day, when the duke may participate in memorial observances "in a completely unofficial capacity," their associates said. Dispatches from Austria were that the Windsors might return to Vienna or to the Enzesfeld castle of Baron Eugene De Rothschild for a short stay or to spend the winter.

Circles close to the former king said his plans for the immediate future still are indefinite.

FULL DAY OF ACTIVITIES WILL MARK ARMISTICE ANNIVERSARY

Mansfield will take time out from its usual duties Thursday to mark the observance of the 19th anniversary of the signing of the armistice, with the Earl D. McVey post of the American Legion heading the program with a full day's activities.

The city building and courthouse offices and banks will be closed throughout the day and business activity in the city generally will be suspended for five minutes, beginning at 11 a. m., while the customary Legion ceremony is in progress at the doughboy monument in Central park.

The Legion's drum and bugle corps will make its first public apperance in a parade through the streets at 7:30 p. m. The corps has a memebrship of approximately 30 Legionnaires under the leadership of Herbert Gibbs

G.A.R members and Spanish-American war veterans will be guests of the Legion at a dinner at 6 p. m. at the Legion home and ex-service men throughout the country have been invited to open house at the home during the day.

City schools will not close for the day, but special programs in observance of the signing of the armistice in 1918, will be given at most of the buildings, Supt. W. L Miller said

BEIRUT, Lebanon—(AP)—Petitions asking commutation of the death sentence imposed on Meguerdich Karayan, convicted slayer of United States Consul General James Theodore Marriner, were presented today to the high commissioner.

The petitions asked life imprisonment, but the commissioner indicated he would confirm the death sentence and that Karayan would be hanged tomorrow.

SEES ARMISTICE AS TEMPORARY BREAK IN WAR

Rev. Swoyer Asserts More Than That Needed to Bring World Peace.

The signing of the Armistice of the World war 19 years ago was only a temporary cessation of war and not the "end of war to end all wars," Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the First Lutheran church and chaplain of the American Legion, asserted last night at patriotic services at his church.

More than 800 persons from Mansfield's veteran and patriotic groups attended, many of them in uniform. They marched into the church in groups, bearing their own colors and standards. Special music was given by a choir of 100 voices, made up of the choirs of First Lutheran and St. John's Evangelical churches, and soloists from other churches, which was directed by L. A. Cook.

"Nineteen years ago the world hailed the signing of the armistice as the end of wars and looked to modern civilization to perpetuate that peace, but at the present time there are almost as many men under arms now as there was then," Rev. Swoyer said. "Vast armaments are being built, national hatreds aroused so that only war will satisfy them.

Offers 3-Point Program.

"It will take something more than an armistice to end wars," he said, and offered a three-point program toward that end.

"Peace will come to human hearts and to nations alike only when God is there in His rightful place, and upon the church falls the responsibility The second point lies with our statesmen. Upon them is the responsibility for fostering brotherhood between nations. We need more statesmen who will accept this responsibility and less politicians who work for the present and ignore the future. The third point is education of nations as well as individuals. Everything today glorifies war—books, history, statues, art, with too little that glorifies the virtues and advantages of peace."

Rev. Swoyer added that practical aids to these three fundamentals were adequate but not over-stressed preparedness, universal draft of men and business in times of national stress, and strict adherence to our own affairs.

The church was decorated with flags an banners for the meeting. Commander L. A. Cook of McVey Post read the roll call of the soldiers dead since last Armistice day and taps were sounded.

Organizations represented at the services were the G. A. R., Spanish War veterans and auxiliary; American Legion and auxiliary; Battery D, 134th Fielyd Artillery; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Reserve Officers Association; Women's Relief Corps; Daughters of Union Veterans; Sons of Union Veterans and their two auxiliary groups; Jared C. Mansfield and Mary Washington chapters of the D. A. R., Constitution chapter of the S. A. R. and Sarah E Lewis Junior W. R.

Entertain Your Guests Informally

Informal entertaining is such fun and though the picnic season has waned, informal eating can still have its charm beside the fireplace in your living room.

To enjoy your guests, make entertaining easy. With a variety of small electrical appliances to choose from, the modern home makes can easily set a buffet table for a party where guests may help the hostess cook and serve.

Using your sandwich grill-waffle iron—chafing dish and coffee maker, even menu-planning is simplified. And a menu can be revamped to suit different occasions For instance the grill supper menu given below has a green salad. Instead you may wish to use fresh fruit in the bowl, scrambled eggs in the chafing dish and replace the cottage cheese with jelly to be eaten on the French toast.

MONTANA SUPPER GRILL
(Good Housekeeping Institute)
Bacon, French Toast, Fruit Sauce
Green Salad
Cottage Cheese Coffee
Olives

Grill the bacon on sandwich grill. Brown French toast on both sides in a little of the fat. Serve fruit sauce on the French toast and the grilled bacon beside it.

Fruit Sauce.

3 tablespoon butter
½ cup granulated sugar
2 tbsp. lemon juice, few grains of salt
3 tbsp. flour
1 No 2 can blackberries or blueberries

Melt butter on top of chafing dish or double boiler. Add flour and blend Add berries, sugar, lemon juice and salt. Cook, stirring occasionally until mixture is of sauce like consistency. Serve as sauce on French Toast.

Try Grapefruit Muffins

The recipe for these second-to-none muffins follows

Florida Muffins.

1 cup Florida grapefruit segments
¼ cup sugar
½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking powder

With a sharp knife, cut thick layer off top and bottom of fruit, peel around deep enough to remove all white membrane, cut on either side of each dividing membrane and remove meat, esegment by segment. Put segments in a bowl and add ¼ cup sugar; let stand while preparing batter. Cream shortening, until light and fluffy, add ½ cup sugar, small amount at a time, blending thoroughly, after each addition Add beaten eggs to mixture. Sift flour, measure, and sift again 3 times together with baking powder and salt. Add milk and dry ingredients alternately to sugar mixture, beating well after each addition. Drain sweetened grapefruit segments and add ¼ teaspoon baking soda to grapefruit pulps, combine with muffin batter Pour into well-greased muffin tins and bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (350°F).

SURPRISE FINE STRATEGY IF CHILD'S INDIFFERENT TO FOOD

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Children like nothing so much as a surprise and that is something mothers should keep in mind about children's eating. Especially if a child is indifferent about food

It doesn't matter much just what the surprise is It may be, for instance, the dish in which the morning cereal is served. The prepared cereal people recognized that when they started giving away cereal bowls that had pretty pictures in the bottom.

It may be the pitcher from which the cereal cream is poured. My own boy took a sudden fancy to his morning glass of milk simply because it was poured from a china cow pitcher.

Switch The Fruit.

Try serving a different fruit or fruit juice each day for a period of two weeks—and don't tell your child beforehand what it's going to be. You can start with orange juice and go down the line—pineapple, grape, grapefruit, cranberry, tomato, apricot or apple juice. You can work through a list of cooked, dried or fresh fruits. Better yet, alternate fruits and juices.

In some cases prizes will do the trick. Special trips, a movie, small articles or little favors will do wonders in making a willing cereal eater of a belligerent one.

Every child should have a quart of milk a day. Part of it may be served in creamed soups, escalloped foods, custards and puddings—or cocoa or hot chocolate.

Every child also should eat a certain amount of bread. Try changing from graham, whole wheat, bran, corn, raisin or date bread—and spreading each with a jam, a jelly, a brown sugar and cinnamon mixture, shaved maple sugar, honey or maple syrup.

Strategy in Molds.

Placing foods in unusual molds also is good strategy. Baked mixtures, gelatin salads and cornstarch puddings will prove especially intriguing if they are molded—and then decorated with bits of colored vegetables, fruits or gum drops.

The between-meal snack is another important factor in the child's well-being. It should never take the place of a meal and should be restricted to such simple foods as fruit, graham crackers, dates, figs or raisins, a plain cooky or piece of gingerbread—and a glass of milk.

Meal surroundings and the atmosphere pervading the family dinner table are further points to consider.

Serving courses often is stimulating—since the child may be encouraged to wonder what comes next. Start with the least-liked food and lead to a favorite dessert.

Dishing small quantities of food—rather than heaping the plate high the first time—will work in the case of the child who is indifferent to food.

Never allow emotional upsets at the table. Meal-time is not the time for the correction of faults, arguments or complaints Keep your conversation pleasant and don't talk over the children's heads.

Treasure Island Stockade

Core and pare enough baking apples to top each muffin-size gingerbread. Insert five two-inch sticks of cinnamon into the sides of each apple, letting one inch of each stick project out. Fill the apple centers with brown sugar, chopped raisins and chopped nuts. Place the apples in a baking dish. Cover the bottom of the dish with one inch of water and little dots of butter. Bake slowly, basting occasionally with the juice in the bottom of the pan. Let cool in the pan.

Then place apples on gingerbread circles (already baked). Surround circles with whipped cream.

Gingerbread Recipe

1 cup brown sugar
¾ cup melted shortening
¾ cup molasses
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt,
1 cup sour milk

Combine eggs, sugar, shortening and molasses. Sift the flour, measure, sift again with the baking soda, salt and spices Add alternately with the milk to the first mixture. Beat until well blended. Bake in well greased individual tins Put about half the ordinary amount of dough in the pans since a flat, not deep, gingerbread is best for the Treasure Island Stockade.

RUGS
PLAIN COLOR RUGS ARE GROWING IN POPULARITY FOR THE REASON THAT THEY MAKE A ROOM APPEAR LARGER. HOWEVER, PLAIN COLORS SHOW DIRT MORE READILY THAN DO RUGS WITH SMALL PATTERNS.
11-8

If you like scented linens and use scented soaps store the soap, unwrapped, in the linen drawers or closet. Sachets, too, lend pleasing odors

Bright rough tweeds are very popular for reefer-style coats this season. They maye be worn effectively with antelope hats in the "accent" color—the brightest color in the tweed pattern.

Handle With Care

Don't bang porcelain or enameled kitchen equipment against stoves, tables or sinks. It will chip or crack if it is roughly handled Many of the more modern, attractive pieces require special care

Pudding Pie

Spicy Appetizer

Serve a chilled mixture of spiced peaches and seedless grapes, sweetened with maple syrup or strained honey as the first course of a meal.

To remove cream stains from garments or linens rub the stained area with cold water and soap and then rinse it thoroughly in cold water.

Kitchen Hints

That household nuisance—mildew—can be avoided if damp articles are never placed in clothes hampers. Dry all clothing and household linen thoroughly. Don't let it collect in damp basements, dark closets or other spots that are likely to be damp.

When tall candles don't fit their holders, dip the bases into hot water and quickly press them into holders. Hold them there firmly until they become embedded in the holder.

Keep plenty of cleansing tissue in the bathroom. It will save much wear and tear on the towels—especially when the men folks learn to use it for wiping off razors and the women for removing lipstick.

To darken minor scratches on mahogany, maple or walnut furniture rub them with butter applied on a clean cloth. Then polish them with another soft, clean cloth.

Take advantage of the next windy day to clean your chintz coverings and curtains. Hang them on a clothes line and brush them quickly with a clean whisk broom dipped frequently in warm water.

When a liquid diet is called for: clear soups, strained fruit juices, milk shercets plain gelatin mixtures, egg nog. Serve them in small amounts every two hours.

Use a long handled moderate-sized bottle brush to clean bed springs. Dip the brush in hot water quite often. Such a brush gets into corners much more easily than the dish mop which ordinarily is used for this purpose.

Slide fasteners are very convenient for furniture coverings. They make it easy to remove and replace the covers for cleaning. Such fasteners are available in washable, non-rust materials.

NECKPIECE NOW

Fox Struck By Auto As Hounds Race Closely Behind.

WEST CHESTER, Pa.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Guy W. Knauer of West Chester wasn't riding to hounds but she got the fox anyhow. When she was driving on Pottstown pike, a red fox, with hounds in pursuit, started across the road. The car struck the fox, so Mrs. Knauer has a new fur neckpiece.

I did it for several years, and my hands told the sad story. Especially during housecleaning.

Then a friend advised: 'Sprinkle CLIMALENE in the water, a tablespoon or so, before you add your soap.'

Now I get snow-white washes and my tableware is perfectly clean. Walls, tiles, floors and woodwork are sparkling, clear and bright. With ½ the soap.

My hands are presentable for any occasion . . . no longer abused!"

GAIN IN FAVOR

Instrumental Music Courses Growing, Report Shows.

A rapidly growing interest in instrumental music courses in Mansfield schools is shown in a report submitted to Supt. W. L. Miller by Sigurd Jorgensen, music director, listing 235 pupils enrolled now as compared with 135 last February.

The total includes 26 pupils who are receiving instruction in piano, a course which has been added during the past year.

The violin is the most popular instrument with students, the report shows, with 96 enrolled in that division as compared with 53 in February. Second in popularity is the clarinet with 31 enrolled.

Maps Strategy to Keep Mrs. Hahn From Electric Chair

ATTORNEY TO FILE REQUEST FOR NEW TRIAL

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Counsel for Anna Marie Hahn planned new legal strategy today to save the 31-year-old mother from the electric chair for the poison slaying of Jacob Wagner, 78.

Mrs. Hahn was convicted of murder Saturday, ending a month-long trial in which the state introduced evidence to show three other elderly acquaintances of the German alien died of a similar metallic poison.

The defense has three days in which to ask for a new trial. Judge Charles S. Bell called a session of court this morning. Although Attorney Joseph H. Hoodin was non-committal on the basis for his request, he was expected to form it on the grounds that the collateral evidence was not admissable.

Plans New Appeal.

Hoodin said he would file an appeal should the motion be rejected.

Mrs. Hahn, under constant guard of matrons in her cell, was reported more composed today following a nervous collapse when she heard the jury's death verdict.

Matrons said that she spoke few words, except to comment at one time that "they set out to get me and now they got me."

Should Judge Bell overrule a motion for a new trial, he was expected to set set the date of Mrs. Hahn's execution within two weeks.

Meanwhile an eminent woman penologist, genial Marguerite Reilley, declared today that women murderers should take the penalty like men—death in the electric chair.

"I believe that if it is on the statute books it should be recognized."

'They Should Take It.'

Commenting on the conviction in Cincinnati of Mrs. Hahn, Mrs. Reilley said:

"I'm a firm believer in men and women being treated alike before the court. Women should not hide behind their petticoats.

"They should take it—and take it like the men take it. As soon as they strictly enforce the laws and the death penalty there will be fewer women going out and killing and robbing people."

Among the 300 women criminals under Mrs. Reilley's care is the first woman ever sentenced in Ohio to be electrocuted for murder — 30-year-old Julia Maude Lowther.

Mother of Georgia Governor Facing Assault Charges

NASHVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—Mrs. R. C. Kelly, 66, mother of Governor E. D. Rivers of Georgia, today faced a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Prosecuting Attorney Byron Goodson charged Mrs. Kelly shot J. R. Page, alderman and former railroad section foreman, in the abdomen last Wednesday at nearby Mineral Springs. He is in a serious condition.

In Atlanta, Governor Rivers announced his younger brother, J. S. Rivers, had gone to Mineral Springs "to render any assistance needed." Mrs. Kelly and Page refused to discuss the case.

Deputy Sheriff J. G. Reese said Mrs. Kelly told him of a "disagreement" with Page, and admitted firing a pistol through her front door when Page came on the porch. She lives alone.

Suspended Sheriff's Murder Trial Opens

PICK JURORS TO WEIGH KILLING OF G. O. P. CHIEF

POMEROY — (U.P.) — Roscoe O. Fowler, suspended Meigs county sheriff, went on trial today charged with the second degree murder of Lafe Williamson, 42-year-old farmer and Republican leader.

With Judge Frank M. Acton of Fairfield county presiding, the first of 75 persons on the special venire will be questioned as prospective juror.

June 27 — Lafe Williamson found lying in Pomeroy's main street with a fractured skull, a few minutes after he had left a gay party at the Eagles lodge.

July 17 — Williamson died at Holzer hospital, Gallipolis, after three weeks of half-consciousness in which he was alleged to have said: "Some of my friends at the Eagles' club got me."

Sheriff Testifies.

July 20 — Wester Manning, youthful Republican prosecutor of Meigs county, began a "personal" inquiry, calling Sheriff Fowler as the first of 30 witnesses.

July 21 to Aug. 4—Judge C. E. Peoples, 80-year-old Democratic common pleas court jurist, took the initiative in asking county commissioners for $1,000 to "push the investigation;" the Eagles offered $200 for the identity of the assailant. A private detective was called in, and Williamson's body exhumed. The medical report hinted that a blackjack could have caused the skull fracture.

Aug. 4 to Sept. 10—The investigation lagged, until Judge Peoples again demanded action; obtained another $1,000 from the commissioners and hired Crary Davis, Columbus attorney and wartime buddy of the slain man, as special prosecutor.

Sept. 10—Davis called Dana Roush, one-time chief of police and Eagles lodge bartender on the night of the killing, into court as a material witness.

Sept. 13—A special grand jury met to consider the case.

Sept. 27—The grand jury returned an indictment of second-degree murder and assault with a deadly weapon, "namely a blackjack," against Sheriff Fowler. Simultaneously, the jury placed indictments against the Eagles lodge and its local trustees for selling liquor after 2:30 a. m., on Sundays, and gambling and slot machines.

Oct. 5—Sheriff Fowler was suspended from office on order of Judge Peoples after petitions demanding his ouster were filed with the court.

Up and Down THE STREET

Out-of-state automobile licenses aren't rare occurrences in Mansfield, but the plates on a car that was parked near the Mansfield-Leland hotel Saturday night had a lot of passers-by curious. The plates bore the inscription "Hawaii 86-386," but no one seemed to know whether it was someone from Hawaii touring the United States, or someone from here was going there to live. The hotel couldn't help, because it had no one from Hawaii registered.

WINCHELLISM—What Mansfield wife (a long-suffering woman) has decided that she's going to put her foot down on hubby attending Ohio State football games in the future, unless someone can guarantee her an Ohio State victory? It seems that hubby is an ardent Buckeye rooter, but when the team loses, he's just too difficult to live with. And, if you remember Ohio State lost Saturday. He growled, she claims, all the way home, and was still growling at a late hour Sunday. He did the same thing after listening to the radio account of the Southern California game. Now she's trying to find some other team for him to pin his affections on—one that will win every Saturday—which would seem to be a very, very large order, judging from the way spotless records are being besmirched this year.

Mansfielders attending the annual police ball tonight at the Coliseum will get an opportunity to break into the movies. Motion pictures which will be taken of the grand march, the highlight of the ball, will be shown later in one of the theaters.

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH AT FARM

Raemelton Employe, 27, Ends Life With Two Shots From .22 Caliber Rifle.

A verdict of suicide was returned by Coroner Hugh C. Winbigler yesterday in the death of Harold E. Sheets, 27, an employe at the Raemelton farms whose body was found with a bullet in the stomach and another in the forehead, Sunday morning.

Employed at the farms for the past six years, Sheets had gone to one of the barns with a 22 caliber rifle to shoot rats, the coroner was told. When his fellow workers heard the rifle shots 15 minutes later, they investigated and found the body where it had toppled from a wheelbarrow in which Sheets is believed to have seated himself after firing the shots.

Coroner Winbigler said Sheets had apparently fired the bullet into his stomach first and then reloaded the rifle and shot himself in the head. Relatives could give no cause for the act.

The body was removed to the residence at 29 Douglas avenue. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the First Methodist church at Prospect, O., with Rev. E. R Rector officiating.

Mr. Sheets is survived by his wife, Martha; one son, William; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sheets, of Delaware county; three sisters and one brother, all of Delaware county.

VETERAN RAILROADER DIES

NEWARK — (AP) — Seth W. Haight, 78, retired Baltimore and Ohio train dispatcher who had passed 51 years in railroading, died yesterday.

A. F. OF L., CIO CONFEREES HEAR GROWING DEMANDS FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)—Continued rank-and-file demands for peace impelled negotiating committees of the American Federation of Labor and th Committee for Industrial Organization to speed attempts to settle the two-year-old labor war today.

As the joint meetings reconvened for the third series of conferences, it was evident that popular demand for peace was increasing. The number of telegrams received by each group exceeded 200 over the week-end.

Today's confrence, scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. was the sixth meeting of delegates from the two factions. Discussion of a schedule of "spotted" industries, alloting organizing territory exclusively to each group to facilitate an armistice, will be continued.

The committee will consider today a tentative plan for the division of organizational territory.

Once this idea is worked out and approved by the two delegations, the proposal of a truce, barring raids on each other's territories pending a final treaty, will be presented to the joint conference by Philip Murray, chairman of the CIO committee.

If the outlines of the plan now under consideration can be approved:

1. The CIO would have sole unionization jurisdiction in coal, steel, automobiles, rubber, textiles, women's clothing, newspapers, maritime and furrier industries.

2. The A. F. of L. would have full sway in the building trades, engraving and numerous specialized types of work such as that of the railway clerks or of skilled machinists.

3. A compromise would be worked out in such fields as the men's clothing industry, the transport industry, and the electrical industry.

MINISTER DIES

Rev. McClelland Succumbs at Fredericktown at 88.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

Two 1940 Possibilities.

IN THE WEEK which has elapsed since the New York election, the views taken of the result by the so-called political analysts have exceeded in variety anything heretofore known. No one can recall an election from which so many conflicting deductions have been made and such extraordinary lessons drawn.

* * *

EVEN a partial compilation would baffle the ordinary mind. For example, one set of interpreters, ignoring the fact that Mr. Farley, Mr. Roosevelt's political agent and adviser, bound to him by hoops of steel, openly opposed the LaGuardia-Dewey ticket, contend that it was a New Deal victory and Mr. Roosevelt wanted LaGuardia all the time. It is a new thought. While the president undoubtedly contributed to this view by the extraordinary speed with which he clasped the Little Flower to his bosom as soon as he had seen the returns, he was entirely successful in concealing his preference before the votes were cast. And there are a good many whom it is not possible to convince that Mr. Farley, his idolatrous and heavily obligated friend, would take any position distasteful to "The Bbss." To argue otherwise is to insult the intelligence.

* * *

EQUALLY convincing refutation can be made that the result was a defeat for the New Deal, a Republican victory because of their incidental gains, or a CIO triumph, because of the 400,000 votes polled by the American Labor party, which is the Hillman-Dubinsky machine and extremely well disciplined. The simple truth is that all the forces favoring good government and against crime and corruption, including a solidly united press, were militantly behind LaGuardia and Dewey. Determined to smash Tammany, they swept aside all the other issues raised and registered a resounding verdict for efficiency and decency in municipal affairs.

* * *

IT WAS inevitable that national significance be read into the result because of the increased stature so notable a triumph has given the two principal victors. The chief reason for this is because they both wear the Republican label; and the Republican party's most conspicuous lack is available candidatorial material. Almost overnight two figures, young, vigorous and attractive, emerge. Immediately speculation concerning LaGuardia as a 1940 presidential candidate started. William Allen White, of Kansas, friend of Governor Landon and former Bull Mooser, launched an enthusiastic boom in which he insists the LaGuardia nomination is inevitable.

* * *

HOWEVER, here are those who believe, so far as the Republicans are concerned, that Mr. Dewey, though chosen for the lesser office, is the more available of the two. One reason is that he is a real Republican, whereas Mr. LaGuardia is anything but. As a matter of fact, Mr. LaGuardia in national affairs is far more New Deal than Mr. Roosevelt. Formerly an avowed Socialist, he was for the things Mr. Roosevelt has been doing before the president had any interest in them and he voted for Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 as in 1936, all of which, despite Mr. White's enthusiasm and his record as mayor, makes it a little difficult to conceive of him as the standard bearer of the anti-New Dealers, either Republican or Democratic, in 1940.

* * *

CONCEDING that the Democratic party in that year will be still New Deal-dominated, the nomination of LaGuardia by the Republicans would leave the great bulk of the conservatives in the country out in the cold, which, considering that normally they are an undoubted majority, is more than a little ridiculous. The natural division between the parties would disappear, and so far as direction is concerned, the people would be deprived of a choice. It is this possibility that causes the more astute political crystal gazers to consider Dewey's victory more important nationally than LaGuardia's. Young, non-political in his public work, incorruptible, fearless and able, Mr. Dewey's friends say he is progressive, but not radical; in sympathy, of course, with New Deal's "objectives," wholly opposed to New Deal methods, neither a supporter nor an admirer of Mr. Roosevelt, which would seem to make him a more logical candidate for an opposition party. It is impossible to tell what effect eighteen months will have upon the public position of these two men. They may go up and they may go down. There are a lot of things, good and bad, that can happen to them. Nevertheless, the fact remains that their success at the polls has made them presidential possibilities.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Shirley Temple is supposed to be the kiddies' delight, and yet my operative in the foyer of a Glendale theater, the other preview night, will stake her spy glasses on the truth of this conversation between two autograph-hunting moppets:

First: "Gee, but I hope I can get Shirley Temple tonight."

Second: "Aw, you can have Shirley. What I want is Seemoan Seemoan. . . ."

Simone is bursting into song in "Love and Hisses." I believed it after hearing her recording of the Bell Song from "Lakme," which was better than you'd expect. Now there's nothing to stop Lily Pons from taking up pouting. . . .

My operative in the vicinity of the Bel-Air Country club, where Katharine Hepburn's "Bringing Up Baby" company has been on location, reports another triumph of movie expediency. . . . Seems Katie had to sink a 12-foot putt, but the pill wouldn't behave. . . . They tried and tried, but no go. . . . They dug a trench for the ball, but it still wouldn't sink. . . . And they solved it, in the end, by changing the script. . . . Made it a six-foot putt. . . .

* * *

Living caricature of Edward Arnold: Herman Bing. . . .

Ditto of Martha Raye: Martha Raye. . . .

Cliff Edward is a practical joker as well as a ukulele master. . . . "This would be good," he said on the set the other day, fondling a photographer's huge flash bulb, "to play on a friend. Put these things in all the light sockets in his apartment, and then when he comes home and turns on the light. . . !" (It goes to show you have to be careful making friends among the movie stars. . . .)

Michael Whalen, starting his third year with a movie contract, is still on the eligible-bachelor list. . . . "There's just something about me," he says, "that makes girls want to get married right away— to somebody else. It never fails. There was June Lang. She married Vic Orsatti. I went around with Alice Faye and we had a lot of fun—until I made the mistake of introducing Tony Martin to her. Then I went places with Katherine DeMille, one of the finest girls in the world. She's married, too, to Anthony Quinn."

* * *

But June Lang's free again, Mike. How about that?

"She probably will be married again, soon," he predicts cheerfully. "I've been dating her again recently and I'll have her married off in no time. That's me—a one-man matrimonial agency. I guess when you add it all up, the thing I do wrong is to introduce the right men."

With the "trades"" full of reports of dissension among the U's higher-ups (all reports denied) the best suggestion I've heard is that they turn the studio over to Deanna Durbin—along with that raise she's asking.

COFFEY NAMED

DONKEY ON PAYROLL

SOFIA—(U.P.)—In the books of the postoffice of the little Bulgarian town of Malko Tirnove, the wages of a certain Marco were entered for several years. Marco (according to the records) transported material for repairing telegraph lines. He is the bookkeeper's donkey.

MISS SNYDER BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. MOORE

BEFORE a candlelit altar banked with palms, ferns, yellow chrysanthemums, and white pompons, Miss Eileen Snyder, daughter of Mrs. Gay Snyder, 526 South Main street, became the bride of Dr. Masters Hankins Moore, son of Mrs. M. H. Moore, Sherman, Tex., at the South Main Street Evangelical church at 4:30 p. m. Saturday. Rev. C. L. Kern, pastor of the church, read the single ring ceremony.

A program of organ music was played by Mrs. L. C. Hughes, including "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "One Alone," and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Miss Mary Jane Bellore sang "Serenade" by Schubert, followed by "Through the Years" by Vincent Yarmen. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, W. H. Stull, North Canton, entered the church to the strains of the traditional Lohengrin wedding march.

The bride's gown was of white satin with a full length train. She wore a finger tip length veil held in place ith a bandeau of orange blossoms and falling away from the shoulders in a double thickness of the material. A simple gold chain and cross hung at her throat and she carried an arm bouquet of white American Pride roses and pink bovardia tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Henrietta Boyd, Cincinnati, bridesmaid, wore a floor length gown of king's blue velvet with dubonnet hat and shoes. Her bouquet was Talisman roses and pompons. Attendant to the bridegroom was Miss Snyder's brother, Lowell J Snyder. Ushers were Russell Armstrong and William Stull, jr.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for 50 guests. Centering the buffet table was a large wedding cake topped by a miniature bridal couple. White tapers lighted the table and flat floral sprays were used to decorate. Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on a wedding trip to the Rio Grande valley. For traveling Mrs. Moore wore black velvet trimmed with gold and she carried a corsage of Talisman roses. After Nov. 25 they will be at home at 919 South Travis street, Sherman, Tex.

Mrs. Moore is a graduate of Mansfield High school and the School of Nursing and Health, University of Cincinnati. For the past two years she has been practicing at the General Hospital of Cincinnati. Dr. Moore is a graduate of Tulane University Medical college, Mississippi State college. He has spent three years in the Cincinnati General hospital and Children's Hospital as resident physician in pediatrics. He is a member of several honorary medical groups and at present is a physician in the Woodward Clinic, Sherman, Tex.

COTERIA CLUB MEETS.

The Coteria club was entertained at the home of Mrs. F. C. Warren, Park avenue west road, Friday. Roll call was answered with favorite movie actors by the 10 members present, and Mrs. F. C. Bair gave the biography of Bobby Breen. The next meeting will be Nov. 19 with Mrs. Harman Baer.

R. of R. Club Hears Talk on Diseases

Mrs. Robert Baker, Sherman avenue, was hostess to members of the Review of Reviews club when they met Friday. The 11 members present answered roll call by naming their favorite magazine. Mrs. Warren Fort read a paper on "What's New in Disease Control?" Her talk dwelt particularly on the communicable diseases.

Following the resignation of Mrs. Harold Painter, who is going to Tennessee, Mrs. F. H. McDowell was appointed to finish the term of office. Mrs. Paul Eliot was a guest of the club.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 26 in the Chinese Room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel with Miss Leota Hunter and Miss Isabel Robinson hostesses.

* * *

JOURNEY CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Carl Weller, Overlook road, was hostess to members of the Journey club when they met recently to hear a paper on "English Parliament" delivered by Mrs. Wilford Spreng. Mrs. Wade Burleson was welcomed as a new member. Following the talk there were current events and a social hour. Mrs. George Holland, Euclid avenue, will be hostess at the next meeting, Nov. 17.

Group of Friends Honor Miss Shay At Bridal Shower

For the second time in the past few days Miss Marjorie Shay has been guest of honor at a linen shower. Hostesses for the shower, which was given at the Shay home, 701 Bowman street, Friday night, were Miss Doris Kibler, Miss Kathryn Sheets, Miss Esther McBride, and Miss Mary Backensto.

Miss Mercille Taylor, Miss Kibler, Miss Carolyn Booker and Miss Helen Cairns won prizes at cootie and bridge which they later presented to the honoree. In addition to the gifts of linen given to Miss Shay, all the guests hemmed tea towels for her.

A color scheme of rose and green was carried out at the two tables where refreshments were served. A typical wedding cake with small bride and groom was the only decoration. Miss Jane Weirthrick will be hostess for another shower in honor of Miss Shay tomorrow evening.

Miss Shay will become the bride of Mr. Paul Woodhull at the First Lutheran church Nov. 14.

Honor Stewarts at Dinner Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart (Treva Boggs) were entertained Saturday evening with a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. Stewart's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hunt, Indiana avenue, Lincoln Heights. Relatives of the couple were seated at a long table decorated with pink chrysanthemums and white candles. Pink and white favors and a large wedding cake completed the decorations.

Gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart by the host and hostess and the guests following the dinner. They are now at home at 333½ Glessner avenue.

Veil Draped From Turban Takes Bow

Fabric hats like this one are very good for immediate wear. One of a gray novelty woolen has a corded silhouette, and ties under the chin with brown grosgrain straps.

Metallic brocade draped high and irregularly is often used for the formal dinner hat, and a high turban built on the lines of the familiar shako, is trimmed with a wreath of felt flowers and a veil falling well around—a veil, by the by, that is decorated only with a border of dots.

Miss Stormeon, Mr. Tannous Married Saturday Afternoon

AT AN INFORMAL single ring ceremony solemnized Saturday afternoon, Miss Sally Stormeon, daughter of Sam Stormeon, Minneapolis, became the bride of Donald Tannous, Minneapolis. Miss Stormeon has been living with her aunt, Mrs. Cloyd G. Heinberger, 23 Daisy avenue, for the past year. Mr. Tannous has been a resident of Dayton for some time.

The couple drove from Mansfield to Dayton and from there went to Kentucky where the ceremony was performed. They were attended by two friends, Joe Johns, Minneapolis, and Miss Helen Johns, formerly of Minneapolis, and now of Mansfield.

For the ceremony the bride wore a simply cut brown street dress with a brown matching coat and harmonizing accessories. She carried a small corsage. The couple will take up residence in Dayton after returning from a short wedding trip.

Dorothy Gilbert Becomes Bride Of Ivan Gongwer at Nevada

MISS DOROTHY GILBERT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Gilbert, Mifflin, became the bride of Mr. Ivan Gongwer, son of E. P. Gongwer, Flagler Beach, Fla., Saturday afternoon at Nevada, O. Mrs. Gongwer has been living in Mansfield with her aunt, Mrs. Alta Davies, 96 West Second street.

For the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. K. R. Roberts, Mrs. Gongwer wore a gray tweed suit trimmed with persian lamb and a corsage of yellow rose buds. She was attended by Mrs. Earl Lerick, aunt of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gongwer were host and hostess at a wedding dinner for the couple following the ceremony. The couple will reside in Mansfield for the present where Mr. Gongwer is an inspector for the Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

Activities of Social Clubs

A NEW social club was organized recently, it was announced, when a group of 20 old friends assembled at the Susie Janis home, Park avenue west road, for a 7 o'clock dinner. Mrs. Virgil Kirkpatrick, a missionary from Africa, was guest speaker. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who has just returned from that continent with her son and husband, spoke on the ways and means of living in Africa.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Clarence Huber, and Mrs. R. L. Baker. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was presented with a personal gift. Out-of-town guests at the dinner were Mrs. Grover Gilkison, Elyria, Mrs. T. E. Taylor, Cleveland, and Mrs. Irvin Close, Shelby. Hostesses for the first meeting were Miss Maud Swearengen and Mrs. D. C. Boone.

The organization has not as yet selected a name or a regular meeting date. It is the plan to have irregular meetings throughout the year, according to Mrs. Boone.

* * *

Members of the Jolly Euchre club met with Mrs. Fred Schnitzer, Blanch street, Friday evening. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lee Bartlett, Mrs. Kenneth Daugherty, and Mrs. Louis Hamaker. The club will next meet Nov. 17 with Mrs. Floyd Canny, 69 North Weldon avenue.

* * *

Members of the Fire Side club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mabee, Rowland avenue Saturday evening for three tables of pinochle. High score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Paul Copeland and Mr. Dale Bonebrake. Mr. and Mrs. Bonebrake will be host and hostess for the next meeting, Nov. 20.

* * *

Mrs. Weldon Close was hostess to the Priscillain club when it met at the Women's Club Friday for luncheon. Mrs. Fred Nixon was a guest. The afternoon was spent socially. Mrs. J. W. Galbraith will be hostess for the Nov. 19 meeting.

D. A. R. CHAPTER HEARS TWO TALKS, PLANS TEA

"Crime Prevention," Buckeye Boys' Camp Subjects at Regular Meeting of Jared Mansfield Group—Prepare for Guest Day.

E. C. FULLER of the identification bureau of the city police department spoke on "Crime Prevention" at the meeting Friday of the Jared Mansfield chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Women's Club. John Gano, a senior in the Senior high school, who was sent by the chapter last June to the Buckeye Boys' State camp in Columbus, described the camp to the chapter.

This camp is sponsored by the American Legion, is organized on a basis to teach government to boys of the state. The camp itself has become a model for county, city and state government. Principles of self-government as well as the government of political units were taught the 600 boys in attendance.

Mrs. Elmer Post and Mrs. James Bailey were hostesses and the meeting was opened with the usual D. A. R. ritual led by Mrs. Sidney Palmer, chaplain, and followed by the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. H. L. Ackerman, regent, was in charge of the business. Reports were given by committee chairmen and Miss Jane Shires announced that an application for a student loan had been received. This was granted while at the same time the members voted to donate a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family. Manuals of citizenship prepared by the D. A. R. were presented to the last new citizenship class, Mrs. James Lucas reported.

Treat CHILDRENS COLDS this Proved way

WHEN your child comes down with a cold, you can't afford to take needless risks. Use the treatment that has been doubly proved for you—Vicks VapoRub.

It has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details in every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

Vicks VapoRub is direct external treatment. There's no "dosing"—no risk of spoiling appetite or disturbing a delicate digestion . . . and thus lowering resistance just when it is most needed. VapoRub can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

You simply massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Then—to make its long-continued double action last even longer—spread a thick layer on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.

No Long Waiting for Relief to Begin . . .

Almost before you finish rubbing, the youngster begins to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break up local congestion. And long after the little one relaxes into restful sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working—hour after hour. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Other Youth Kisses Boy's Sweetheart

By VIRGINIA LEE

BAFFLED says, "My problem may seem simple to you, but appears to be insurmountable to me." No, Baffled, no problems are simple. There always is "more to them than meets the eye."

Baffled is engaged, and has given his sweetheart a diamond ring. They are very young. He is 20, she 19. Financial circumstances make it impossible for them to set any date for the wedding, so the engagement is "sort of secret."

Now other boys seek dates with Baffled's girl, and she refuses them, but does not tell the boys she is engaged. Baffled wonders about that. He is planning to leave home soon to study to be an airplane pilot in the army.

Recently she went to a dance without him and met a boy who likes her and he asked her to go out with him, but she refused. Then the sweethearts had a misunderstanding over "nothing at all," and Baffled sent his girl an empty envelope. That night the second boy called at her house and she went out with him, confessing to her fiance later that she allowed him to kiss her.

"Now, Miss Lee, do you think she had a right to do this, and was I making a mistake when I gave the ring back to her? I believe she loves me. I don't believe she would have taken the ring back if she didn't. And—furthermore, "does not an engagement restrict the boy and girl to each other completely? In other words, are they supposed to have the right to make dates with others?"

An engagement restricts those bethothed to each other's society unless, because they live in different cities there is an understanding that each may date others, letting the engagement be known.

But, dear boy, the girl is in a somewhat ambiguous position, don't you see? She is engaged and wearing the ring, and yet the engagement is "sort of secret" because there is no telling how many years before there is a prospect of it ending in marriage.

I think, under the circumstances, it would really have been better if you had not given her the ring. Your future looks so very vague with all those years of training ahead of you. You both may change before you are ready for matrimony.

Of course, your sweetheart had no business letting the other boy kiss her, but it was excusable under the circumstances. You had quarreled, you remember, and had sent her an empty envelope with the implication that she send the ring back in it. Now, smarting under the quarrel and your action, it was most natural that she accept the first date asked for, and probably angry, too, she was reckless and doubtless thought, "Oh, what does it matter who kisses me as long as the boy friend is so mean!"

Household Hints

Menu Hint.

LUNCHEON MENU

Fruit Juice Cocktail

Curried Rise or Rice Omelet

Baked Apples Bran Muffins

Milk Tea

Rice is a food that we often neglect. Especially where there are children in the family it is very useful to make simple and healthful desserts and various other dishes. A dish of rice, cooked either in water or milk, and served with sugar and cream or rich milk, is a very satisfactory breakfast cereal and a nice change. These recipes are by Mabel C. Steinbarger, of the department of agriculture.

Today's Recipes.

Curried Rice—One cup uncooked rice, two tablespoons fat, one tablespoon chopped onion, three cups boiling water or meat stock, one to two tablespoons curry powder, two teaspoons salt. Wash the rice and drain. Heat the fat in a frying pan, add the rice and onion, and stir until the rice is golden brown. Add the boiling water or meat stock and seasonings. Cover and cook slowly for about 30 minutes or until the rice is tender.

Rice Omelet — Four eggs, three-fourths cup milk, two tablespoons flour, three tablespoons butter or other fat, one-half teaspoon salt, two cups boiled rice. Separate the eggs and beat the yolks thoroughly. Make a sauce with the milk, flour, two tablespons of the fat, and the salt. Add the rice to the hot sauce and stir in the egg yolks, and fold this mixture into the well-beaten whites of the eggs. Heat the other tablespoon of fat in a frying pan and pour in the mixture. Move the pan so that the omelet will cook slowly and evenly.

BANANA SCALLOPS—Melted fat or oil, one egg, one and one-half teaspoons salt, six firm bananas, three-fourths cup fine corn flake crumbs, bread or cracker crumbs, or corn meal. For shallow frying have one inch of fat or oil in frying pan. For deep fat frying have deep kettle one-half to two-thirds full of melted fat or oil. Heat fat to 375 defrees F. (or until a one-inch cube of bread will brown in forty seconds). Beat egg and add salt. Slice peeled bananas cross-wise into one-inch thick pieces. Dip into egg and roll in crumbs or corn meal. Shallow fry or deep fat fry in the hot fat one and one-half to two minutes or until brown and tender. Drain on unglazed paper. Serve very hot. Serves six.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

DICKY AND I rose precipitately when my father said that he must set certain machinery in motion by a long distance phone call.

"We'd better run along," Dicky said, but my father flung out a protesting hand.

"Sit down!" he said imperatively. "This is a code call, which I will explain to you later. There is no possible reason why you should not listen to it."

He lifted the telephone receiver as he spoke, and an instant later gave a long distance number. While he waited, with the receiver and mouthpiece in his left hand, his right pressed a spring in his desk, and a piece of the paneling flew open, disclosing a secret pigeonhole. From it he took a small book, and leafed it over rapidly. By the time he was connected with his number, he had found the page he sought, and scanned it carefully.

"Spencer speaking," my father said crisply. "Harris? Glad to get you at once. Urgent! E. 543. Get ready for message. I'll stay on here until you're ready, Margaret!"

His voice was a summons, and I crossed to his chair quickly.

"Take this dictation please," he said. "Then I can read it over the phone quickly."

With his eyes on the code, he dictated what upon the surface appeared to be a night letter ordering supplies for the farm and house. He finished just as the voice of Harris sounded in the receiver. With a nod of thanks to me, he picked up the message I had written, and read it clearly and distinctly to the man at the other end of the wire.

He hung up the receiver, and turned to me with a deprecating smile.

"I'd like to start at daybreak tomorrow, Darling," he said. "I wouldn't tell you, except that you probably would worry if you wakened and found me gone. But don't bother about breakfast. I can get something on the road."

Madge Protests.

"You'll not do that," I said fiercely, hiding tears behind the show of indignation. "If you can go at that hour, I surely can speed you on your way. Do you want me to help you pack?"

"No, thank you. I shall travel lightly, for I expect to return shortly. But I must satisfy myself that those emeraids are not on board that boat."

"Then if you don't need us any longer," I said, rising again, "I think we ought to leave you now, and let you get what sleep you can."

"I can do with very little, as you know," he said truthfully, "but if you're going to see me off in the morning—and I see that determination in your eyes—you must get to bed at once. I leave her in your charge, Richard. I'm sorry not to see Mary and Noel. Give them my love."

"But," I protested, "you'll be able to see Mary. Noel will be going back in a day or two, but Mary will be here for a week before we go into town."

"Yes, that is so," he said in apparent acquiescence, but something in his inflection made me suddenly aware that he might not be back in a week, but that he did not wish me to know it.

I knew that it was worse than useless to protest. So without further comment, I lifted my face for his good night kiss, and went out of the room with my husband.

"Where are you going?" he asked, as I went past my own door in the direction of the stairs.

"It's not too late to telephone Katie," I said. "I want her to start with Jim as early in the morning as possible."

INVENTOR FRIES

He Now Claims Heat From Light Can Run Train.

SEATTLE—(U.P.)—A railroad locomotive can be run from the heat produced by its headlight, E. H. Franson, Seattle inventor and apartment house janitor, said, as he stood before an unusual contrivance and fried an egg over a common electric light globe.

Franson, 58, has perfected an invention that utilizes heat from a light globe to warm a room or cook.

Franson says the globe radiates heat and breaks down the oxygen in the air, consumes it, and gives more heat. He said the same principle that enables him to fry an egg or heat his room could be applied to running a locomotive with heat from its headlight.

How to Make The Most of Lovely Eyes

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

"MY EYES are quite small, but I have lovely long lashes. I use mascara on them to darken and emphasize them but that seems to stress the smallness of my eyes. And what's more, the black seems to accumulate under my eyes, giving me a worn and dissipated appearance. Have you any suggestions to offer me?

"VIRGINIA."

If your eyes are small, you should not apply the mascara on your lower lashes. If you don't there is no chance that the mascara will flake off and settle on your under-eye skin. As a consequence, that worn and dissipated appearance will not result.

What's more, if you apply mascara to the lower part of your eyes it will show up the size of your eyes too definitely, and emphasize their smallness. My suggestion is, that you apply your eyeshadow and mascara to your upper lids and lashes. And on your lower lids, close to your lashes, draw a thin, fine line with an eye pencil and extend it about one-fourth of an inch beyond the outer corner of each eye. Then blend the line softly with the tip of your finger, so that it is unnoticeable and natural in appearance.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, November 9.

Judging by the lunar transits of this day, there are excellent prospects for increasing the possessions, solidifying the fortunes and reaching high goals while attaining some sort of conspicuous place in the public eye. This may all be achieved through the support of large corporations, diplomatic or political circles, secret societies or other strategic measures. Aim high, cultivating powerful personages. The private life should have pleasant reactions.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of splendid opportunities for doing productive work. Increased finances, position, prestige and public recognition are in store, with the co-operation of powerful, possibly secret organizations. Home affairs should flourish.

A child born on this day may be splendidly endowed for high places, with enterprise, shrewdness, boldness and personal prestige attracting the support of influential persons or bodies.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

TOSSING A BIG BOY

AS A GENERALITY, if you are able to make a discard from your own hand on a high card in the dummy, you pick out some worthless card to throw away. There are times, however, when it is better to toss away a big fellow, perhaps to unblock some suit, and enable the dummy later on to stay in the lead for still additional discards.

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable).

This deal came up in a team-of-four match and at each table the final contract was 6-Hearts. At each table the bidding started with South, who bid 2-Hearts, North called 3-No Trumps, South 4-Hearts, North 5-Hearts and South 6-Hearts.

The opening lead was the diamond Q. at both tables. At one table the trick was won with the diamond A and a club discarded from the South hand. The heart A was laid down and a heart finessed to the Q. West led another diamond, which South ruffed. After drawing the other outstanding heart, the three high spades were cashed but a club had to be given up in the end.

At the other table the contract was made. When the diamond Q was led, it was won in the North with the A and the spade discarded. A spade was led to the K and the spade A cashed. Then the heart K was laid down and a heart to the A. On the spades J and 10, South tossed his two losing clubs, so that only one trick was lost to the heart Q.

Tomorrow's Problem.

My Neighbor Says:

Re-warm boiled custard, white sauce and common pudding sauces by placing the dishes containing them into a vessel of cold water. Let stand over fire till water boils. Then stir that which is to be rewarmed and if there remain any lumps after a good beating with egg beater strain it and it will be smooth as when freshly made.

PHEASANT ENTERS HOUSE

NEWBURGH, N. Y.—(U.P.)— A pheasant was an unexpected guest of Miss Mary McEvoy at her home here. The bird flew through a front room window, and fluttered about in ground floor and second floor rooms before escaping through an open bath room window.
